storyline During the Cold War the US State Department enlisted some of America's greatest musicians to serve as jazz ambassadors touring the world to trumpet a so called free society Honored as celebrities abroad the jazz ambassadors who were overwhelmingly African Americans returned home to racial discrimination and deferred dreams The Brubecks used this double standard as the central message for the musical deploying humor and pathos to share perspectives on American values On September 23 1962 The Real Ambassadors's stunning debut moved a packed arena at the Monterey Jazz Festival to laughter joy and tears Although critics unanimously hailed the performance it sadly became a footnote in cast members bios The enormous cost of reassembling the star studded cast made the creation impossible to stage and tour However The Real Ambassadors Dave and Iola Brubeck and Louis Armstrong Challenge Segregation caps this jazz story by detailing how the show was triumphantly revived in 2013 by the Detroit Jazz Festival and in 2014 by Jazz at Lincoln Center This reaffirmed the musical's place as an integral part of America's jazz history and served as an important reminder of how artists voices are a powerful force for social change
