The Southern Colonies in the Seventeenth Century, 1607--1689 Wesley Frank Craven, 2015-12-03
This book is Volume I of A HISTORY OF THE SOUTH a ten volume series designed to present a balanced history of all the complex aspects of the South's culture from 1607 to the present Like its companion volumes The Southern Colonies in the Seventeenth Century was written by an outstanding student of Southern history In the America of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries just what was Southern The first colonists looked upon themselves as British and only gradually did those attitudes and traditions develop which were distinctively American To determine what was Southern in the early colonies Professor Craven has searched for those features of early American society which distinguished the South in later years and those features of early American history which help the Southerner to understand himself The Chesapeake colonies Virginia and Maryland formed the first Southern community These colonies grew out of the same interest which directed European imperialism toward Africa and the West Indies notably the production of sugar silk wine and tobacco Craven studies the social economic and political development of the Southern colonies as the product of continuing European rivalries that resulted in the colonization of Carolina and Florida Major emphasis however is placed upon British expansion since Anglo Saxon influence was dominant in the formation of the South as a region Craven sees as crucial the middle period of the seventeenth century Out of the political and social unrest which characterized these years emerged the points of view which gave shape to the American and the Southern tradition
Empire, Religion and Revolution in Early Virginia, 1607-1786 J. Bell, 2013-07-30 The book is a new study that examines the contrasting extension of the Anglican Church to England's first two colonies Ireland and Virginia in the 17th and 18th centuries It discusses the national origins and educational experience of the ministers the financial support of the state and the experience and consequences of the institutions
