Малинина, 2004 Optical Play Julia Bekman Chadaga, 2014-10-31 Longlist finalist 2015 Historia Nova Prize for Best Book on Russian Intellectual and Cultural History Julia Bekman Chadaga's ambitious study posits that glass in its uses as a material and as captured in culture is a key to understanding the evolution of Russian identity from the eighteenth century onward. From the contemporary perspective it is easy to overlook how glass has profoundly transformed vision. Chadaga shows the far reaching effects of this phenomenon. Her book examines the similarities between glass and language, the ideological uses of glass and the material's associations with modernity while illuminating the work of Lomonosov, Dostoevsky, Zamyatin and Eisenstein among others. In particular, Chadaga explores the prominent role of glass in the discourse around Russia's contentious relationship with the West by turns admiring and antagonistic as the nation crafted a vision for its own future. Chadaga returns throughout to the spectacular aspect of glass and shows how both the tendentious capacity and the playfulness of this material have shaped Russian culture. Danilov, 1991-08-14 One of the most frequently overlooked areas of the museum world are those museums and museum-like facilities that are part of manufacturing and other types of companies. Usually known as corporate museums, galleries or visitor centers, they have other names such as exhibit halls, history rooms, sculpture gardens, information centers and even halls of fame. In general, they are exhibit-based facilities owned and operated by publicly traded or privately held companies as public relations, marketing and/or personnel relations vehicles. In some cases, however, they are operated through foundations started and largely funded and controlled by companies. This unique and comprehensive guide describes more than 300 such corporate museums, galleries and visitor centers from throughout the world. These facilities are often not listed in conventional museum directories. As part of a corporate organization, they generally do not receive the visibility, publicity and recognition accorded most nonprofit museums. This volume provides the first comprehensive directory of corporate museums, galleries and visitors centers. Those interested in these unusual museums as well as the companies that house them will want to own a copy of this unique reference work. Federal Register Index, 1990 Art Nouveau During the Reign of the Last Tsars Tamara Rappé, Elena Anisimova, 2007 Catalog of an
