of Tamil Eelam LTTE However hostilities resumed with ever increasing desperation and ferocity on both sides until the LTTE were overcome and largely eradicated in 2009 This book provides a contextualised analysis of the effects of war on a small Tamil community living in northern Sri Lanka during the cease fire period It examines how the society changed and adapted in order to accommodate the upheaval and destruction of war and its inevitable resumption In particular it focuses on the nature of suffering through an exploration of a well known ritual Thuukkukkaavadi that transformed the experience of pain and suffering and contributed to a process whereby many village communities could come together in a demonstration of strength and resilience It contributes to studies on violence reparation processes of so called post conflict societies and the medical anthropology of healing It questions assumptions concerning the nature of suffering and critiques the application of western categories in settings like northern Sri Lanka where entire communities have been silenced by political violence The book therefore presents a claim for more culturally specific understandings of what constitutes suffering and is of interest to students and scholars of South Asian Studies Conflict Resolution and Social and Cultural Anthropology

Historical Dictionary of Malaysia Ooi Keat Gin, 2017-12-18 Malaysia is one of the most intriguing countries in Asia in many respects It consists of several distinct areas not only geographically but ethnically as well along with Malays and related groups the country has a very large Indian and Chinese population The spoken languages obviously vary at home although Bahasa Malaysia is the official language and nearly everyone speaks English There is also a mixture of religions with Islam predominating among the Malays and others Hinduism and Sikhism among the Indians mainly Daoism and Confucianism among the Chinese but also some Christians as well as older indigenous beliefs in certain places This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Malaysia contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 500 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Malaysia

Tamils and the Haunting of Justice Andrew C. Willford, 2014-11-30 In 2006 dejected members of the Bukit Jalil Estate community faced eviction from their homes in Kuala Lumpur where they had lived for generations City officials classified plantation residents as squatters and unaware of years of toil attachment to the land and past official promises questioned any right they might have to stay wondering How can there be a plantation in Kuala Lumpur This story epitomizes the dilemma faced by Malaysian Tamils in recent years as they confront the moment when the plantation system where they have lived and worked for generations finally collapses Foreign workers from Indonesia and Bangladesh have been brought in to replace Tamil workers to cut labor costs As the new migrant workers do not bring their whole families with them the community structures schools temples churches community halls recreational fields need no longer be sustained allowing more land to be converted to mechanized palm oil production or lucrative housing developments In short the old long term community based model of rubber plantation production introduced by British and French companies in colonial Malaya has been replaced by a model based upon migrant labor mechanization and a gradual contraction of the plantation economy Tamils find themselves increasingly resentful of the fact that lands that were developed and populated by their ancestors are now claimed by Malays as their own and that the land use patterns in these new townships are increasingly hostile to the most symbolic vestiges of the Tamil and Hindu presence the temples In addition to issues pertaining to land legal cases surrounding religious conversion have exacerbated a sense of insecurity among Tamil Hindus Based on seventeen months of ethnographic fieldwork this compelling book is about much more than the fast approaching end to a way of life Tamils and the Haunting of Justice addresses critical issues in the study of race and ethnicity It is a study of how notions of justice as imagined by an aggrieved minority complicate legal demarcations of ethnic difference in post colonial states Through its ethnographic breadth it demonstrates which strategies as enacted by local communities in conjunction with NGOs and legal advisors activists have been most successful in navigating the legal and political system of ethnic entitlement and compensation It shows how through a variety of strategies Tamils try to access justice beyond the law sometimes by using the law and sometimes by turning to religious symbols and rituals in the murky space between law and justice The book will thus appeal not only to scholars of Southeast Asia and the Indian diaspora but also to ethnic studies and development scholars and those interested in postcolonial nationalism Indonesia Betrayed Elizabeth Fuller

