Constructing Russian Culture in the Age of Revolution, 1881-1940 Catriona Kelly, David G. Shepherd, 1998 Constructing Russian Culture offers a pioneering new account of the relationship between literature and other cultural forms in Late Imperial Russia and Revolutionary Russia The general consensus in Western study of Russia and the Soviet Union has been that understanding of historical background is essential to the study of literature But this consensus has so far failed to produce sophisticated overviews of the culture as a whole literary histories seldom venture outside a rigid canon of authors and literary groupings and the account of historical background sometimes amount to little more than a listing of certain predictable political and social factors that can be perceived to have influenced or impeded literary developments This book is an ambitious attempt to recontextualize Russian literature and rethink the relations between literature and other cultural forms The book examines a number of in Bourdieu's term cultural fields in late Imperial Russia science and objectivity national and personal identity consumerism and commercial culture There is also a keywords introduction explaining the evolution of concepts of the self the nation and literariness in Russian culture and an Epilogue outlining the further history of the central themes after 1917 Contributors include leading specialists in Russian literature cultural history and cultural theory from Britain the USA and Russia Intended as a companion to Russian Cultural Studies An Introduction also OUP this stimulating original and controversial book will be a vital resource for all those interested in Russian culture during the age of Revolution

Zelensky, 2019-04-24 An examination of the popular music culture of the post Bolshevik Russian emigration and the impact made by this group on American culture and politics

Performing Tsarist Russia in New York begins with a rich account of the musical evenings that took place in the Russian migr enclave of Harlem in the 1920s and weaves through the world of Manhattan s Russian restaurants Tin Pan Alley industry Broadway productions 1939 World s Fair Soviet music distributors postwar Russian parish musical life and Cold War radio programming to close with today s Russian ball scene exploring how the idea of Russia Abroad has taken shape through various spheres of music production in New York over the course of a century Engaging in an analysis of musical styles performance practice sheet music cover art the discourses surrounding this music and the sonic somatic and social realms of dance author Natalie K Zelensky demonstrates the central role played by music in shaping and maintaining the Russian migr diaspora over multiple generations as well as the fundamental paradox underlying this process that music s sustaining power in this case rests on its proclivity to foster collective narratives of an idealized prerevolutionary Russia while often evolving stylistically to remain relevant to its makers listeners and dancers By combining archival research with fieldwork and interviews with Russian migr s of various generations and emigration waves Zelensky presents a close historical and ethnographic examination of music s potential as an aesthetic discursive and social space through which diasporans can engage with an idea of a mythologized homeland and in turn the vital role played by music in the organization development and reception of Russia Abroad The Feminine in the Prose of Andrey Platonov Philip Bullock, 2017-12-02 Andrey Platonovich Platonov 1899 1951 is increasingly regarded as one of the greatest writers of the Soviet period His linguistic virtuosity philosophical rigour and political unorthodoxy combined to create some of the most captivantly absurd works of literature in any language Unsurprisingly many of these remained unpublished in his lifetime and indeed for many years thereafter In this lively and original study Philip Bullock traces the development of feminine imagery in Platonov's prose from the seemingly misogynist outrage of his early works to the tender reconciliation with domesticity in his final stories and argues that gender is a crucial feature of the author's audacious utopian vision Reconstructing the Cold War Ted Hopf, 2012-04-12 This title explores how the early years of the Cold War were marked by contradictions and conflict It looks at how the turn from Stalin's discourse of danger to the discourse of difference under his successors explains the abrupt changes in relations with Eastern Europe China the decolonizing world and the West Russia's Dangerous Texts Kathleen F. Parthe, 2008-10-01 Russia's Dangerous Texts examines the ways that writers and their works unnerved and irritated Russia's authoritarian rulers both before and after the Revolution Kathleen F Parth identifies ten historically powerful beliefs about literature and politics in Russia which include a view of the artistic text as national territory and the belief that writers must avoid all contact with the state Parth offers a compelling analysis of the power of Russian literature to shape national identity despite sustained efforts to silence authors deemed subversive No amount of repression could prevent the production distribution and discussion of texts outside official channels Along with tragic stories of lost manuscripts and persecuted writers there is ample evidence of an unbroken thread of political discourse through art The book concludes with a consideration of the impact of two centuries of dangerous texts on post Soviet Russia Dutch Contributions to the Fourteenth International Congress of Slavists, 2008-01-01 In this volume of SSLP the contributions of Dutch scholars working in the field of Slavic literature and culture to the 14th International Congress of Slavists Ohrid Macedonia September 10-16 2008 are brought together All of them except one on the Polish poet Cyprian Norwid's story Stigma deal with Russian literature from the end of the 18th century up to recent years A variety of topics is treated such as the feminization of Russian literature the reflection of poetry in prose anthropological and religious dimensions of literature the specifics of theme and of plot Russian modernism and postmodernism and the status of language from different methodological angles gender studies structural analysis philosophical contextual postcolonial Works of such Russian authors as Ippolit Bogdanovich Ivan Turgenev Pavel Melnikov Pecherskii Ignatii Potapenko Iurii Trifonov Timur Kibirov and Viktor Pelevin are discussed in detail This volume is of interest for a scholarly audience interested in Russian literature of the last 250 years
