Seeing And Consciousness Women Class And Representation:

Seeing and Consciousness Gen Doy, 1995-04-06 Through its provocative examination of feminist and Marxist approaches to women's art and female representations this book challenges the widespread belief that Marxism has nothing valuable to contribute to women's studies. The author argues that from the French Revolution through to the present gender and class have shaped visual imagery. She shows how Marxist theory can function to question some of the premises of feminist art histories and to provide a more accurate understanding of the meanings of visual imagery.

"Women, Femininity and Public Space in European Visual Culture, 1789-1914" Temma Balducci, 2017-07-05 Focusing on images of or produced by well-to-do nineteenth-century European women, this volume explores genteel femininity as resistant to easy codification. Vis is the public. Attending to various iterations of the public as space, sphere, and discourse, sixteen essays challenge the false binary construct that has held the public as the sole preserve of prosperous men. By contrast, the essays collected in Women, Femininity and Public Space in European Visual Culture, 1789-1914 demonstrate that definitions of both femininity and the public were mutually defining and constantly shifting. In examining the relationship between affluent women, femininity, and the public, the essays gathered here consider works by an array of artists that includes canonical ones such as Mary Cassatt and Frans G. Rodt as well as understudied women artists including Louise Abbéma and Bronzia Koller. The essays also consider works in a range of media from fashion prints and paintings to private journals and architectural designs, facilitating an analysis of femininity in public across the cultural production of the period. Various European centers including Madrid, Florence, Paris, Brittany, Berlin, and London emerge as crucial sites of production for genteel femininity, providing a long overdue rethinking of modern femininity in the public sphere.

Women, Femininity and Public Space in European Visual Culture, 1789-1914 Dr Temma Balducci, Asst Prof Heather Belnap Jensen, 2014-11-28 Focusing on images of or produced by nineteenth-century European women, this volume explores genteel femininity as resistant to easy codification. Vis vis the public. Attending to various iterations of the public as space, sphere, and discourse, sixteen essays challenge the false binary construct that has held the public as the sole preserve of prosperous men. By considering works in a range of media by an array of canonical and understudied women artists, they demonstrate that definitions of both femininity and the public were mutually defining and constantly shifting.

The Gender of Photography Nicole Hudgins, 2020-09-02 It would be unthinkable now to omit early female pioneers from any survey of photography's history in the Western world. Yet for many years the gendered language of American, British, and French photographic literature made it appear that women's interactions with early photography did not count as significant contributions. Using French and English photo journals, cartoons, art criticism, novels, and early career guides aimed at women, this volume will show why and how early photographic clubs, journals, exhibitions, and studios insisted on masculine values and authority and how Victorian women engaged with photography despite that dominant trend. Focusing on the period before 1890 when women were yet to develop the self-assurance that would lead to broader recognition of the value of their work this study probes the mechanisms by which exclusion took place and explores how women practiced photography anyway both as amateurs and professionals Challenging the marginalization of women s work in the early history of photography this is essential reading for students and scholars of photography history and gender studies Art and the Academy in the Nineteenth Century Rafael Cardoso Denis, Colin Trodd, 2000

Throughout the nineteenth century academies functioned as the main venues for the teaching promotion and display of art Contemporary scholars have for the most part denigrated academic art calling it formulaic unoriginal and repetitious The contributors to Art and the Academy in the Nineteenth Century challenge this entrenched notion and consider how academies worldwide have represented an important system of artistic preservation and transmission Their essays eschew easy binaries that have reigned in academia for more than half a century and that simply oppose the avant garde to academicism Professional Women Painters in Nineteenth-Century Scotland Janice Helland, 2019-06-11 This title was first published in 2000 Women in the 19th century have long been presented as the angel in the house The author re writes this history by investigating the life and working conditions of a number of middle class women who sought to establish themselves as professional artists in Scotland Contrary to the orthodox view preoccupied with oppression and difficulty the author demonstrates that women artists of the period were independent producers teachers and travellers alert to changes in taste and fashion They derived great pleasure from their work and enjoyed the benefits of women working together forming their own and joining existing professional associations The book is not biographical but elaborates on the life and working conditions of middle class artists by discussing their work in terms of economic and social history Gender, Space, and the Gaze in Post-Hausmann Visual Culture Temma Balducci, 2017-03-27 Relying on a range of visual and written sources Gender Space and the Gaze offers fresh ways of considering how masculinity and femininity were lived in late nineteenth century Paris The book moves beyond shopworn dichotomies rooted in Baudelaire s The Painter of Modern Life 1863 that have shaped scholarship on this period Visual Culture John A. Walker, Sarah Chaplin, 1997-12-15 This book is about the expanding realm of visual culture in architecture art design advertising photography film television video theatre performance computer imagery and virtual reality It is also about Visual Culture Studies a relatively new academic discipline or rather range of disciplines that scholars employ to analyse visual artefacts Unlike many other texts on the same subject it foregrounds the visual and is systematic and accessible Visual culture provides an overview of the subject that pays heed to the achievements of both traditional and new theory whilst directing the reader to a large body of literature via references and an extensive bibliography Walker and Chaplin discuss the concepts of the visual and of culture as well as the field and origins of Visual Culture Studies coping with theory models of production and consumption institutions pleasure the canon and concepts of value visual literacy and poetics modes of analysis culture and commerce and new technologies This book is designed for those studying the history and theory of fine arts design and the mass media Gender Space Architecture

diverse range of nations Malaysia China Indonesia Singapore the Philippines India Taiwan Vietnam Hong Kong Korea Japan and Burma Within these 13 national case studies the book presents new arguments about being women being Asian and being modern in contemporary Asia Recent social changes in women s place in society are untangled in recognition that not all change is progress and that not all modernity enhances women s status The authors suggest that the improvements in women s status within the Asian region vary dramatically according to the manner in which women interact with the particular economic and ideological forces in each nation Each contributor has focussed on a particular country in their area of expertise They present innovative arguments relating to the problem of being women in Asia during a period of dramatic social and political changes Each national case study explores key social and economic markers of women s status such as employment rates wage differentials literacy rates and participation in politics or business The effects of population control programs legislation on domestic violence and female infanticide and women s role in the family and the workforce are also discussed The book poses questions as to how women have negotiated these shifts and in the process created a modern Asian woman Specialists from a variety of disciplines including history anthropology sociology demography gender studies and psychology grapple with the complexities and ambivalences presented by the multiple faces of the modern Asian woman Complete with a list of recommended readings and a web site with links to electronic resources the book will be of particular interest to undergraduate students of Asian studies and women s studies as well as scholars and postgraduate students interested in comparative women s studies

Locating Classed Subjectivities Simon Lee, 2022-05-30 Locating Classed Subjectivities explores representations of social class in British fiction through the lens of spatial theory and analysis By analyzing a range of class conscious texts from the nineteenth twentieth and twenty first centuries the collection provides an overview of the way British writers mobilized spatial aesthetics as a means to comment on the intricacies of social class In doing so the collection delineates aesthetic strategies of representation in British writing tracing the development of literary forms while considering how authors mobilized innovative spatial metaphors to better express contingent social and economic realities Ranging in coverage from early nineteenth century narratives of disease to contemporary writing on the working class millennial Locating Classed Subjectivities offers new perspectives on literary techniques and political intentions exploring the way class is parsed and critiqued through British writing across three centuries As such the project responds to Nigel Thrift and Peter Williams s claim that literary and cultural production serves as a particularly rich yet unexamined access point by which to comprehend the way space and social class intersect
