Sam Peckinpah's Feature Films Bernard F. Dukore, 1999 One of the greatest film directors America has produced Sam Peckinpah revolutionized the way movies were made In this detailed and insightful study Bernard F Dukore examines Peckinpah's fourteen feature films as a coherent body of work He investigates the director's virtuosic editing techniques thematic preoccupations that persist from his earliest to his last films and the structure of his dramatic depiction of violence He also addresses Peckinpah's cognizance of existentialism and the substantial traces this interest has left in the films At the heart of Dukore's study is an extensive and detailed examination of Peckinpah's distinctive editing techniques Focusing on representative sequences including the breakout from the bank and the final battle in The Wild Bunch the half hour siege that concludes Straw Dogs the killing of the title characters of Pat Garrett and Billy the Kid and combat sequences in Cross of Iron Dukore provides a shot by shot analysis that illuminates Peckinpah's mastery of pacing and mood Sam Peckinpah's Feature Films demonstrates that Peckinpah's genius as a director and editor marks not only The Wild Bunch Straw Dogs and other classics but also his lesser known feature films even those that suffered substantial cuts at the hands of studio producers Dukore's organic approach to the feature films reveals a highly unified body of work that remains a pointed commentary on power violence affection and moral values

Welsh, 2010-02-23 From All Quiet on the Western Front and Gone with the Wind to No Country for Old Men and Slumdog Millionaire many of the most memorable films have been adapted from other sources And while courses on film studies are taught throughout the world The Pedagogy of Adaptation makes a strong case for treating adaptation studies as a separate discipline What makes this book unique is its claim that adaptation is above all a creative process and not simply a slavish imitation or reproduction of an original This collection of essays focuses on numerous contexts to emphasize why adaptations matter to students of literature It is the first such volume devoted exclusively to teaching adaptations from a practical teacher centered angle Many of the essays show how adaptation as a discipline can be used to prompt reflection on cultural historical and political differences Written by specialists in a variety of fields ranging from film radio theater and even language studies the book adopts a pluralistic view of adaptation showing how its processes vary across different contexts and in different disciplines Defining new horizons for the teaching of adaptation studies these essays draw on such disparate sources as Frankenstein Moby Dick and South Park This volume not only provides a resource book of lesson plans but offers valuable pointers as to why teaching literature and film can help develop students skills and improve their literacy
