Political Economy Of Regional Cooperation In The Middle East:

The Political Economy of Regional Cooperation in the Middle East Ali Carkoglu, Mine Eder, Kemal Kirisci, 2005-07-08 This book explores the current anatomy of regional cooperation and why it has often failed to take hold. It offers an alternative view of politics and international relations in the Middle East. The findings show that co-operation between many of the more open regimes such as Israel, Jordan, Egypt, Palestine and Turkey can pave the way to increased stability in the region. The authors argue that focusing on international and regional factors alone is insufficient in explaining the prevailing instability in the region. Instead, they highlight domestic factors as crucial to understanding conflict and co-operation in the Middle East. Using many examples and looking particularly at Turkey's experiences, this study shows why it is essential to mobilize domestic support for co-operation amongst countries and regions of the Middle East. Without such support from economic and social groups, inter-governmental co-operation is less likely to last.

Beyond Regionalism? Matteo

Legrenzi, 2016-04-15 Regional cooperation, regionalism and regionalization in the Middle East are usually considered to be weak and rather ceremonial. However, since September 11, 2001, a new regional order is emerging and the impact of geostrategic changes in the international environment has yet to be satisfactorily studied. With older regional organizations suffering from weaknesses, new forms appear to be developing and flourishing due either to European support or growing sub-regional identities. This volume offers refined theoretical models and approaches which are attuned to the new dynamics and contradictions of a wide range of regionalist projects in the contemporary Middle East. Case studies of the most important regional organizations in different policy fields offer comprehensive overviews of the main actors, institutions, historical development and current issues.

The Political Economy of Regional Cooperation in the Middle East Ali Carkoglu, Mine Eder, Kemal Kirisci, 2005-07-08 This book shows that co-operation between the more open regimes in the Middle East such as Israel, Jordan, Egypt, Palestine and Turkey could pave the way to increased stability in the region.

The Political Economy of Middle East Peace J.W. Wright Jr., 2013-06-17 The Political Economy of Middle East Peace looks at the political economy of the Middle Eastern peace process with a focus on the politics of trade. Contributors investigate the ways new commercial alliances develop as a result of economic agencies established via the Arab-Israeli peace process and look at institutions which contribute to redirection of Arab intra and inter-regional trade such as the Palestine Monetary Authority, the Middle East Development Bank and free trade zone agencies in Aquaba and Dubai.

Regional Integration in the Middle East and North Africa Tarik Oumazzane, 2021 This book analyses and assesses the Agadir Agreement's impact on economic integration, its effect on political cooperation and its role in promoting peace between participating countries in the Middle East and North Africa (MENA). Since the Arab Spring of 2011, the geo-political situation in MENA has further drifted towards instability and uncertainty. Expert analysis of the region seems to lurch from one crisis to another without moving beyond a focus on conflict. Few scholars have recognised that the MENA governments have long regarded regional economic integration as a chief policy objective to facilitate intra regional trade and promote political cooperation and peace Realising the shortcomings of the various integrative processes Morocco Tunisia Egypt and Jordan signed the Agadir Agreement in 2004 To this date it stands as one of the most significant economic agreements in the MENA region Taking into account this variety of factors this book offers a new assessment of the pull between unity and disunity in the Middle East and North Africa region Dr Tarik Oumazzane is Lecturer in Middle East North Africa Studies in the Department of History at the University of Nottingham United Kingdom He has taught and convened several modules including International History of the Middle East and North Africa War and Peace in the Post Arab Spring Political Economy of Under Development International Relations and Global History and Liberating Africa Decolonisation Development and the Cold War

