identity social spaces iconography and its constituency abroad      Bear Information 1987 ,1987      Radical Ecopsychology, Second Edition Andy Fisher,2013-01-01 Expanded new edition of a classic examination of the psychological roots of our ecological crisis      War and Peace with the Beasts Brian Griffith,2020-09-01 The animals that one culture likes are often hated in the next and it seems that the animals themselves know it well Basically one culture s animal partner is often another culture s nightmare from hell Naturally I wonder how relations between people and animals got to be so different around the world How did it happen that some cultures treat bats snakes wolves or ravens as embodiments of evil while other people treat the same animals with affection or even reverence Our wars with the animals go way back Beyond the light cast by our prehistoric campfires the eyes glowing in the night seemed to represent a great hostile force As we began to cultivate crops and husband a few favoured animals we generally regarded other creatures as threats to our chosen few Using the logic of war we sought to maximize the populations of certain creatures and the destruction of others In the past that war effort was our great crusade for the advancement of civilization as we knew it The war had a frontier a front line and an ongoing battle on the home front Expanding outward from our various cradles of civilization we progressively tamed the forests and grasslands converting them to monocrop plantations or pastures Then we had to defend our monocrops from encroaching weeds insects and wild animals In this immediately engaging story and fact filled page turner of a book Brian Griffith looks at the range of ways we relate to animals and the stories we tell about them He asks how we choose whether buddyhood fearful respect businesslike predation or genocidal war is the most appropriate response to each species we meet He watches how our treatment of inferior beings affects our treatment of inferior people and traces some of the chain reactions we unleash when we try to weed out species we don t like Without much hope of making animals fit my personal preferences he writes I wonder how good our relations can get      Minding the Earth, Mending the World Susan Murphy,2014-04-21 Shunryu Suzuki Roshi founded the San Francisco Zen Center in 1962 and after fifty years we have seen a fine group of Zen masters trained in the west take up the mantle and extend the practice of Zen in ways that might have been hard to imagine in those first early years Susan Murphy one of Robert Aitken s students and dharma heirs is one of the finest in this group of young Zen teachers She is also a fine writer and following on the teaching of her Roshi she has engaged her spiritual work in the ordinary world dealing with the practice of daily life and with the struggles of all beings We know that our earth is in crisis but is the situation beyond repair Are we on a path of planetary disaster where the only proper response is to prepare for our melancholic dystopian future Is there a way out of our suspicious cynicism In the tradition of Thomas Berry using this spiritual opportunity to change the very nature of our crisis Susan Murphy offers a profound message subtly presented with clarity and assurance showing that engaged Buddhism provides a possible path to the necessary repair and healing      Biological Exuberance Bruce Bagemihl,2000-04-10 A Publishers Weekly Best Book One of the New York Public Library s 25 Books to Remember for 1999 Lavishly illustrated and meticulously researched filled with fascinating facts and astonishing descriptions of animal behavior Bruce Bagemihl's Biological Exuberance is a landmark book that will change forever how we look at nature Homosexuality in its myriad forms has been scientifically documented in more than 450 species of mammals birds reptiles insects and other animals worldwide Biological Exuberance is the first comprehensive account of the subject bringing together accurate accessible and nonsensationalized information Drawing upon a rich body of zoological research spanning more than two centuries Bagemihl shows that animals engage in all types of nonreproductive sexual behavior Sexual and gender expression in the animal world displays exuberant variety including same sex courtship pair bonding sex and co parenting even instances of lifelong homosexual bonding in species that do not have lifelong heterosexual bonding Part 1 A Polysexual Polygendered World begins with a survey of homosexuality transgender and nonreproductive heterosexuality in animals and then delves into the broader implications of these findings including a valuable perspective on human diversity Bagemihl also examines the hidden assumptions behind the way biologists look at natural systems and suggests a fresh perspective based on the synthesis of contemporary scientific insights with traditional knowledge from indigenous cultures Part 2 A Wondrous Bestiary profiles more than 190 species in which scientific observers have noted homosexual or transgender behavior Each profile is a verbal and visual snapshot of one or more closely related bird or mammal species containing all the documentation required to support the author's often controversial conclusions

Thinking Animals Paul Shepard, 2011-07-01 In a world increasingly dominated by human beings the survival of other species becomes more and more questionable In this brilliant book Paul Shepard offers a provocative alternative to an us or them mentality proposing that other species are integral to humanity's evolution and exist at the core of our imagination This trait he argues compels us to think of animals in order to be human Without other living species by which to measure ourselves Shepard warns we would be less mature care less for and be more careless of all life including our own kind

Shepard, 1994-07-01 Ecotone Wayfaring on the Margins a personal history of place is written from the perspective of a teacher naturalist and feminist and uses the metaphor of the biological ecotone as the boundary where inner and outer landscapes of the woman nature continuum meet In this book Krall proposes a counter narrative to the usual reading of marginality In autobiographical narrative that rings with experience she describes margins as rich as dynamic abodes places of crossing over and transition as well as spaces of separation and alienation In reinterpreting journeys and encounters she maps the shared terrain of the personal social and natural fields of our lives She draws upon Native American sensibilities about place relationship and the sacred in order to deepen our understanding of human nature bonds to more fully develop respect and responsibility to others and to heal the rifts that sometimes set humans at odds with other humans and non human creatures and threaten life on earth
