Orchard A Memoir:

The Orchard Adele Crockett Robertson, 1997 Recounts a young single woman's laborious struggle to save her New England apple orchard from going under during the Depression

The Orchard Theresa Weir, 2011-09-21 The Orchard is the story of a street smart city girl who must adapt to a new life on an apple farm after she falls in love with Adrian Curtis the golden boy of a prominent local family whose lives and orchards seem to be cursed Married after only three months young Theresa finds life with Adrian on the farm far more difficult and dangerous than she expected Rejected by her husband's family as an outsider she slowly learns for herself about the isolated world of farming pesticides environmental destruction and death even as she falls more deeply in love with her husband a man she at first hardly knew and the land that has been in his family for generations She becomes a reluctant player in their attempt to keep the codling moth from destroying the orchard but she and Adrian eventually come to know that their efforts will not only fail but will ultimately take an irreparable toll

The Orchard Adele Crockett Robertson, 2023 A stirring memoir of a young single woman's laborious struggle to save her family's New England apple farm from going under during the Great Depression The Orchard is an exquisitely beautiful and poignant memoir of a young woman's single handed struggle to save her New England farm in the depths of the Great Depression Discovered by the author's daughter after the author's death it tells the story of Adele Kitty Robertson young and energetic but unprepared by her Radcliffe education for the rigors of apple farming in those bitter years of the early 1930s Alone at the end of a country road with only a Great Dane for company plagued by debts broken machinery and killing frosts Kitty revives the old orchard after years of neglect Every day is a struggle but every day she is also rewarded by the beauty of the world and the unexpected kindness of neighbors and hired workers Animated by quiet courage and simple goodness The Orchard stands as a deeply moving celebration of decency and beauty in the midst of grim prospects and crushing poverty In addition to a foreword and epilogue by Betsy Robertson Cramer the author's daughter this Nonpareil edition includes a new afterword by award winning author Jane Brox

The Artist and the Orchard: A Memoir Linda Hoffman, 2021-11 Artist Linda Hoffman saved an orchard and reshaped her life at Old Frog Pond Farm in Harvard Massachusetts When she moved to the farm she didn't know anything about apple growing More than twenty years later the farm is one of the few organic pick your own orchards in New England as well as a hub for a thriving community of visual artists writers and spiritual seekers Hoffman the mother of three children a Zen practitioner and a breast cancer survivor has now written about her extraordinary journey in The Artist and the Orchard A Memoir

The Final Note, 2013 OK2BG

Jack Dunsmoor, 2015 OK2BG is narrative nonfiction a Memoir about a guy who wants to be a Mentor preferably to a teenager so they can have a decent meaningful conversation about stuff preferably with a kid at risk or just otherwise lost in order to help both the teenager as well as the determined subject of this story realize their unique potential find or reinforce their place in the world Overall a chronicle about the author's attempt over several years to understand the question of why do I want to be a Mentor which eventually helps him become a more insightful person Subsequently in September 2010 after a plague of teen suicides Jack turns his attention to researching gay biographies into optimistically appropriate groups of books for gay kids at risk from bullying After 5 years Jack has categorized 2 000 books in the form of Memoirs Biographies Autobiographies written by or about 1 000 allegedly gay men The primary message in OK2BG is to read reassess before you run asunder

A Bushel's Worth Kayann Short, 2013 NAUTILUS BOOK AWARD WINNER A heartfelt meditation on farm food and family a love story of the land and a life spent caring for it HANNAH NORDHAUS author of The Beekeeper's Lament In this love story of land and family Kayann Short explores her farm roots from her grandparents North Dakota homesteads to her own Stonebridge Farm an organic community supported farm on the Colorado Front Range where small scale local agriculture borrows lessons of the past to cultivate sustainable communities for the future

