

A man in a dark suit and glasses stands in profile, looking at a large, blank, off-white canvas that dominates the center of the frame. The canvas is hung in a workshop or studio with wooden walls and a wooden floor. A wooden ladder is visible on the right side of the canvas. The lighting is warm and slightly dim, creating a contemplative atmosphere.

Crow, 2005 I am interested only in expressing basic human emotions tragedy ecstasy doom Mark Rothko 1903 1970 said of his paintings If you are moved only by their colour relationships then you miss the point Throughout his career Rothko was concerned with what other people experienced when they looked at his canvases As his work shifted from figurative imagery to luminous fields of colour his concern expanded to the setting in which his paintings were exhibited Mark Rothko David Anfam, 1998-09-10 This is the first volume of the catalogue raisonné of the work of Mark Rothko the abstract artist It documents Rothko's entire output of paintings on canvas and panel reproducing all the works in colour An introductory text investigates the essential features of Rothko's art Seeing and Beyond Deborah J. Seeing Slowly Michael Findlay, 2017-09-26 When it comes to viewing art living in the information age is not necessarily a benefit So argues Michael Findlay in this book that encourages a new way of looking at art Much of this thinking involves stripping away what we have been taught and instead trusting our own instincts opinions and reactions Including reproductions of works by Mark Rothko Paul Klee Joan Mir Jacob Lawrence and other modern and contemporary masters this book takes readers on a journey through modern art Chapters such as What Is a Work of Art Can We Look and See at the Same Time and Real Connoisseurs Are Not Snobs not only give readers the confidence to form their own opinions but also encourages them to make connections that spark curiosity intellect and imagination The most important thing for us to grasp writes Findlay is that the essence of a great work of art is inert until it is seen Our engagement with the work of art liberates its essence After reading this book even the most intimidated art viewer will enter a museum or gallery feeling more confident and leave it feeling enriched and inspired Seeing Silence Mark C. Taylor, 2020-08-13 This wide ranging study explores the many meanings of silence through the work of visual artists philosophers theologians writers and composers Mark C Taylor's prolific output has delved into topics ranging from media to metaphysics and from postmodern theology to posthuman bodies His latest explores the significance of silence amid the buzzing networks of our modern age Have we forgotten how to listen to each other to recognize the virtues of modesty and reticence and to appreciate the resonance of silence Are we less prepared than ever for the ultimate silence that awaits us all In Taylor's account our way to hearing silence is paradoxically to see it He explores the many variations of silence by considering the work of leading modern and postmodern visual artists including Barnett Newman Ad Reinhardt James Turrell and Anish Kapoor Developing the insights of philosophers theologians writers and composers Taylor weaves a rich narrative modeled on the Stations of the Cross Recasting Hegel's phenomenology of spirit and Kierkegaard's stages on life's way Taylor translates the traditional Via Dolorosa into a Nietzschean Via Jubilosa that affirms light in the midst of darkness Seeing Silence is a thoughtful meditation that invites readers to linger long enough to see silence and in this way perhaps to hear once again the wordless Word that once was named God

Kidd, 2020-03-16 This book is a follow up to a previous volume by the same three authors Baptists and the Communion of Saints A Theology of Covenanted Disciples though it does not require familiarity with the first study The present book offers new perspectives on belief in the communion of saints by interpreting it through the idea of covenant with its two dimensions of relations with God and with each other Giving attention to the creative arts of painting music poetry and story writing the authors explore indications of a hidden communion of saints through embodiment memory and connectivity Included are studies of the work of visual artists Paul Nash and Mark Rothko musicians John Tavener Elgar and Brahms and writers Thomas Hardy T S Eliot and James Joyce Theological reflection on these hints of communion offers a vision of an ongoing communion of prayer with the saints alive and dead which does not depend on a dualistic idea of a disembodied soul existing after death but which affirms the Christian tradition of the resurrection of the body Communion covenant and creativity are thus linked to develop a Christian aesthetics based on a mutual indwelling between the triune God and the world
