Ordinary Time Cycles In Marriage Faith And Renewal:

Ordinary Time Nancy Mairs, 1993 In Ordinary Time Nancy Mairs brings her trademark directness to the subject of religion. Themes that bring out piety and sentimentality in many writers Mairs treats with all her usual outspokenness, candor, and courage. Mairs is a passionate questioner and storyteller, and above all Ordinary Time is writing firmly rooted in the messy realities and questions of the ordinary time of one woman's life. Mairs's marriage is in many ways at the center of the book. My spirit has been schooled in wedlock, and she draws a portrait of her life with her husband that is detailed in a way rarely seen in personal writing. She shows us moments of marital despair in Here Grace for instance, but also the details of the way toward clarity and reconciliation. Mairs writes with wit, exactitude, and intelligence about her conversion from a devout New England Protestant teenager, a bit mystically inclined, to an unorthodox activist Catholic in the Southwest, about her commitment to feminism two years later, and about her uneasy dual identity as Catholic and feminist, about run-ins with monomaniacal priests, about her husband's cancer and her own disease, about women and the Church, about charity and the body, about raising children, about understanding God's will, and imagining death.

The Religious Imagination of American Women Mary Farrell Bednarowski, 1999-10-22 This book is a nuanced discussion of contemporary feminist thought in a variety of religious traditions. It draws from both academic and popular writings and offers a rich selection of books to pursue on one's own. Re Imagining This remarkable book examines American women's religious thought in many diverse faith traditions. This is a cogent, provocative, even moving analysis. Publishers Weekly This study of the fruits of many different women's religious thought offers insights into the ways women may be shaping American religious ideas and world views at the end of the twentieth century. At its broadest, this book presents a multi-voiced response to the question: When women across many traditions are heard speaking theologically publicly and self-consciously as women, what do they have to say?

Sex, Love, and Families Julie Hanlon Rubio, Jason Edward King, 2020-03-30 2021 Association of Catholic Publishers first place award in theology 2021 Catholic Media Association Award first place award in marriage and family living Six years into the papacy of Pope Francis, Catholics are still figuring out how to respond to his image of the church as a field hospital, a church that goes into the streets rather than remaining locked up behind closed doors. Marriage and family are primary sites of the field hospital called to meet people's need for healing and accompaniment with compassion and love. The authors of this collection all lay a mix of single and married traditional and progressive Catholics take up this work. They offer practical wisdom from and critical engagement with the Catholic tradition but avoid rehashing decades-old theological debates. Instead, their essays engage with and respond to realities shaping contemporary family life: like religious pluralism, technology, migration, racism, sex and gender, incarceration, consumerism, and the call to holiness. The result is a collection that envisions ways that families can be places of healing and love in and for the world.

A Gentler God Doug Frank, 2020-07-09 What is God like Is he the lofty Almighty of conservative religion with power to stop heartbreaking human holocausts and deadly natural disasters but who inexplicably declines to do so Is he the callous Judge offering the faithful a place in his heaven while summarily casting the faithless into everlasting hell Is he the vain King on his throne requiring us to stroke his ego by praising him unceasingly for his awesome power If this is the God we have been taught it is no wonder that many people have come to realize that they do not like let alone trust him The simple certainties of their childhood no longer make sense But the equally assured assertions of today's atheists also leave them cold They want a personal connection with God an honest faith that grows out of their own felt truth and touches them at the deepest levels of their being This book points the way It dismantles the angry punitive God of traditional Protestantism and beckons us toward a kinder more welcoming God This God does not ask us to grit our teeth and try our best to believe Instead this God meets us in our humanity inviting our hearts to respond in genuine trust and love

