Oracle Bones From The White And Other Collections:

Oracle Bones from the White and Other Collections, 1979 殷墟書契前編 Royal Ontario Museum, Chin-hsiung Hsü, Jinxiong Xu, 1979 The Oracle Bone Inscriptions from Huayuanzhuang East Adam C. Schwartz, 2019-11-18 Since 1899 more than 73 000 pieces of inscribed divination shell and bone have been found inside the moated enclosure of the Anyang core at the former capital of the late Shang state Nearly all of these divinations were done on behalf of the Shang kings and has led to the apt characterization that oracle bone inscriptions describe their motivations experiences and priorities There are however much smaller sets of divination accounts that were done on behalf of members of the Shang elite other than the king First noticed in the early 1930 s grouped and periodized shortly thereafter oracle bone inscriptions produced explicitly by or on behalf of royal family groups reveal information about key aspects of daily life in Shang society that are barely even mentioned in Western scholarship The newly published Huayuanzhuang East Oracle Bone inscriptions are a spectacular addition to the corpus of texts from Anyang hundreds of intact or largely intact turtle shells and bovine scapulae densely inscribed with records of the divinations in which they were used They were produced on the behalf of a mature prince of the royal family whose parents both alive and still very much active almost certainly were the twenty first Shang king Wu Ding r c 1200 B C and his consort Lady Hao fu Hao The Huayuanzhuang East corpus is an unusually homogeneous set of more than two thousand five hundred divination records produced over a short period of time on behalf of a prince of the royal family There are typically multiple records of divinations regarding the same or similar topics that can be synchronized together which not only allows for remarkable access into the esoteric world of divination practice but also produce micro reconstructions of what is essentially East Asia s earliest and most complete day and month planner Because these texts are unusually linguistically transparent and well preserved homogeneous in orthography and content and published to an unprecedentedly high standard they are also ideal material for learning to read and interpret early epigraphic texts The Huayuanzhuang East oracle bone inscriptions are a tremendously important Shang archive of material documents that were produced by a previously unknown divination and scribal organization They expose us to an entirely fresh set of perspectives and preoccupations centering on a member of the royal family at the commencement of China s historical period The completely annotated English translation of the inscriptions is the first of its kind and is a vibrant new source of Shang history that can be accessed to rewrite and supplement what we know about early Chinese civilization and life in the ancient world Before the discerning reader are the motives preoccupations and experiences of a late Shang prince working simultaneously in service both for his Majesty his parents and his own family Pattern Recognition and Computer Vision Zhouchen Lin, Ming-Ming Cheng, Ran He, Kurban Ubul, Wushouer Silamu, Hongbin Zha, Jie Zhou, Cheng-Lin Liu, 2024-11-02 This 15 volume set LNCS 15031 15045 constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 7th Chinese Conference on Pattern Recognition and Computer Vision PRCV 2024 held in Urumqi China during October 18 20 2024 The 579 full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 1526 submissions The papers cover various topics in the broad areas of pattern recognition and computer vision including machine learning pattern classification and cluster analysis neural network and deep learning low level vision and image processing object detection and recognition 3D vision and reconstruction action recognition video analysis and understanding document analysis and recognition biometrics medical image analysis and various applications

A Legacy of Elegance Li Zongkun, 2017-10-15 This publication is the product of several auspicious occasions United College celebrated its sixtieth anniversary in 2016 2017 and the Chinese University of Hong Kong Library marked this occasion by carrying out preservation work and cataloguing the collection of fortyfour oracle bones which comprised the majority of this study The remaining twentyseven oracle bones belong to the Art Museum which is pleased to publish them jointly to celebrate the golden anniversary of the Institute of Chinese Studies of which the museum is an integral part This year also marks the fortieth anniversary of the Chinese University Press These milestones occasion the tripartite collaboration

