Whiteness in Zimbabwe D. Hughes, 2010-04-12 European settler societies have a long history of establishing a sense of belonging and entitlement outside Europe but Zimbabwe has proven to be the exception to the rule Arriving in the 1890s white settlers never comprised more than a tiny minority Instead of grafting themselves onto local societies they adopted a strategy of escape The Columbia Guide to Central African Literature in English Since 1945 Adrian A. Roscoe, 2008 Columbia s guides to postwar African literature paint a unique portrait of the continent s rich and diverse literary traditions This volume examines the rapid rise and growth of modern literature in the three postcolonial nations of Zimbabwe Malawi and Zambia It tracks the multiple political and economic pressures that have shaped Central African writing since the end of World War II and reveals its authors heroic efforts to keep their literary traditions alive in the face of extreme poverty and AIDS Adrian Roscoe begins with a list of key political events Since writers were composing within both colonial and postcolonial contexts he pays particular attention to the nature of British colonialism especially theories regarding its provenance and motivation Roscoe discusses such historical figures as David Livingstone Cecil Rhodes and Sir Harry Johnston as well as modern power players including Robert Mugabe Kenneth Kaunda and Kamuzu Banda He also addresses efforts to create a literary historical record from an African perspective an account that challenges white historiographies in which the colonized was neither agent nor informer A comprehensive alphabetical guide profiles both established and emerging authors and further illustrates issues raised in the introduction Roscoe then concludes with a detailed bibliography recommending additional reading and sources At the close of World War II the people of Central Africa found themselves mired in imperial fatigue and broken promises of freedom This fueled a desire for liberation and a major surge in literary production and in this illuminating guide Roscoe details the campaigns for social justice and political integrity for education and economic empowerment and for gender equity participatory democracy rural development and environmental care that