A Political Economy of Arab Education Mohamed Alaa Abdel-Moneim, 2015-09-07 The failure of reform policies in areas of critical importance to Arab populations such as health and education played a central role in igniting the Arab Awakening yet this policy perspective has been largely absent from recent studies of the region Arab regimes most reliant on repression to guarantee their survival were also those most vulnerable to mass politics Where threats to regime survival have been limited so have more meaningful reforms been possible finding an alternative to political change through focusing on soft policy areas such as education A Political Economy of Arab Education offers a comprehensive analysis of K 12 education systems in Arab countries deepening understanding of their administrative structures and outcomes and exploring how political considerations have impacted the ability of Arab regimes to engage in meaningful reform Taking a unique comparative political economy perspective it examines the reasons behind policy stagnation in Arab countries addressing the effects of size history and political stability on the design and implementation of policies and administrative structures Its informed analysis and comparison of education systems provides new insight into Arab regimes and highlights factors pulling them towards either stagnation or reform Examining the sustainability of reforms and establishing the benefits of engaging in meaningful change this book sheds light on why some regimes survived the Arab Spring while others crumbled and formulates convincing predictions on the potential for future regime change in the region This book will be of key interest to students and scholars of Middle Eastern Studies International and Comparative Education and Development Studies

Examining globalization in the Middle East this book provides a much needed assessment of the impact of globalization in the greater Middle East including North Africa in the context of the powerful geopolitical forces at work in shaping the region today Written by a well known authority in this area this book demonstrates that unlike in other regions such as East Asia geopolitics has been a critical factor in driving globalization in the Middle East The author argues that whereas elsewhere globalisation has opened up the economy society culture and attitudes to the environment in the Middle East it has had the opposite effect with poor state formation little interregional trade foreign and interregional investment and reassertion of traditional identities This book explores the impact of globalization on the politics economies and social environment of the greater Middle East in the context of the region s position as the central site of global geopolitical competition at the start of the twenty first century International Handbook on the Economics of Integration: General issues and regional groups Miroslav N. Jovanović,2011-01-01

International Handbook of Economic Integration edited by Miroslav Jovanovi provides timely and rich academic contributions to considerations of the widest array of integration related issues European integration has been providing an inspiration to a number of academics and researchers The Handbook is a recognition of the dynamic and strong solidarity of the European integration At the same time the European Union often provided an example for integration schemes throughout the world which spread enormously since the mid 1990s Leading experts from all continents contributed to this Handbook which will be a valuable input into academic and policy making discussions and actions Jos Manuel Barroso President of the European Commission Miroslav Jovanovi s publication represents a rich contribution to the complex issue of regional integration its benefits its shortcomings and its relationship with multilateral trade opening It sheds light over an issue which is the subject of intense discussions in trade circles Pascal Lamy Director General of the WTO Much has been written on trade agreements as a mechanism to integrate the markets of two or more countries often inspired by the European example In recent years attention has increasingly focused on the importance of economic geography as a determinant of industrial location This book combines the two strands of analysis bringing together leading experts in the fields of economic geography and international trade The result is an outstanding compilation of papers that illuminate how policies and economic forces affect the location of economic activity in an integrated Europe Bernard Hoekman Director The World Bank US The open multilateral trading system is a tremendous success of the past half century and has contributed greatly to the world's unprecedented rate of economic growth. Over the past two decades however preferential trading arrangements have proliferated raising questions as to how compatible they are with the open multilateral system and what policies might be adopted to improve outcomes. The essays in this volume detail the emergence of PTAs and provide comprehensive and up to date analyses of the state of play of preferential arrangements in all regions of the world. The volume will provide a useful reference for all those wanting to understand existing preferential arrangements and their role in the international economy today.

Anne O Krueger, Johns Hopkins University and Stanford University.

US Economic integration is a complex and multifaceted giant with a myriad aspects ranging from regional and global concentration and dispersal of economic activity to social and political consequences for individuals and communities in developed and developing countries alike. This landmark three volume collection of chapters by leading authors drawn from many fields is a worthy and timely contribution to the analysis of a phenomenon with profound implications for the future world economy and its governance.

James Zhan, Director Investment Enterprise Division UNCTAD.

