Seeking Minopimatisiwin An Aboriginal Approach To Helping:

Seeking Mino-Pimatisiwin Michael Hart, 2020-07-25T00:00:00Z Historically social work and psychology professions have pressured and coerced Aboriginal peoples to follow the euro centric ways of society The needs of Aboriginal peoples have not been successfully addressed by helping profession due to a limited attempt to incorporate Aboriginal perspectives and practices of helping Michael Hart briefly discusses colonization from an Aboriginal perspective ontological imperialism social work's role in colonial oppression and the dynamic of resistance Seeking Mino Pimatisiwin encourages Aboriginal concepts values and perspectives to be effectively incorporated by helpers trained in counselling supporting and teaching disciplines Micheal Hart uses his own personal and professional experiences and that of other Aboriginal helpers Throughout the book he outlines ways of adopting an Aboriginal Approach to helping The closing chapter examines one such approach the sharing circle and how it can be used to guide practice with individuals families and groups in several contexts

Handbook of Research on Indigenous Knowledge and Bi-Culturalism in a Global Context Hameed, Shahul, El-Kafafi, Siham, Waretini-Karena, Rawiri, 2019-02-15 Society is continually moving towards global interaction and nations often contain citizens of numerous cultures and backgrounds Bi culturalism incorporates a higher degree of social inclusion in an effort to bring about social justice and change and it may prove to be an alternative to the existing dogma of mainstream Europe based hegemonic bodies of knowledge The Handbook of Research on Indigenous Knowledge and Bi Culturalism in a Global Context is a collection of innovative studies on the nature of indigenous bodies knowledge that incorporates the sacred or spiritual influence across various countries following World War II while exploring the difficulties faced as society immerses itself in bi culturalism While highlighting topics including bi cultural teaching Africology and education empowerment this book is ideally designed for academicians urban planners sociologists anthropologists researchers and professionals seeking current research on validating the growth of indigenous thinking and ideas Reconfiguring Citizenship Mehmoona Moosa-Mitha, 2016-03-23 Citizenship as a status assumes that all those encompassed by the term citizen are included albeit within the boundaries of the nation state Yet citizenship practices can be both inclusionary and exclusionary with far reaching ramifications for both nationals and non nationals This volume explores the concept of citizenship and its practices within particular contexts and nation states to identify whether its claims to inclusivity are justified This will show whether the exclusionary dimensions experienced by some citizens and non citizens are linked to deficiencies in the concept country specific policies or how it is practised in different contexts The interrogation of citizenship is important in a globalising world where crossing borders raises issues of diversity and how citizenship status is framed This raises the issue of human rights and their protection within the nation state for people whose lifestyles differ from the prevailing ones Besides highlighting the importance of human rights and social justice as integral to citizenship it affirms the role of the nation state in safeguarding these matters It does so by building on Indigenous peoples insights about linking citizenship to connections to other people and the environment and arguing for the inalienability and portability of citizenship rights guaranteed collectively through international level agreements These issues are of particular concern to social workers given that they must act in accordance with the principles of democracy equality and empowerment However citizenship issues are often inadequately articulated in social work theory and practice This book redresses this by providing social workers with insights knowledge values and skills about citizenship practices to enable them to work more effectively with those excluded from enjoying the full rights of citizenship in the nation states in which they reside
