Healing the Wounds of Gukurahundi in Zimbabwe Dumisani Ngwenya, 2017-12-14 This book is based on a participatory action research project carried out with a group of former Zimbabwe People's revolutionary Army ZPRA which was the armed wing of the Zimbabwe African People's Union ZAPU which was led by the late Joshua Nkomo ZPRA was the primary target of Gukurahundi a pogrom by the Mugabe government which left an estimated 20 000 civilians dead and countless others tortured in the early 1980s in Matebeleland Zimbabwe It has been almost 30 years since the violence ended but there has never been an official healing and reconciliation programme or truth commission into the atrocities The government chose the path of amnesia by granting a blanket amnesty to all involved The regime has enforced a culture of silence over the event through repression and intimidation The book is a culmination of a two year journey by the group and the author of an exploration of group based self healing approaches to the pain caused by the violence of Gukurahundi

Evaluating the Effectiveness of Postfire Rehabilitation Treatments Peter R. Robichaud, 2000 Spending on postfire emergency watershed rehabilitation has increased during the past decade A west wide evaluation of USDA Forest Service burned area emergency rehabilitation BAER treatment effectiveness was undertaken as a joint project by USDA Forest Service Research and National Forest System staffs This evaluation covers 470 fires and 321 BAER projects from 1973 through 1998 in USDA Forest Service Regions 1 through 6 A literature review interviews with key Regional and Forest BAER specialists analysis of burned area reports and review of Forest and District monitoring reports were used in the evaluation The study found that spending on rehabilitation has increased to over 48 million during the past decade because the perceived threat of debris flows and floods has increased where fires are closer to the wildland urban interface Existing literature on treatment effectiveness is limited thus making treatment comparisons difficult The amount of protection provided by any treatment is small Of the available treatments contour felled logs show promise as an effective hillslope treatment because they provide some immediate watershed protection especially during the first postfire year Seeding has a low probability of reducing the first season erosion because most of the benefits of the seeded grass occurs after the initial damaging runoff events To reduce road failures treatments such as properly spaced rolling dips water bars and culvert reliefs can move water past the road prism Channel treatments such as straw bale check dams should be used sparingly because onsite erosion control is more effective than offsite sediment storage in channels in reducing sedimentation from burned watersheds From this review we recommend increased treatment effectiveness monitoring at the hillslope and sub catchment scale streamlined postfire data collection needs increased training on evaluation postfire watershed conditions and development of an easily accessible knowledge base of BAER techniques Natural Disaster Risk Management

Ulrich Ranke, 2015-09-18 This textbook provides a thorough introduction to natural disaster risk management Many aspects of disaster risk management such as those involved in earthquakes volcanic eruptions floods avalanches and mudslides call for similar prevention and preparedness instruments management concepts and countermeasures This textbook assumes the viewpoint of a regional disaster risk manager who is responsible for a certain area and for making the lives of the people who live there safer regardless of the type of natural disaster that may occur The same holds true for boosting preparedness and awareness in the population at risk The book includes numerous examples of hazard mitigation concepts and techniques as well as ways of intensively involving the local population in prevention schemes at an early stage Furthermore it provides an in depth examination of the function of risk communication both as an instrument for disseminating official information and as a function of public media In closing a chapter on risk splitting offers insights into insurance based models for risk financing This comprehensive book is a must read for all students researchers and practitioners dealing with natural disaster risk management The Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry ,1917 Journal of the American Medical Association ,1913