Chinese Annals in the Western Observatory Edward Shaughnessy, 2019-11-18 Since the beginning of the twentieth century hundreds of thousands of documents of all sorts have been unearthed in China opening whole new fields of study and transforming our modern understanding of ancient China While these discoveries have necessarily taken place in China Western scholars have also contributed to the study of these documents throughout this entire period This book provides a comprehensive survey of the contributions of these Western scholars to the field of Chinese paleography and especially to study of oracle bone inscriptions bronze and stone inscriptions and manuscripts written on bamboo and silk Each of these topics is provided with a comprehensive narrative history of studies by Western scholars as well as an exhaustive bibliography and biographies of important scholars in the field It is also supplied with a list of Chinese translations of these studies as well as a complete index of authors and their works Whether the reader is interested in the history of ancient China ancient Chinese paleographic documents or just in the history of the study of China as it has developed in the West this book provides one of the most complete accounts available to date

Origins of Ancient Chinese Civilization Xueqin Li, 2024-07-24 This book presents detailed research regarding the Xia Shang and Zhou dynasties including studies of inscriptions on bones or tortoise shells bronzeware bamboo scripts and silk manuscripts in order to demonstrate the main features of various historical periods during the establishment and development of ancient Chinese civilization based on an a view of ancient Chinese civilization studies as a whole The book consists of three sections with a total of 38 essays The first section provides a macro level overview of the formation and development history of ancient Chinese civilization the second section covering general topics examines the specific characteristics of early Chinese civilization from Emperors Yan and Huang to the Eastern Zhou Dynasty Lastly the appendix features 7 articles including a short biography of the author

Early Chinese Religion, Part One: Shang through Han (1250 BC-220 AD) (2 vols.) John Lagerwey, Marc

Kalinowski,2008-10-31 Together and for the first time in any language the 24 essays gathered in these volumes provide a composite picture of the history of religion in ancient China from the emergence of writing ca 1250 BC to the collapse of the first major imperial dynasty in 220 AD It is a multi faceted tale of changing gods and rituals that includes the emergence of a form of secular humanism that doubts the existence of the gods and the efficacy of ritual and of an imperial orthodoxy that founds its legitimacy on a distinction between licit and illicit sacrifices Written by specialists in a variety of disciplines the essays cover such subjects as divination and cosmology exorcism and medicine ethics and self cultivation mythology taboos sacrifice shamanism burial practices iconography and political philosophy Produced under the aegis of the Centre de recherche sur les civilisations chinoise japonaise et tib taine UMR 8155 and the cole Pratique des Hautes tudes Paris