Writing the Land Daniel G. Payne, 2009-05-05 At the time of his death in 1921 John Burroughs 1837-1921 was America's most beloved nature writer a best selling author whose friends and admirers included Walt Whitman Theodore Roosevelt John Muir Henry Ford and Thomas Edison Burroughs was second only to Emerson in fostering the nature study movement of the nineteenth century and the popularity of his work inspired Houghton Mifflin to publish or reissue the work of numerous other nature writers including that of Thoreau and Muir His first collection of essays Wake Robin was published in 1871 and over the next fifty years Burroughs wrote almost two dozen books and hundreds of essays not only on nature but on literature travel philosophy religion and science By the turn of the century Burroughs was America's most beloved nature writer whose friends and admirers included Walt Whitman Theodore Roosevelt John Muir Henry Ford and Thomas Edison Burroughs died in 1921 while on a train ride back to his New York from California His final words Are we home yet were a remarkably fitting coda to the career of a writer so closely identified with his native Catskill region of New York State In many of his essays Burroughs explores the woods and fields of home and in doing so like Henry Thoreau and his explorations of Concord Massachusetts he transcends the local and examines the universal theme of our relation with nature and our native landscape Burroughs's emphasis on place and the local now seems modern once again as the current interest in bioregionalism and climate change demonstrates it has become increasingly evident that thinking locally is thinking globally Since 1992 the SUNY College at Oneonta has hosted the biannual John Burroughs Nature Conference and Seminar Sharp Eyes which honors the influence of Burroughs on American nature writing Distinguished keynote speakers who have addressed the conference include John Elder John Tallmadge Joy Harjo Robin Wall Kimmerer Edward Kanze James Perrin Warren and Edward J. Renshan Jr The scope of the conference is not limited solely to Burroughs however as each year the writers and scholars in attendance direct their attention toward a particular issue of significance to contemporary nature writers and scholars of environmental literature The theme of this collection Writing the Land: John Burroughs and his Legacy was featured in the 2006 conference and includes essays on John Burroughs as well as essays on the work of other writers who like Burroughs are linked closely through their work to a particular landscape or region The third and final section of this book features invited essays by three distinguished scholars John Tallmadge Robert Beuka and Charlotte Zo Walker who consider the topic of what writing about the land and nature means from three different perspectives urban suburban and rural Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margareta Jolly, 2013-12-04 First published in 2001 This is the first substantial reference work in English on the various forms that constitute life writing As this term suggests the Encyclopedia explores not only autobiography and biography proper but also letters diaries memoirs family histories case histories and other ways in which individual lives have been recorded and structured It includes entries on genres and subgenres national and regional traditions from around the world and important auto biographical writers as well as articles on related areas such as oral history anthropology testimonies and the representation of life stories in non verbal art forms Repossessing the World Helen M. Buss, 2006-01-01 Why does it seem as if everyone is writing memoirs and particularly women The current popularity of memoir verifies the common belief that we each have a story to tell And we do especially women Memoirs are not only representations of women s personal lives but also of their desire to repossess important parts of our culture in which women s stories have not mattered Beginning with her own motivations for writing memoirs Helen M Buss examines the many kinds of memoir written by contemporary women memoirs about growing up memoirs about traumatic events about relationships about work In writing memoirs these women publicly assert that their lives have mattered They reshape the memoir a form as old as the middle ages and as young as today into a social discourse that blends the personal with the political the self with the significant other literature with history and fiction with autobiography and essay Buss urges readers to use their reading experience to help themselves understand and write the significance of their own lives Repossessing the World is the first book length critical inquiry into women s use of a form that has often been dismissed as less important than autobiography less professional than the novel and less intellectual than the formal essay Buss demonstrates that the memoir makes its own art not only through selective borrowing from these genres but also through the unique way that the tripartite narrative voice of the memoir constructs the personal and public experience of the memoirist as significant to our cultural moment Pea Ridge William L. Shea, Earl J. Hess, 2011-06-08 The 1862 battle of Pea Ridge in northwestern Arkansas was one of the largest Civil War engagements fought on the western frontier and it dramatically altered the balance of power in the Trans Mississippi This study of the battle is based on research in archives from Connecticut to California and includes a pioneering study of the terrain of the sprawling battlefield as well as an examination of soldiers personal experiences the use of Native American troops and the role of Pea Ridge in regional folklore A model campaign history that merits recognition as a major contribution to the literature on Civil War military operations Journal of Military History Shines welcome light on the war s largest battle west of the Mississippi USA Today With its exhaustive research and lively prose style this military study is virtually a model work of its kind Publishers Weekly A thoroughly researched and well told account of an important but often neglected Civil War encounter Kirkus Reviews Offers the rich tactical detail maps and order of battle that military scholars love but retains a very readable style combined with liberal use of recollections of the troops and leaders involved Library Journal This book is assured of a place among the best of all studies that have been published on Civil War campaigns American Historical Review Destined to become a Civil War classic and a model for writing military history Civil War History A campaign study of a caliber that all should strive for and few will equal Journal of American History An excellent and detailed book in all accounts scholarly and readable with both clear writing and excellent analysis Utterly essential for any serious student of the Civil War Civil War News

His Heart Was in His Orchard William Sarnoff, 2019-10-15 William Sarnoff popular Oregon Humorist continues his mission of making readers laugh out loud This latest collection elevates the art of storytelling to a memorable experience as the author recreates moments of people and events deliciously remembered that linger like dark Belgian chocolate

An Orchard in the Apple Barbara L. Reid, 2017-08-26 Love and dysfunction were the hallmarks of the family With humor and affection Barbara describes the unique courtship of her parents two strong minded individuals who created a surprisingly coherent family unit and improved the community through their talents Her beloved grandparents formed the hub of a tribe of lively aunts uncles and cousins Threads of intellectual accomplishment were interwoven with a rural lifestyle The beauty of the Pacific Northwest forms the rich background of these growing up stories Barbara born in the first year of the postwar baby boom loved the land woods beach and especially the orchard Apples showed up everywhere apple cider apple pie applesauce apple salad hard green apples and overripe apples Garden produce wild berries ferry boats and breathtaking sunsets rubbed elbows with siblings cousins and neighbors in a generous crazy quilt This abundance became the foundation of Barbara s physical and spiritual strength As she developed her own viewpoints she gleaned some extraordinary insights from an ordinary life

New Poetics of Chekhov's Major Plays Harai Golomb, 2014-01-01 This text attempts to map the unique structure and meaning that comprise Chekhov s immensely rich artistic universe The prime components of his theatrical technique and fictional world are explored to uncover the basic principles governing the Chekhov s universe