With this Handbook Miroslav Jovanovi has provided readers with both an excellent stand alone original reference book as well as the first volume in a comprehensive three volume set. This introduction into a rich and expanding academic and practical world of international economic integration also provides a theoretical and analytical framework to the reader presenting select analytical studies and encouraging further research.

International Handbook on the Economics of Integration Volume I covers two broad themes: general integration issues and regional integration groups. The first part discusses topics that range from an overview of the regional integration deals registered with the World Trade Organization to multilateralism and regionalism, hub and spoke integration networks, limits to integration, rules of origin and globalization. The second part of the Handbook

US Foreign Policy in the Middle East

Geoffrey F. Gresh, Tugrul Keskin, 2018-04-17

The dawn of the Cold War marked a new stage of complex US foreign policy involvement in the Middle East. More recently globalization and the region's ongoing conflicts and political violence have led to the US being more politically, economically and militarily enmeshed for better or worse throughout the region. This book examines the emergence and development of US foreign policy toward the Middle East from the early 1900s to the present. With contributions from some of the world's leading scholars it takes a fresh interdisciplinary and insightful look into the many antecedents that led to current US foreign policy. Exploring the historical challenges, regional alliances, rapid political change, economic interests, domestic politics and other sources of regional instability, this volume comprises critical analysis from Iranian, Turkish, Israeli, American and Arab perspectives to provide a comprehensive examination of the evolution and transformation of US foreign policy toward the Middle East. This volume is an important resource for scholars and students working in the fields of Political Science, Sociology, International Relations, Islamic, Turkish, Iranian, Arab and Israeli Studies.

Industrialization in the Gulf Jean-Francois Seznec, Mimi Kirk, 2010-09-13

In recent years we have witnessed huge economic and socio political change in the Gulf This book examines the rapid industrialization of the region and how local economies are starting to diversify away from petroleum exploring how this transformative process is starting to impact on the region s economy and social make up With contributions from some of the top scholars and practitioners in the area this book discusses crucial topics related to the region s transformation from issues of economic development and relations with Iran to foreign labour and women s education and work outside the home Chapters explore how in addition to the massive growth in investments and products such as oil gas chemicals metals and cement this growth has triggered numerous societal changes such as labour migration educational reforms declining natality and shifting gender roles Covering in detail a broad range of issues this book will appeal not only to Middle East experts particularly those with an interest in the Persian Gulf but also to development experts and political scientists

Whose Peace? Critical Perspectives on the Political Economy of Peacebuilding M. Pugh,N. Cooper,M. Turner,2016-01-04 The book provides critical perspectives that reach beyond the technical approaches of international financial institutions and proponents of the liberal peace formula It investigates political economies characterized by the legacies of disruption to production and exchange by population displacement poverty and by criminality

Environmentalism in Turkey Fikret Adaman,2016-12-05 Bringing together a mixture of theoretical discussion political analyses and illustrative case studies this volume provides the first comprehensive scholarly analysis of the tension between environmental protection and economic development in Turkey Through its dual focus on democratization and modernization this book also makes an important contribution to the literature on politics in contemporary Turkey It identifies and analyses the forces underwriting the growth of environmental social movements investigates the impacts these movements have on development and modernization and above all evaluates the role played by environmental movements in the democratization process of Turkey

