Women and Mystical Experience in the Middle Ages Frances Beer, 1992 Original and thought provoking study of three medieval women mystics based on writings and biographical material A wholly feminine voice within Catholicism they express the inexpressible better than any amount of rational thinking about God THE TIMES The three women who are the subject of this fascinating study left a rich legacy of medieval spirituality Frances Beer explores their writings and draws on available historical evidence to bring the experience of all three women closer to a 20th century audience She sees Hildegard's perception of her Creator as informed by the heroic ideal while Mechthild's erotic experience seems to show the influence of the minnesingers Julian's experience of tender intimacy with her Lord demonstrates an egalitarian confidence in the ability of the individual soul to progress towards oneness with the divine Their individual natures are also further revealed through the author's examination of their resolution of a number of theological problems In contrast the works of two medieval men writing for women are also explored FRANCES BEER is Associate Professor of English at York University Toronto

Sweet and Blessed Country John Saward, 2008 In Sweet and Blessed Country John Saward takes an altarpiece from fifteenth century Provence as his starting point for a theological exposition of the Christian hope for Heaven The altarpiece Enguerrand Quarton's Coronation of the Virgin was painted for Carthusian monastery and so it is monastic theologians principally Denys the Carthusian who guide Saward in his exploration of the sweet and blessed country in which the angels and saints contemplate the face of God John Saward's book breaks new ground not only in content but also in style and method He discusses a subject eschatology the doctrine of last things which is generally neglected today and although he observes the disciplines of scholarship he also reaches out to a readership beyond the academy This theology of Heaven faithfully rooted in the Catholic tradition offers enlightenment to every Christian who seeks understanding of his hope and encouragement to every human being who yearns for ultimate fulfilment
