Simone Weil An Introduction To Her Thought:

Simone Weil John Hellman, 2010-10-30 The generation of 1930 in French intellectual life was unique in the gravity of the challenges they faced Simone Weil the brilliant social and political theorist activist and spiritual writer was one of an eminent company in the France of the 1930s who responded to these challenges In her brief remarkable life she wrote a host of essays and letters and filled several notebooks with reflections Hellman's volume sets out the single world view with its paradoxes and its logic which appears behind her disparate writings but which she never lived to set out formally herself Hellman extracts the key themes in Weil's writings on Marxism Hitlerism factory work history and religion in an effort to examine the seeming contradictions and inconsistencies in her fusion of deep spirituality and commitment to the poor and oppressed and her love hate relationship with Roman Catholicism and Israel The result is a synthesis of her thought as a whole drawn principally from her varied fragmentary writings and seen in relation to her life and personality A

Philosophical Anthropology Drawn from Simone Weil's Life and Writings Helen E. Cullen, 2017 A Philosophical Anthropology Drawn from Simone Weil's Life Writings situates Weil's thought in the time between the two world wars through which she lived and traces Weil's consistent conception of a mind body dualism in the Cartesian sense to a dualism that places the mind within a carnal part of the soul and establishes an eternal part of the soul as the essence of human beings Helen Cullen argues that in Weil's early conception of human nature her Cartesian conception of perception already shows a glimpse of the eternal Weil's dualistic conception also forms the basis of her political analysis of the left of her time and through working in factories and in the fields she develops a conception of labour as a theory of action and work with a method Weil was influenced by leading thinkers of her time prompting her to do an analysis of current scientific theories Cullen argues that Weil's analysis of Christianity already present in Greek philosophy shows us a theory of identical thought inherited from the East India and China and brought forth by peoples around Israel This theory leads to Weil's analysis developed in The Need for Roots of how we've been uprooted through colonization and how we can grow roots in a free local society both rural and urban French Women Writers Eva Martin Sartori, Dorothy Wynne Zimmerman, 1994-01-01 Marie de France Mme De S vign and Mme De Lafayette achieved international reputations during periods when women in other European countries were able to write only letters translations religious tracts and miscellaneous fragments There were obstacles but French women writers were more or less sustained and empowered by the French culture Often unconventional in their personal lives and occupied with careers besides writing as educators painters actresses preachers salon hostesses labor organizers these women did not wait for Simone de Beauvoir to tell them to make existential choices and have projects in the world French Women Writers describes the lives and careers of fifty two literary figures from the twelfth century to the late twentieth All the contributors are recognized authorities Some of their subjects like Colette and George Sand are celebrated and others are just now gaining critical notice From Christine de Pizan and Marguerite de

Saint Hysteria Cristina Mazzoni, 1996 Saint Hysteria examines scientific literary and religious texts that share a fascination with the otherness of the female body whether in ecstatic pleasure or in neurotic pain Cristina Mazzoni focuses on material from the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries mainly in Italy and France Her approach uses the methodologies of cultural studies and feminism but also benefits from the insights of psychoanalytic criticism She asks how the identification of mysticism with hysteria became prevalent and explores the continuing dialogue between a historicizing view of hysteria and a view of hysteria as repressed religious mysticism According to Mazzoni this dialogue is discernible at various levels and in a variety of discourses The medical history of hysteria she maintains is often linked to the religious history of supernatural phenomena and the medical discourse of positivism depends on the religious feminine element that it attempts to repress Similarly she finds a continuity between the literature of naturalism and that of decadence in their representations of the interdependence of neurosis and religion Finally the religious writings of women mystics and the discourses they inspired reveal an unresolved tension between nature and supernature body and soul or psyche which Mazzoni suggests mirrors and complicates the very issues raised by hysterical conversion Among those whose views she considers are the writers Jules and Edmond de Goncourt Gabriele d'Annunzio and Antonio Fogazzaro as well as Graham Greene and Simone Weil the mystics Angela of Foligno Gemma Galgani and Teresa of Avila and the theorists Jean Martin Charcot Cesare Lombroso Jacques Lacan Simone de Beauvoir Julia Kristeva and Luce Irigaray Encyclopedia of Modern