The Wounded Storyteller Arthur W. Frank, 2022-12-22 Updated second edition A bold and imaginative book which moves our thinking about narratives of illness in new directions Sociology of Health and Illness Since it was first published in 1995 The Wounded Storyteller has occupied a unique place in the body of work on illness A collective portrait of a so called remission society of those who suffer from illness or disability as well as a cogent analysis of their stories within a larger framework of narrative theory Arthur W Frank's book has reached a large and diverse readership including the ill medical professionals and scholars of literary theory Drawing on the work of such authors as Oliver Sacks Anatole Broyard Norman Cousins and Audre Lorde as well as from people he met during the years he spent among different illness groups Frank recounts a stirring collection of illness stories ranging from the well known Gilda Radner's battle with ovarian cancer to the private testimonials of people with cancer chronic fatigue syndrome and disabilities Their stories are more than accounts of personal suffering They abound with moral choices and point to a social ethic In this new edition Frank adds a preface describing the personal and cultural times when the first edition was written His new afterword extends the book's argument significantly discussing storytelling and experience other modes of illness narration and a version of hope that is both realistic and aspirational Reflecting on his own life during the creation of the first edition and the conclusions of the book itself he reminds us of the power of storytelling as

way to understand our own suffering Arthur W Frank's second edition of The Wounded Storyteller provides instructions for use of this now classic text in the study of illness narratives Rita Charon author of Narrative Medicine Frank sees the value of illness narratives not so much in solving clinical conundrums as in addressing the question of how to live a good life Christianity Today Taking Back God Leora Tanenbaum, 2008-12-23 In Taking Back God Leora Tanenbaum recounts the stories of women across the United States starting with herself who love their religion but hate their second class status within it If you've witnessed the preferential treatment of men in America's houses of worship you will not be surprised to learn that there is a surge of women in this country rising up and demanding religious equality More and more religious women Christian Muslim and Jewish are declaring that they expect to be treated as equals in the religious sphere They want the same meaningful spiritual connections enjoyed by their brothers fathers husbands and sons They embrace the word of God but are critical of their faith's male oriented theology and liturgy They reject the conventional interpretations of religious traditions that give women a different and to their minds lesser status Rather than abandoning their faith they are taking it back and making it stronger transforming religion while maintaining tradition Tanenbaum relates the experiences of Catholics evangelical and mainline Protestants Muslims and observant Jews The conflict they face honoring tradition while expanding it to synchronize with modern values is ultimately one that all people of faith grapple with today Writing Catholic Women J. DelRosso, 2016-04-30 Writing Catholic Women examines the interplay of gender race ethnicity nationality and sexuality through the lens of Catholicism in a wide range of works by women writers forging interdisciplinary connections among women's studies religion and late twentieth century literature Discussing a diverse group of authors Jeana DelRosso posits that the girlhood narratives of such writers constitute highly charged sites of their differing gestures toward Catholicism and argues that an understanding of the ways in which women write about religion from different cultural and racial contexts offers a crucial contribution to current discussions in gender ethnic and cultural studies