Sources of Shang History David N. Keightley,1985 The Case for Repatriating China's Cultural Objects Zuozhen Liu,2016-02-25 This book investigates China s demands for the repatriation of Chinese cultural relics lost during the country s modern history It addresses two main research questions Can the original owners or their rightful successors of cultural objects looted stolen or illicitly exported before the adoption of the 1954 Hague Convention and the 1970 UNESCO Convention reclaim their cultural objects pursuant to remedies provided by international or national law And what are the philosophical ethical and cultural considerations of identity underlying the international conventions protecting cultural objects and claims made for repatriating them The first part of the book explores current positive legal regimes while the second part focuses on the philosophical ethical and cultural considerations regarding repatriation of cultural objects Consisting of seven chapters and an introduction it outlines the loss of Chinese cultural relics in modern history and the normative framework for the protection of cultural heritage It presents case studies designed to assess the possibility of seeking legal remedies for restitution under contemporary legal regimes and examines the cultural and ethical issues underpinning the international conventions protecting cultural heritage and claims for the repatriation of cultural heritage It also discusses issues of cultural identity the right to cultural identity and heritage multiculturalism the politics of recognition cosmopolitanism the right to cultural heritage and other related issues The concluding chapter answers the two research questions and offers suggestions for future research Bulletin Östasiatiska museet,1998 The Oxford Handbook of Early China Elizabeth Childs-Johnson,2020 A chronological and interdisciplinary study of early China from the Neolithic through Warring States periods ca 5000 500BCE Chinese Language, Thought, and Culture P. J. Ivanhoe,1996 This collection of essays by leading sinologists historians and philosophers both challenges and extends the work of David Nivison whose contributions range across moral philosophy religious thought intellectual history and Chinese language Nivison himself replies to each essay Space, Time, Myth, and Morals: A Selection of Jao Tsung-i's Studies on Cosmological Thought in Early China and Beyond Tsung-i Jao,2022-09-12 The articles assembled in this volume present an important selection of Professor Jao Tsung i s research in the field of the early Chinese intellectual tradition especially as it concerns the human condition Whether his focus is on myth religion philosophy or morals Jao consistently aims to describe how the series of developments broadly associated with the Axial Age unfolded in China He is particularly interested in showing how early China had developed its own notion of transcendence as well as a system of prediction and morals that enabled man to act autonomously without recourse to divine providence The Shaping of the Book of Songs Chen Zhi,2023-05-31 The present work is a study on the formation of the Shih ching The author poses the hypothesis that this collection of poems as the standard music and literature passed down to later generations initially incorporated different cultural heritages through a process which moved from ritualization to secularization as well as standardization to localization In aiming to find the origins of the division of the Shih ching into sections and subsections and their titles as Nan Feng Ya and Sung the author employs an interdisciplinary methodology combining ethno musicological methods with paleography philology and archaeology He draws on new archaeological data of the past two decades that has shed new light on the Shih ching

Sages and Filial Sons Julia Ching,R. W. L. Guisso,1991 Picturing Heaven in Early China Lillian Lan-ying Tseng,2020-03-17 Tian or Heaven had multiple meanings in early China It had been used since the Western Zhou to indicate both the sky and the highest god and later came to be regarded as a force driving the movement of the cosmos and as a home to deities and imaginary animals By the Han dynasty which saw an outpouring of visual materials depicting Heaven the concept of Heaven encompassed an immortal realm to which humans could ascend after death Using excavated materials Lillian Tseng shows how Han artisans transformed various notions of Heaven as the mandate the fantasy and the sky into pictorial entities The Han Heaven was not indicated by what the artisans looked at but rather was suggested by what they looked into Artisans attained the visibility of Heaven by appropriating and modifying related knowledge of cosmology mythology astronomy Thus the depiction of Heaven in Han China reflected an interface of image and knowledge By examining Heaven as depicted in ritual buildings on household utensils and in the embellishments of funerary settings Tseng maintains that visibility can hold up a mirror to visibility Heaven was culturally constructed and should be culturally reconstructed Chinese History Endymion Porter Wilkinson,2000 Endymion Wilkinson s bestselling manual of Chinese history has long been an indispensable guide to all those interested in the civilization and history of China In this latest edition now in a bigger format its scope has been dramatically enlarged by the addition of one million words of new text Twelve years in the making the new manual introduces students to different types of transmitted excavated and artifactual sources from prehistory to the twentieth century It also examines the context in which the sources were produced preserved and received the problems of research and interpretation associated with them and the best most up to date secondary works Because the writing of history has always played a central role in Chinese politics and culture special attention is devoted to the strengths and weaknesses of Chinese historiography Time and Ritual in Early China Thomas O. Höllmann,2009 This is the publication of proceedings from the conference Writing Ritual and Cultural Memory in Early States which took place in Munich in November 2007 It is dedicated to the German Sinologist Herbert Franke on the occasion of his 95th birthday on September 27th of 2009 The papers contained in this book examine ways in which time and ritual mutually stimulated each other in Early China Attention is also paid to the role played by writing in encoding the calendar system and in the notation of time and how time and history were linked Most authors make use of archaeologically excavated inscriptions and try to coordinate them with received texts of Confucian classics Their philological and historical examinations lead to in depth views of the cultural complexity of early Chinese civilization as well as its non linear development Questions raised provide new perspectives and stimuli for future studies
