inability of grand theories to make sense of international relations in postcolonial societies and argues to engage in such restructuring in the domain of ontology. This is done by making a historical sociological defence toward adopting mid level theories in IR. It is a critique of the meta theoretical foundations of Kenneth Waltz's grand theory of neorealism by pivoting itself upon the framework of postcolonial ontology. Dwelling upon Mohammed Ayoob's mid level theory of subaltern realism it argues for undertaking the task of restructuring International Relations at the level of meta theory largely in the sphere of ontology. It explains how the thrust of grand theories such as neorealism on ontological singularity can be circumvented. Owing to this International Relations can experience a meta theoretical transformation that may manifest in the broader engagement of the discipline itself with the very conception of ontological multiplicity.
