Seeing And Understanding Granada:

Seeing and Understanding Granada ,1989 Enlightenment and Emancipation Susan Manning,Peter France,2006

The Enlightenment has been represented in radically opposing ways on the one hand as the throwing off of the chains of superstition custom and usurped authority on the other hand in the Romantic period but also more recently as what Michel Foucault termed the great confinement in which mind forged manacles imprison the free and irrational spirit The debate about the Enlightenment project remains a topical one which can still arouse fierce passions This collection of essays by distinguished scholars from various disciplines addresses the central question Was Enlightenment a force for emancipation Their responses working from within and frequently across the disciplinary lines of history political science economics music literature aesthetics art history and film reveal unsuspected connections and divergences even between well known figures and texts In their turn the essays suggest the need for further inquiry in areas that turn out to be very far from closed The volume considers major writings in unusual juxtaposition highlights new figures of importance and demonstrates familiar texts to embody strange implications Publisher s website Seeing Spain and Morocco Edward Manuel Newman,1930

Time and Temporalities in European Travel Writing Paula Henrikson,Christina Kullberg,2020-12-10 This book is a collective effort to investigate and problematise notions of time and temporality in European travel writing from the late medieval period up to the late nineteenth century It brings together nine researchers in European travel writing and covers a wide range of areas travel genres and languages coherently integrated around the central theme of time and temporalities Taken together the contributions consider how temporal aspects evolve and change in regard to spatial historical and literary contexts In a chapter by chapter account this volume thus offers various case studies that address the issue of temporality by showing for example how time is inscribed in landscape how travellers encounters with other temporalities informed other disciplines it interrogates the idea of cultural temporalities in regard to a tension between past and future passivity and progression and focuses on how time is entangled in identity construction proper to travelogues Admiration and Awe Antonio Urquizar-Herrera,2017-04-28 This book offers the first systematic analysis of the cultural and religious appropriation of Andalusian architecture by Spanish historians during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries To date this process of Christian appropriation has generally been discussed as a phenomenon of architectural hybridisation However this was a period in which the construction of a Spanish national identity became a key focus of historical discourse As a result cultural hybridity encountered partial opposition from those seeking to establish cultural and religious homogeneity Spain's Islamic past became a major concern in this period and historical writing served as the site for a complex negotiation of identity. Historians and antiquarians used a range of strategies to re appropriate the meaning of medieval Islamic heritage as befitted the new identity of Spain as a Catholic monarchy and empire. On the one hand the monuments' Islamic origin was subjected to historical revisions and re identified as Roman or Phoenician. On the other hand religious forgeries were invented that staked claims for buildings and cities having been founded by Christians prior to the arrival of the Muslims in Spain. Islamic stones were used as core evidence in debates that shaped the early development of archaeology and they also became the centre of a historical controversy about the origin of Spain as a nation as well as its ecclesiastical history.