Collins, 2007-07-31 Supporters of neoliberalism claim that free markets lead to economic growth the creation of a middle class and the establishment of democratically accountable governments Critics point to a widening gap between rich and poor as countries compete to win foreign investment and to the effects on the poor of neoliberal programs that restrict funding for health education and welfare This book offers a ground level view from Sumatra of the realities behind these debates during the final years of Suharto's New Order and the beginning of a transition to more democratic government The author's wealth of primary data from ten years of interviews and local newspaper reportage 1994-2004 shows how farmers and laborers were dispossessed by both government policies and crony capitalism Elizabeth Collins relates the stories of populist efforts in South Sumatra to combat development policies responsible for producing extreme poverty and allowing corruption to flourish She describes how student led NGOs worked with farmers fighting to retain their livelihoods in the lowland forests of South Sumatra She reports on a local branch of the Indonesian Environmental Forum as it battled multinational companies and Indonesian conglomerates responsible for damage to the environment on contract workers protesting exploitation by a company with ties to a Suharto crony and on systemic corruption under the New Order which spread throughout all levels of government and into civil society organizations She examines the sometimes strained relationships between Islamists and human rights activists arguing that there is no inherent contradiction between Islam and democratic politics Collins concludes that for real change to occur neoliberal capitalism must be recognized as a utopian ideology democracy imperfect as it is offers the best hope for sustainable development in Indonesia Dealing with spiritual practice as opposed to religious bound ritual and the notion of dharma Based on a conference on Hindu ritual held in 2006 at the University of Pittsburgh Hindu Ritual at the Margins seeks to elucidate the ways ritual actors come to shape ritual practices or conceptions pertaining to ritual and how studying ritual in marginal contexts at points of dynamic tension requires scholars to reshape their understanding of ritual activity The to Z of Malaysia Ooi Keat Gin,2010-06-07 The A to Z of Malaysia encapsulates the development of Malaysia from prehistory to the early years of the 21st century It covers not only Malaysia s history but also its politics economy multiethnic society multiculturalism scientific and technological developments and the state of its environment A host of contemporary issues and challenges are featured including ethnic polarization economic equity and polygamy concepts like Ketuanan Melayu Malay Dominance Malaysian Malaysia Malay and Islam Hadhari Civilizational Islam and terms like Ali Baba business kiasi bejalai and Twenty Points Over 500 cross referenced dictionary entries are contained in this reference covering everything from ethno historical entries to those on culinary favorites and personalities A chronology an introductory essay appendixes and a bibliography complement the dictionary entries enhancing the authoritative and up to date information provided Religion and Psychology Diane Jonte-Pace,William B. Clothey, 2006 In his comparative study of four Tamil resettlements Clothey examines the rituals that have traveled with these South Indian communities Hindu Muslim and Christian and how these practices perpetuate or modify the heritages these groups claim for themselves in their new environs Clothey looks specifically at settlements in the cities of Kuala Lumpur Malaysia Singapore Mumbai India and Pittsburgh Pennsylvania Describing such settlements as communities living on boundaries Clothey explores how their existence illustrates divisions between ethnic local and global identities between generations and between imagined pasts and uncertain futures He contends that one of the most visible ways expatriated communities negotiate these boundaries is through the use of ritual the building of shrines and temples the use of festivals and performances and the enactment of ancient ceremonies Guests at God's Wedding Tracy Pintchman, 2005-08-18 This fascinating look at the sacred Hindu month of Kartik October November as it is celebrated in the city of Benares in North India highlights Kartik related practices stories songs and experiences particular to women During Kartik Hindu women living in and around Benares meet daily to enact a form of ritual worship or puja in which they raise the playful Hindu deity Krishna from childhood to adulthood throughout the month ultimately marrying him to the plant goddess Tulsi Basil Tracy Pintchman explores how women who perform Kartik puja understand and celebrate both Kartik and Krishna in ways that are linked to the desires hopes fears and social realities characteristic of many Hindu women living in the rather conservative social milieu of this region
