lives of ordinary Indian people exploring the ways they were affected by a cataclysmic war with origins far beyond Indian shores In manpower alone India s contribution was staggering it produced the largest volunteer army in world history with 2 5 million men Indians were engaged in making the raw materials and food stuffs needed by the Allies and became involved in the construction of airstrips barracks hospitals internee camps roads and railways Their lives were also profoundly affected by the presence of the large Allied army in the region including not only British but American African and Chinese troops Madras was bombed by the Japanese and the Andaman and Nicobar Islands were occupied while the Bengal famine of 1943 in which perhaps three million Bengalis died was a man made disaster precipitated by the effects of the war This authoritative account offers a critically important look at the contributions of colonial manpower and resources essential to sustaining the war and emphasizes the significant ways in which the conflict shaped modern India To Love and Be
