Prison Without Walls:

Words without Walls Sheryl St. Germain, Sarah Shotland, 2015-03-10 Writing programs in prisons and rehabilitation centers have proven time and again to be transformative and empowering for people in need. Halfway houses, hospitals, and shelters are all fertile ground for healing through the imagination and can often mean the difference for inmates and patients between just simply surviving and truly thriving. It is in these settings that teachers and their students need reading that nourishes the soul and challenges the spirit. Words without Walls is a collection of more than seventy-five poems, essays, stories, and scripts by contemporary writers that provide models for successful writing, offering voices and styles that will inspire students in alternative spaces on their own creative exploration. Created by the founders of the award-winning program of the same name based at Chatham University, the anthology strives to challenge readers to reach beyond their own circumstances and begin to write from the heart. Each selection expresses immediacy, writing that captures the imagination and conveys intimacy on the page, revealing the power of words to cut to the quick and unfold the truth. Many of the pieces are brief, allowing for reading and discussion in the classroom and providing a wide range of content and genre, touching on themes common to communities in need: addiction and alcoholism, family love and sex, pain and hope, prison recovery and violence. Included is work by writers dealing with shared issues such as Dorothy Allison and Jesmyn Ward, who write about families for whom struggle is a way of life, or Natalie Kinneary and Toi Derricotte, whose pieces reveal violence against women. Also included are writings by those who have spent time in prison themselves, such as Jimmy Santiago Baca, Dwayne Betts, Ken Lamberton, and Etheridge Knight. Eric Boyd ennobles the day he was released from jail; Stephon Hayes reflects on what he sees from his prison window; Terra Lynn evokes the experience of being put in solitary confinement. Because in 2011 almost half of all prisoners in federal facilities were in for drug-related offenses, there are pieces by James Brown, Nick Flynn, and Ann Marlowe, who explore their own addiction and alcoholism, and by Natalie Diaz, Scott Russell Sanders, and Christine Stroud, who write of crippling drug abuse by family and friends. These powerful excerpts act as models for beginning writers and offer a vehicle to examine their own painful experiences. Words without Walls demonstrates the power of language to connect people, to reflect on the past and reimagine the future, to confront complicated truths and to gain solace from pain and regret. For students in alternative spaces, these writings, together with their own expressions, reveal the same intense desire to write and share. One's writing found in the Russian poet Irina Ratushinskaya, who scratched her poems on bars of soap in a Gulag shower, or the Turkish poet Nazim Hikmet, who smuggled bits of poetry out of jail in the clothing of visiting friends. Wole Soyinka, in solitary confinement forty years ago, wrote that creation is admission of great loneliness. In these communal spaces, our loneliness is lessened, our vulnerability exposed, and our honesty tested, and through these revelatory writings, students receive the necessary encouragement to share the whispering corners of their minds.

Life Imprisonment in Asia Dirk van Zyl Smit, Catherine Appleton, Giao Vucong, 2022-11-30 Life imprisonment is the punishment most often imposed worldwide for what societies regard as the most serious offences Yet in Asia the phenomenon has never been studied systematically Life Imprisonment in Asia fills this major gap It brings together thirteen new essays on life imprisonment in key jurisdictions in the region Each chapter consolidates what is known about the law and practice of life imprisonment in the jurisdiction and then explores aspects of the imposition or implementation of life sentences that the authors regard as particularly problematic In some instances the main issue is the imposition of life sentences by the courts and their relationship to the death penalty In others the focus is on the treatment of life sentenced prisoners In many instances the most prominent question is whether life sentenced prisoners should be released and if so according to what processes In the overview chapter the editors place the complex picture that emerges of life imprisonment in Asia in a global context and point to reforms urgently required to ensure that Asian life sentences meet international human rights standards Life Imprisonment in Asia should be read by everyone who has an interest in just punishments for serious offences not only in Asia but throughout the world It will be an invaluable tool for lawyers criminologists policy makers and penal reform advocates in the region and beyond

Trade Union Studies in the UK and Kenya Nigel Flanagan, 2024-07-02 Nigel Flanagan brings a distinct perspective to the problems of trade union organising In this account he draws on his own experiences as an activist shop steward strike organiser and working for the global union UNI The book has been very well received and after six impressions this revised and enlarged edition is also being published in a Kenyan version with our partners Vita Books Nick Wright Nigel Flanagan's Our Trade Unions What Comes Next was first published in Britain in early 2023 at the height of the country's inflationary crisis when basic food costs were increasing by up to 20 per cent and energy by far more Workers were fighting through their trade unions to protect their living standards and local services from the biggest attack for a century This new Kenyan edition of Flanagan's book is therefore doubly welcome because it provides real life substance to these links The chapters from Shiraz Durrani himself a veteran of these struggles reveal how far the movements of resistance to colonial rule were rooted in and largely sprang from the trade union movement in the 1920s and 30s The importance of the contribution from Shiraz Durrani is that he places this resistance squarely in the special circumstances required for capitalist exploitation to take place in Kenya Resistance demands mass based political trade unions This is why Kenya s experience and that of other African nations is of relevance not just to workers in Africa but those who wish to rebuild the workers movement internationally But this process must be political It cannot be simply that of organising As Shiraz Durrani stresses without a vision of achieving equality and justice unions remain merely to make capitalism more acceptable to workers John Foster Annual Report of the New York State Commission of Correction New York (State).
