

He is told about the previous evening's behaviour.

Starting with a punchbowl on the volleyball court.
Dancing and falling across coffee tables, asking his son Are you the bastard who keeps telling me I'm drunk? kissing the limbs of women suspicious of his friends serenading five pigs by the barn heaving a wine glass towards garden and continually going through gates into the dark fields and collapsing.
His wife half carrying him home rescuing him from departing cars, complains this morning of a sore shoulder.

And even later his thirteen year old daughter's struggle to lift him into the back kitchen after he has passed out, resting his head on rocks, wondering what he was looking for in dark fields.

Song of the Distant Dove Raymond P. Scheindlin, 2008 Judah Halevi ca 1075-1141 is the best known and most beloved of medieval Hebrew poets partly because of his passionate poems of longing for the Land of Israel and partly because of the legend of his death as a martyr while reciting his Ode to Zion at the gates of Jerusalem. He was also one of the premier theologians of medieval Judaism having written a treatise on the meaning of Judaism that is still studied and venerated by traditional Jews. As a member of the wealthy Jewish elite of medieval Spain, Halevi enjoyed the material pleasures available to the upper classes. Alongside his sacred poetry, he wrote verses about youthful romance, wine songs, and odes to his friends. In midlife, Halevi turned more seriously to religion, eventually abandoning his family and community with hopes of ending his life as a pilgrim in the land of Israel. Miraculously, a number of letters in Arabic were discovered about fifty years ago, some written by Halevi, some written to Halevi, and yet others written about Halevi by his friends in Egypt. These letters preserve a vivid record of Halevi's travels as a pilgrim and of the last months of his life. Raymond Scheindlin has written the first book-length treatment of Halevi's pilgrimage in any language. He tells the story of Halevi's journey through selections from these revealing sources and explores its meaning through discussions of his stirring poetry presented here in new verse translations with full commentary. In Hebrew verse of unparalleled beauty, Halevi salutes the Holy Land, he argues with friends about his intentions, he sets out his fantasy of crossing the ocean, of walking the hills and valleys of the Land of Israel, and of dying and mingling his bones with its soil and stones. He even confides his secret fears and uncertainties, his longing for his family, and his fear of death at sea. With his consummate skill as a translator of Hebrew poetry and his mastery of Judeo-Arabic culture, Scheindlin provides fresh insights into the literary, religious, and historical facets of Halevi's captivating poetry and fateful journey.

Themes and Variations in Shakespeare's Sonnets J. B. Leishman, 2013-04-15 First published in 1961. This study analyses Shakespeare's treatment of the universal themes of Beauty, Love, and Time. He compares Shakespeare with other great poets and sonnet writers: Pindar, Horace, and Ovid with Petrarch, Tasso, and Ronsart; with Shakespeare's own English predecessors and contemporaries, notably Spenser, Daniel, and Drayton, and with John Donne. By discussing their resemblances and differences, a not altogether orthodox picture of Shakespeare's attitude to life is presented, which suggests that he was not as phlegmatic and equable a person as critics have often supposed.

Manuscript, Print, and the English Renaissance Lyric Arthur F. Marotti, 2018-09-05 The last of the literary genres to be incorporated into print culture, verse in the English Renaissance not only was published in anthologies, pamphlets, and folio editions; it was also circulated in manuscript. In this ground-breaking historical and cultural study of sixteenth and early seventeenth-century lyric poetry, Marotti examines the interrelationship between the two systems of literary transmission and shows how in England manuscript and print publication together shaped the emerging institution of literature. Surveying a wide range of manuscript and print poetry of the period, Marotti outlines the different social and institutional contexts in which poems were collected and transmitted. He focuses on the two kinds of verse that were circulated more commonly in manuscript than in print the obscene and the political and he considers the contributions of scribes and compilers particularly in composing answer poetry and other verse Analyzing the process through which print gradually replaced manuscript as the standard medium for lyric verse he identifies four crucial events in the history of publication in England the appearances of Tottel s Miscellany 1557 Sir Philip Sidney s works in the 1590s Ben Jonson s folio Workes 1616 and the posthumous editions of the poems of Donne and of Herbert both 1633 Marotti also considers how certain material features of the book determined the reception of poetry and he explores how poets attempted to establish their authority in print in relation to publishers patrons and readers

Mystic Modernity Ashim Dutta, 2021-12-05 This is a transnational and bilingual investigation of the cross fertilisation of mystical religiosity and modern poetical imagination in the works of the Bengali poet Rabindranath Tagore and the Irish poet W B Yeats The book demonstrates how their commitments to transnational mysticism deeply form and inform the modernist literary projects of these poets as well as their understanding of cultural modernity Although its primary interest lies in their poetry and poetics the monograph also includes some of their relevant prose works This study begins with a close look at and around the phase of 1912 1913 when Yeats and Tagore met over the collection of the latter s English translations of his spiritual verses Gitanjali and took mutual interests in each other s works and cultural significances The monograph then expands on both sides of that phase selectively covering the whole career of the poets in its exploration of their parallel mystic modern cultural poetical projects
