Divination David Zeitlyn, 2020-02-20 This book offers a major contribution to the study and analysis of divination based on continuing fieldwork with the Mambila in Cameroon It seeks to return attention to the details of divinatory practice using the questions asked and life histories to help understand the perspective of the clients rather than that of the diviners Drawing on a corpus of more than 600 cases David Zeitlyn reconsiders theories of divination and compares Mambila spider divination with similar systems in the area A detailed case study is examined and analysed using conversational analytic principles The regional comparison considers different kinds of explanation for different features of social organization leading to a discussion of the continuing utility of moderated functionalism The book will be of interest to area specialists and scholars concerned with religion rationality and decision making from disciplines including anthropology African studies and philosophy

Divination's Grasp Richard Werbner, 2015-11-15 A work of rare depth and profound insight that is destined to become a classic in African Studies and the anthropology of religion Paul Stoller author of Yaya's Story The Quest for Well Being in the World Richard Werbner takes readers on a journey through contemporary charismatic wisdom divination in southern Africa Beginning with the silent language of the divinatory lots Werbner deciphers the everyday metaphorical and poetic language that is used to reveal their meaning Through Werbner's skillful interpretations of the language of divination a picture of Tswapong moral imagination is revealed Concerns about dignity and personal illumination witchcraft pollution the anger of dead ancestors as well as the nature of life truth cosmic harmony being and becoming emerge in this charged African setting Werbner's Divination's Grasp documents a long and distinguished career in the service of anthropology It will be a touchstone for anthropological studies of divination for years to come American Ethnologist Richard Werbner's superb account of moral imagination and the poetics of divination grasps the density of its subject matching the insights of the diviner with those of the ethnographer The book takes its place among the very best works of Africanist anthropology as a new classic in the tradition of ethnographic divination and a necessary reminder of live and deep traditions of African wisdom Michael Lambek University of Toronto Scarborough

Witchcraft, Oracles, and Magic Among the Azande Edward Evan Evans-Pritchard, Eva Gillies, 1976 Witchcraft Oracles and Magic among the Azande first published in 1977 was based on anthropological researches carried out in the Southern Sudan during the late 1920s For a decade or so the book had little discernable impact but from the early 1950s to present day its influence has grown incalculably so that it is now difficult even to discuss beliefs about witchcraft or sorcery without reference to it This abridgement of E E Evans Pritchard's acknowledged masterpiece is intended to make it more accessible to students and the general reader

Epistemic Relativism and Scepticism Steven Bland, 2018-07-21 This book confronts the threats of epistemic relativism and Pyrrhonian scepticism to analytic philosophy Epistemic relativists reject absolute notions of knowledge and justification while sceptics claim that knowledge and justification of any kind are unattainable If either of these views is correct then there can be no objective basis for thinking that one set of methods does a better job of delivering accurate information than any other set of methods Philosophers have generally sought to resist these threats by responding to the argument that seems to motivate both positions the Agrippan trilemma Steven Bland argues that this is a mistaken strategy He surveys the most influential responses to the Agrippan trilemma and shows that none of them succeeds in undermining epistemic relativism Bland also offers a new dialectical strategy of challenging epistemic relativism by uncovering how epistemic methods depend on one another for their applications By means of this novel analysis the book concludes that there are principled reasons to prefer naturalistic to non naturalistic methods even if these reasons do little to ease the threat of scepticism

Personal Knowledge, Redefining Reason Bradley W. Patterson, 2018-11-16 Throughout the twentieth century Western thinkers engaged in a politically charged often highly personal and acrimonious debate over the mental and rational capacity of people from traditional nonliterate societies The issue was a question of whether or not humanity was at bottom psychologically and rationally unified and equal as a species Redefining Reason offers the first in depth critical history of that debate and its repercussions in modern Western thought and society Divided into three sections this book first sets the twentieth century primitive mentality debate within its historical context so that it may be better understood It then focuses on some of the highlights of the debate The next section suggests that this debate was in reality a chapter itself in or in an aspect of a much larger story the story of what may be appropriately referred to as the hyperrationalization of human society To conclude this book follows the debate into the twenty first century and offers the clarification and resolutions developed in earlier chapters to contemporary students scholars and educated lay readers
