Data Visualization, Part 1 Tarek Azzam, Stephanie Evergreen, 2013-09-20 Do you communicate data and information to stakeholders This issue is Part 1 of a two part series on data visualization and evaluation In Part 1 we introduce recent developments in the quantitative and qualitative data visualization field and provide a historical perspective on data visualization its potential role in evaluation practice and future directions It discusses Quantitative visualization methods such as tree maps Sparklines Web based interactive visualization Different types of qualitative data visualizations along with examples in various evaluation contexts A toolography describing additional data visualization tools and software along with their major strengths and limitations. Intended as a guidance for understanding and designing data visualizations, this issue introduces fundamental concepts and links them to daily practice. This is the 139th volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Evaluation, an official publication of the American Evaluation Association. Digital Design Stephen Eskilson, 2023-10-17. A groundbreaking history of digital design from the nineteenth century to today. Digital design has emerged as perhaps the most dynamic force in society, occupying a fluid experimental space where product design intersects with art, film, business, engineering, theater, music, and artificial intelligence. Stephen Eskilson traces the history of digital design from its precursors in the nineteenth century to its technological and cultural ascendancy today, providing a multifaceted account of a digital revolution that touches all aspects of our lives. We live in a time when silicon processors, miniaturization, and CAD-enhanced 3D design have transformed the tangible world of cars and coffee makers, as well as the screen world on our phones, computers, and game systems. Eskilson provides invaluable historical perspective to help readers better understand how digital design has become such a vibrant feature of the contemporary landscape. He covers topics ranging from graphic and product design to type, web design, architecture, data visualization, and virtual reality. Along the way, he paints compelling portraits of key innovators behind this transformation, from foundational figures such as Marshall McLuhan, Nam June Paik, and April Greiman to those mapping new frontiers such as Jeanne Gang, Jony Ive, Yugo Nakamura, Neri Oxman, and Jewel Burks Solomon. Bringing together an unprecedented array of sources on digital design, this comprehensive and richly illustrated book reveals how many of the digital practices we think of as cutting edge actually originated in the analog age and how the history of digital design is as much about our changing relationship to forms as the forms themselves. Catalog United States Armed Forces Institute, 1971. Dashboards and Widgets Creation Guide for MicroStrategy 9.5 MicroStrategy Product Manuals, MicroStrategy, 2015-02-01. The Dashboards and Widgets Guide provides instructions for designing and creating MicroStrategy Report Services dashboards, a type of document that is optimized for viewing online and for user interactivity. It builds on the basic concepts about documents presented in the Document Creation Guide. Map Index Nihar R Pradhan, 2022-05-06. MAP index is a uniquely designed management framework for systematically managing best practices in business organizations. Much like a physical map, the MAP index shows the direction and guides the organizations in creating a high performance work environment. The fundamental properties of a map are mapped to the model of the MAP index. It indicates the current state of practices and stage of the organization's performance, what it needs to do to go the full distance, and what is the best possible way to reach the desired destination. As a map is the most valuable tool in the hands of an explorer, so is the MAP index, which can become the most valuable tool in the hands of the managers. It can help managers solve problems faster, make better decisions, and make their organization the best in class business organization.
