Smitten, 2016-10-26 The first modern biography of William Robertson a key figure of the Scottish Enlightenment A prominent figure in the Scottish Enlightenment William Robertson differed from his contemporaries such as Voltaire Hume and Gibbon because he used the critical tools of the Enlightenment to strengthen religion not to attack it As an historian he helped shape 18th century historiography As a minister of the Church of Scotland he sought to make the church fit for a polite age And as principal of the University of Edinburgh he presided over a flourishing of intellectual inquiry in the midst of the Enlightenment But despite his European fame he was a controversial figure Drawing extensively on his unpublished correspondence Jeffrey Smitten captures both the man and his work in his own words By foregrounding Robertsons religious outlook Smitten gives us a more contextualised and nuanced interpretation of Robertson s motives intentions and beliefs than we have had before Key Features Includes new biographical information drawn from archival sources and from all Robertson s largely unpublished correspondence Discusses Robertson s works published and unpublished Assesses Robertson s achievement based on fresh consideration of all facets of his career as minister historian and principal Debating African Philosophy George Hull, 2018-11-21 In African countries there has been a surge of intellectual interest in foregrounding ideas and thinkers of African origin in philosophy as in other disciplines that have been unjustly ignored or marginalized African scholars have demonstrated that precolonial African cultures generated ideas and arguments which were at once truly philosophical and distinctively African and several contemporary African thinkers are now established figures in the philosophical mainstream Yet despite the universality of its themes relevant contributions from African philosophy have rarely permeated global philosophical debates Critical intellectual excavation has also tended to prioritize precolonial thought overlooking more recent sources of home grown philosophical thinking such as Africa s intellectually rich liberation movements This book demonstrates the potential for constructive interchange between currents of thought from African philosophy and other intellectual currents within philosophy Chapters authored by leading and distinguished philosopher of race Robert Bernasconi that are collected here demonstrate why the critical philosophy of race needs to take a historical turn Genealogies of the concepts of both race and racism clarify why some of the dominant strategies for combatting racism tend to be ineffective For example the Boasian UNESCO strategy that highlights biology's rejection of race neglects cultural racism Drawing on the work of Frantz Fanon the late Sartre and Michel Foucault Robert Bernasconi argues for a holistic approach that integrates the concrete experience of racism faced by individuals into the study of institutional structural and systemic racism His philosophical studies of such Black philosophers as Ottobah Cugoana Antenor Firmin and W E B Du Bois contribute to challenging the dominant philosophical canon This volume will be an essential resource for scholars and students interested in this resurgent topic The Poetical Works of James Beattie
