Nuclear Weapons In A Changing Europe:

Nuclear Weapons in a Changing Europe Vilho Harle, Pekka Sivonen, 1991 Nuclear Weapons in the Changing World Patrick J. Garrity, Steven A. Maaranen, 2012-12-06 Lawrence Freedman One of the major bonuses of the collapse of communism in Europe is that it may never again be necessary to enter into a sterile debate about whether it is better to be red or dead This appeared as the ultimate question in the great nuclear debate of the early 1980s When put so starkly the answer appeared obvious better to live and struggle in a totalitarian system than to destroy totalitarian and democratic systems alike There were a number of points to be made against this Communist regimes had demonstrated the possibility of being both red and dead while the West had managed successfully to avoid the choice If we allowed nuclear disarmament to become an overriding priority this might encourage excessive respect for Soviet interests and a desire to avoid any sort of provocation to Moscow a point not lost on those in Eastern Europe who were then struggling against repression and could not see why disarmament should be given a higher priority than freedom Now that the old communist states have liberated themselves and the West no longer risks conspiring in their enslavement there is a correspondingly reduced danger of mass death As a result and with so much else of immediate Lawrence Freedman Department of War Studies King's College University of London London WC2R 2LS England Nuclear Weapons in the Changing World Perspectives from Europe Asia and North America The Changing Military Balance in the Koreas and Northeast Asia Anthony H. Cordesman, Aaron Lin, 2015-07-07 The tensions between the Koreas and the potential involvement of China Japan Russia and the United States in a Korean conflict create a nearly open ended spectrum of possible conflicts These conflicts could range from posturing and threats to a major conventional conflict on the Korean peninsula with intervention by outside powers to the extreme of nuclear conflict The Korean balance is also affected by the uncertain mix of cooperation and competition between the United States and China particularly with the U S pivot toward Asia and the steady modernization of Chinese forces This new volume up to date through Spring 2015 provides a detailed examination of the military forces in Northeast Asia North and South Korea China Russia Japan and the United States setting those forces in the larger geostrategic context The Baltics in a Changing Europe Bhaswati Sarkar, 2024-12-02 This edited volume brings together a series of papers on various facets of the three Baltic countries Estonia Latvia and Lithuania which have not attracted much intellectual attention outside Europe especially in South Asia The countries regained independence in 1991 following the disintegration of the Soviet Union They sought to secure themselves by joining the EU NATO and the Eurozone They are robust democracies registering steady economic growth with improved living standards and are leading hubs in the field of Information Technology However for these small states bordering Russia the ongoing Russia Ukraine war brings existential fears This volume analyses how these states with substantial number of Russian minorities are recalibrating their policies in this changing geopolitical landscape of an assertive and aggressive Russia It provides an in depth understanding of the Baltic countries focusing on their security
