Reforming Education In The Regions Of Russia:

Reforming Education in the Regions of Russia Mary Canning, Peter R. Moock, Timothy E. Heleniak, 1999-01-01 Russia's educational system with broad access and high levels of scholarly achievement has long been a source of strength. The Soviet system however was grossly overcentralized, inefficient and lacking in accountability. In the last decade, attempted rapid decentralization has not been well designed since there has been no commensurate transfer of resources and levels of responsibility have remained unclear. Unless corrected soon, the harmful impact on educational quality and equity could be very serious. The purposes of this report are to analyze the nature of the current problems and to discuss policy options open to the Russian Government in its efforts to improve educational efficiency, preserving and even improving equitable access without sacrificing traditions of academic excellence. This report is based on analysis of trends across the 89 Russian regions and case studies. In its conclusions, the report draws on this regional experience to suggest reform options. Among other proposals, efficiency could be increased by giving schools increased financial autonomy, using of per capita financing formulae, and beginning to rationalize the teaching force and improve its quality. A national system of student assessment might help both to raise quality and improve the equity of access to highly selective institutions. Reforms are required to improve the market responsiveness of first level vocational education and especially to avoid excessive and premature specialization. Education practitioners and policy makers will find this publication of interest. Educational Reform in Post-Soviet Russia Ben Eklof, Larry Eugene Holmes, Vera Kaplan, 2005 A collection of essays which examine the reform of the educational system in post-Soviet Russia in historical and comparative perspective. Treasury Reference Model Ali Hashim, Bill Allan, 2001-01-01 The World Bank and IMF are placing increasing emphasis on projects aimed at improving the management of public finances. An integrated treasury system forms the backbone for recording and processing all transactions. This book provides a treasury reference model (TRM) to give guidelines for the design of automated treasury systems for governments. It provides detailed flow charts of the functional processes associated with Treasury systems. This book also includes a diagnostic questionnaire that could be used to evaluate country specific requirements as well as a set of sample functional specifications that could be used for procurement and/or development of the application software that would be required to implement these systems. Educational Reform in Post-Soviet Russia Ben Eklof, Larry E. Holmes, Vera Kaplan, 2004-08-02 This volume consists of a collection of essays devoted to study of the most recent educational reform in Russia. In his first decree, Boris Yeltsin proclaimed education a top priority of state policy. Yet the economic decline which accompanied the collapse of the Soviet Union dealt a crippling blow to reformist aspirations and to the existing school system itself. The public lost faith in school reform and by the mid 1990s a reaction had set in. Nevertheless, large scale changes have been effected in finance, structure, governance and curricula. At the same time, there has been a renewed and widespread appreciation for the positive aspects of the Soviet legacy in schooling. The essays presented here compare current educational reform to reforms of the past analyze it in a broader cultural political and social context and study the shifts that have occurred at the different levels of schooling from political decision making and changes in school administration to the rewriting textbooks and teachers everyday problems The authors are both Russian educators who have played a leading role in implementation of the reform and Western scholars who have been studying it from its very early stages Together they formulate an intricate but cohesive picture which is in keeping with the complex nature of the reform itself Contributors Kara Brown Indiana University Ben Eklof Indiana University Isak D Froumin World Bank Moscow Larry E Holmes University of South Alabama Igor Ionov Russian History Institute of the Russian Academy of Sciences Viacheslav Karpov Elena Lisovskaya Western Michigan University Vera Kaplan Tel Aviv University Stephen T Kerr University of Washington James Muckle University of Nottingham Nadya Peterson Hunter College Scott Seregny Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis Alexander Shevyrev Moscow State University Janet G Vaillant Harvard University
