Longevity and Genius Charles Kassel,1920 Age of Conquests Angelos Chaniotis,2018-02-05 The world that Alexander remade in his lifetime was transformed once more by his death in 323 BCE His successors reorganized Persian lands to create a new empire stretching from the eastern Mediterranean as far as present day Afghanistan while in Greece and Macedonia a fragile balance of power repeatedly dissolved into war Then from the late third century BCE to the end of the first Rome s military and diplomatic might successively dismantled these post Alexandrian political structures one by one During the Hellenistic period c 323 30 BCE small polities struggled to retain the illusion of their identity and independence in the face of violent antagonism among large states With time trade growth resumed and centers of intellectual and artistic achievement sprang up across a vast network from Italy to Afghanistan and Russia to Ethiopia But the death of Cleopatra in 30 BCE brought this Hellenistic moment to a close or so the story goes In Angelos Chaniotis s view however the Hellenistic world continued to Hadrian s death in 138 CE Not only did Hellenistic social structures survive the coming of Rome Chaniotis shows but social economic and cultural trends that were set in motion between the deaths of Alexander and Cleopatra intensified during this extended period Age of Conquests provides a compelling narrative of the main events that shaped ancient civilization during five crucial centuries Many of these developments globalization the rise of megacities technological progress religious diversity and rational governance have parallels in our world today

Gaius meets Cicero Tessa G. Leesen,2010-09-24 Gaius Meets Cicero Law and Rhetoric in the School Controversies sheds new light on a much debated issue in the field of Roman law i e the so called school controversies between the Sabinians and the Proculians Tessa Leesen rejects the general assumption in modern literature that the two schools each adhered to a fundamentally different theoretical conception of law She argues that the school controversies as described in Gaius Institutiones arose in legal practice when the heads of the two schools were consulted by two conflicting parties and each gave opposing advice In order to make their opinions persuasive the jurists were in need of adequate arguments For this purpose they made use of rhetoric and of the argumentative theory of topoi as described in Cicero's Topica Pergamon and the Hellenistic Kingdoms of the Ancient World Carlos A.