International Handbook of Development Economics Amitava Krishna Dutt,Jaime Ros,2008-01-01 The essays are concise yet comprehensive and each essay contains a substantial set of references which an interested researcher or student could follow up In addition to representing multidisciplinary interactions this collection encompasses several different perspectives within development economics so the reader can learn for example both about neoclassical approaches and dependency theories in the same volume This makes the collection unique and all the more valuable This is a very good reference collection as the individual essays are informative and provide a good overall perspective on the topic that they set out to address The extensive bibliography at the end of each essay adds further value to this collection Ashwini Deshpande Economic and Political Weekly These new volumes impress along two dimensions First they highlight important connections between economic development and variables such as culture warfare and ethnicity which are sometimes ignored by mainstream economists Second they analyze the economic development experience of different regions such as Africa Latin America and East Asia a valuable reference for scholars and practitioners in the field Highly recommended H A Faruq Choice This two volume original reference work provides a comprehensive overview of development economics and comprises contributions by some of the leading scholars working in the field. Authors are drawn from around the world and write on a wide range of topics. After providing an introduction to the subject by examining issues like the meaning and measurement of development, historical and interdisciplinary approaches, empirical regularities and data problems, the contributors provide a wealth of perspectives on and analyses of development economics. They discuss alternative approaches to development, the macroeconomics of growth factors and sources of economic development such as capital, labor, entrepreneurship, resources and technology, major sectors of concern such as agriculture, industry, services and the informal sector, and international issues such as trade, capital and labor flows and technology transfers. Income distribution and poverty, the state and other institutions, and actual development experiences are explored. The contributors provide analytical contributions as well as the relation between these contributions and real world and policy issues from a variety of alternative perspectives. Scholars, students, policymakers and other development practitioners will all find this comprehensive reference invaluable.

2003, / (2003-2004) The Challenge of Eurocentrism R. Kanth, 2009-04-26 Eurocentrism is the current object of a global critique which has the potential to be as significant as Marxist and Feminist critiques have been. This critique focuses on and dissects the paradigms that have emanated from the European Enlightenment. European Yearbook of International Economic Law 2010 Christoph Herrmann, Jörg Philipp Terhechte, 2009-12-01 The first volume of the new Yearbook tries to catch the broadness of contemporary International Economic Law. In part I it brings together articles on a variety of subjects reaching from exchange rate manipulation and financial market supervision over international investment law including the growing investment protectionism to recent developments of the external economic constitution of the European Union and the relationship between climate change and International Economic Law. Part II covers the major regional economic integration developments around the globe analysed in different articles covering the different regions. Part III informs about recent activities in some of the major global economic institutions. Arab Industrial Integration (RLE Economy of Middle East) Elias T. Ghantus, 2020-09-10 The Arab countries are increasingly recognising their importance as a regional economic grouping. Given the highly skewed distribution of natural, human and financial resources, the course of economic development in the Arab countries seems to be interrelated. Through pooling their resources and markets, these countries will not only be able to optimise investment decisions but also broaden the potential for development. This book argues that economic integration is not merely a question of reducing or eliminating discriminatory measures as emphasised in previous integration attempts. It calls rather for a positive action based on a regional investment strategy which coordinates production programmes to reap the benefits of specialisation and scale. The book focuses on past industrialisation efforts in the Arab countries and examines the emerging patterns of industrial growth. A pioneering attempt is made to identify specific industries whose economic viability can be enhanced by conceiving them on a regional basis. The book concludes by framing a strategy for an integrated industrial development in the Arab region First published in 1982

The New Regionalism in Africa Fredrik Söderbaum, 2017-03-02 This edited volume transcends conventional state centric and formalistic notions of regionalism and theorizes conceptualizes and analyzes the complexities and contradictions of regionalization processes in contemporary Africa The collection not only unpacks and theorizes the African state society complex with regard to new regionalism but also explicitly integrates the often neglected discourse of human security and human development In so doing the book moves the discussion of new regionalism forward at the same time as it adds important insights to security and development It is organized into three parts Part I theorizes conceptualizes and analyzes the new regionalism in Africa from the point of view of the region e g West East Central and Southern Africa The national perspectives in Part II focus on the new regionalism in Africa from the point of view of particular countries or specific state society complexes such as Kenya the Democratic Republic of the Congo DRC the enclave of Cabinda Angola and Zambia Part III contains two concluding chapters that tie the main threads of the volume together theoretically and empirically and discuss the contribution of the analytical framework the new regionalism approach NRA to the larger study of regionalism
