Lucien Leuwen 2 The Telegraph:

Lucien Leuwen Stendhal, 1951 The Return of Thematic Criticism Werner Sollors, 1993 In the glory days of high modernist formalism it was anathema to speak about the content of a work of art Those days are gone and critical practice now is largely thematic practice A focus on the themes of literature informs feminist new historicist ethnic and even second generation deconstructionist approaches However such practice is not always recognized The specter of theoretically impoverished positivism still haunts thematic analysis making it the approach to literature that dare not speak its name This volume brings together for the first time an international group of writers critics and theoreticians who have thought deeply about this issue How can we determine the theme of a given text May the focus on form be the theme of a certain moment Can the motif be understood as a formal category What operations permit us to say that three or four texts constitute variants of the same theme The contributors challenge the conventional dismissal of merely thematic approaches and offer the reader different ways of tackling the issue of what a piece of writing is about The work here comes out of such diverse intellectual traditions as Russian film theory French phenomenology Foucault narratology the Frankfurt School intellectual history Geistesgeschichte psychoanalytic criticism linguistics ideological criticism Proppian folklore studies and computerized plot summary models In addition to a collection of aphorisms from Plato to Robert Coover and a group of general and theoretical essays this volume contains examples of practical engagement with such topics as literary history Shakespeare autumn poetry anti-Semitism fading colors bachelors Richard Wagner and the Mexican Revolution No comparable volume exists The Strange Liberalism of Alexis de Tocqueville Roger Boesche, 2019-05-15 The Strange Liberalism of Alexis de Tocqueville places Tocqueville's political thought in the context of his time and place and shows why his ideas defy easy classification Responding to the twentieth century tendency to impose anachronistic political categories on Tocqueville Roger Boesche reminds us that like Stendhal Balzac Hugo Lamartine Flaubert and other writers of his generation he was a nineteenth century Frenchman reacting to contemporary French concerns aspirations and anxieties

Exotics at Home Micaela di Leonardo, 2000-03-16 What is the exotic after all In this study Micaela di Leonardo reveals the face of power within the mask of cultural difference Focusing on the intimate and shifting relations between popular portrayals of exotic Others and the practice of anthropology that profession assumed to be America's Guardian of the Offbeat she casts new light on gender race and the public sphere in America's past and present Chicago's 1893 Columbian World Exposition and today's college town ethnic boutiques frame di Leonardo's century long analysis Telegraphic process in world culture over the past two millennia and more In the English speaking cultures many of the most important texts are translations from Homer to Beckett the Bible to Freud Although recent years have seen a boom in translation studies there has been no comprehensive yet convenient guide to this essential element of literature in English Written by eminent scholars from many countries the Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation meets this need and will be essential reading for all students of English and comparative literature It highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the issues raised making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Korean from Swahili to Russian For some works e g Virgil's Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available The Guide is divided into two parts Part I contains substantial essays on theoretical questions a pioneering outline of the history of translation into English and discussions of the problems raised by specific types of text e g poetry oral literature The second much longer part consists of entries grouped by language of origin some are devoted to individual texts e g the Thousand and One Nights or writers e g Ibsen Proust but the majority offer a critical overview of a genre e g Chinese poetry Spanish Golden Age drama or of a national literature e g Hungarian Scottish Gaelic There is a selective bibliography for each entry and an index of authors and translators

Crossed Wires Dan Schiller, 2023-02-17 A sweeping revisionist historical analysis of telecommunications networks from the dawn of the republic to the 21st century Telecommunications networks are vast intricate hugely costly systems for exchanging messages and information within cities and across continents From the Post Office and the telegraph to today's internet these networks have sown domestic division while also acting as sources of international power In Crossed Wires Dan Schiller who has conducted archival research on US telecommunications for more than forty years recovers the extraordinary social history of the major network systems of the United States Drawing on arrays of archival documents and secondary sources Schiller reveals that this history has been shaped by sharp social and political conflict and is embedded in the larger history of an expansionary US political economy Schiller argues that networks have enabled US imperialism through a recurrent American system of cross border communications Three other key findings wind through the book First business users of networks more than carriers and certainly more than residential users have repeatedly determined how telecommunications systems have developed Second despite their current importance for virtually every sphere of social life networks have been consecrated above all to aiding the circulation of commodities Finally although the preferences of executives and officials have broadly determined outcomes these elites have repeatedly had to contend against the ideas and organizations of workers social movement activists and other reformers This authoritative and comprehensive revisionist history of US telecommunications argues that not technology but a dominative and contested political economy drove the evolution of this critical industry Author - Title Catalog University of California, Berkeley. Library,1963 Real Time David F. Bell,2010-10-01 In Real Time David F Bell explores the decisive impact the accelerated movement of people and information had on the fictions of four giants of French realism Balzac Stendhal Dumas and Zola Nineteenth century technological advances radically altered the infrastructure of France changing the ways ordinary citizens and literary characters viewed time space distance and speed The most influential of these advances included the improvement of the stagecoach the growth of road and canal networks leading to the advent of the railway and the increasing use of mail and of the optical telegraph Citing examples from a wide range of novels and stories Bell demonstrates the numerous ways in which these trends of acceleration became not just literary devices and themes but also structuring principles of the novels themselves Beginning with both the provincial and the Parisian communications networks of Balzac Bell proceeds to discuss the roles of horses and optical telegraphs in Stendhal and the importance of domination of communication channels to the characters of Dumas whose Count of Monte Cristo might be seen as the ultimate fictional master of this accelerated culture Finally Bell analyzes the cinematic vision created by the arrival of the railroad as depicted by Zola in La B te Humaine The National Union Catalogs, 1963- ,1964 Whitaker's Cumulative Book List ,1951 Books in Print ,1991 The Hudson Review Frederick Morgan,Paula Deitz,1950 Books in General Victor Sawdon Pritchett,1953 Collection of thirty four critical essays on classic and contemporary books most of which first appeared in The New Statesman and Nation Books in Print Supplement ,2002 Reference Guide to World Literature Tom Pendergast,2003 Covers writers from the ancient Greeks to 20th century authors Includes biographical bibliographical entries on nearly 500 writers and approximately 550 entries focusing on significant works of world literature Each author entry provides a detailed overview of the writer s life and works Work entries cover a particular piece of world literature in detail The Cumulative Book Index ,1991 A world list of books in the English language Dictionary Catalog of the Research Libraries of the New York Public Library, 1911-1971 New York Public Library.