Disability's Challenge to Theology Devan Stahl, 2022-08-15 Disability's Challenge to Theology uses insights from disability studies to understand in a deeper way the ethical implications that genetic technologies pose for Christian thought Theologians have been debating genetic engineering for decades but what has been missing from many theological debates is a deep concern for persons with genetic disabilities In this ambitious and stimulating book Devan Stahl argues that engagement with metaphysics and a theology of nature is crucial for Christians to evaluate both genetic science and the moral use of genetic technologies such as human genetic engineering gene therapy genetic screenings preimplantation genetic diagnosis and gene editing Using theological notions of creation ex nihilo and natural law alongside insights from disability studies Stahl seeks to recast the debate concerning genetic well being Following the work of Stanley Hauerwas Stahl proposes the church as the locus for reimagining disability in a way that will significantly influence the debates concerning genetic therapies Christianity has all too frequently been complicit in excluding degrading and marginalizing people with disabilities but the new Christian metaphysics developed here provides normative theological guidance on the use of genetic technologies today Only by heeding the voices of people with disabilities can Christians remain faithful to the call to find Christ in the least of these and from there draw closer to God Your Life as Story Tristine Rainer,1998-04-13 In Your Life As Story autobiography expert Tristine Rainer explains how we can all find the important messages in our lives Like Mary Karr or Frank McCourt we can shape those stories into dramatic narratives that are compelling to others Blending literary scholarship with practical coaching Rainer shares her remarkable techniques for finding the essentials of story structure within your life s scattered experiences Most important she explains how to treasure the struggles in your past and discover the meaning within those experiences to capture the unique myth at work in your life Patient Listening Loreen Herwaldt,2017-01-01 From the fictional portrayal of Dr Gregory House to Jerome Groopman s bestseller How Doctors Think both medical professionals and the general public recognize that there is more to the doctor s job than technical practice Yet why do so many patients come away from their doctors offices feeling dissatisfied with their interactions In this welcome addition to the growing field of narrative medicine physician Loreen Herwaldt uses the illness narratives of two dozen writer patients to teach listening skills to medical students residents physicians and other health care providers Herwaldt skillfully pares each narrative down to its most basic elements rendering them into powerful found poems that she has used successfully in her role as a teacher and in her own practice Drawing from narratives by writers who are both emerging and well known including Oliver Sacks Richard Selzer and Mary Swander each poem reveals the experience of illness and treatment from the patient s perspective Patient Listening includes a detailed general introduction and a how to guide that will prove invaluable in the classroom and in clinical practice This book will inspire thoughtfulness in everyone who reads it It is also designed to foster discussions about all aspects of the patient experience from ethics to stigmatization to health insurance Patient Listening is not just about bedside manner but also about how health care providers can gain the most from their interactions with patients and in turn offer more appropriate treatments develop more cooperative and responsive relationships with their patients and thus become better doctors The Disabled God Nancy L. Eiesland,1994-09-01 Draws on themes of the disability rights movement to identify people with disabilities as members of a socially disadvantaged minority group rather than as individuals who need to adjust Highlights the hidden history of people with disabilities in church and society Proclaiming the emancipatory presence of the disabled God the author maintains the vital importance of the relationship between Christology and social change Eiesland contends that in the Eucharist Christians encounter the disabled God and may participate in new imaginations of wholeness and new embodiments of justice Women in the Hebrew Bible Alice Bach,2013-10-31 Women in the Hebrew Bible presents the first one volume overview covering the interpretation of women s place in man s world within the Hebrew Bible or Old Testament Written by the major scholars in the field of biblical studies and literary theory these essays examine attitudes toward women and their status in ancient Near

Eastern societies focusing on the Israelite society portrayed by the Hebrew Bible

Body of Christ Incarnate for You Adam Pryor, 2016-10-19 Incarnation has always been an important concept within Christian theology For centuries theologians have wrestled with how best to conceptualize the vexing problem of what it means that Jesus the Christ is fully God and fully human In this book Adam Pryor explores how the incarnation has intersected corresponding issues well beyond the familiar question of how any one person might have two natures Beginning by identifying four critical themes that have historically shaped the development of this doctrine Pryor goes on to offer a constructive account of the incarnation His account seeks out the continued meaning of this doctrine given the increasing complexity that characterizes our understanding of human bodies bodies that can no longer be understood as the locus of distinct subjects separated from the world of objects with the skin as an impenetrable boundary between the two Making use of contemporary phenomenologies of the flesh and the erotic Pryor develops an understanding of the incarnation that seeks to go beyond classical issues presented by two natures christologies Incarnation in guises as various as Jesus the Christ cyborg bodies and sacramental practices becomes a way that God is diffused into the world transforming how we are to be with one another

God Beyond Gender Gail Ramshaw, 1995 The debate about God language has two opposing extremes One side maintains that biblical language and masculine pronouns must be retained The other argues that female imagery for God is preferable Now Gail Ramshaw presents a third position urging the inclusion of many images for God the correction of others and the total avoidance of any pronouns

Jesuit and Feminist Education Jocelyn M. Boryczka, Elizabeth A. Petrino, 2012 This book explores how the principles and practices of Ignatian pedagogy overlap and intersect with contemporary feminist theory in order to gain deeper insight into the complexities of today's multicultural educational contexts Drawing on a method of inquiry that locates individual and collective standpoints in relation to social political and economic structures this volume highlights points of convergence and divergence between Ignatian and feminist pedagogies to explore how educators might find strikingly similar methods that advocate common goals including engaging with issues such as race gender diversity and social justice The contributors to this volume initiate a dynamic dialogue that will enliven our campuses for years to come

Theology and Down Syndrome Amos Yong, 2007 While the struggle for disability rights has transformed secular ethics and public policy traditional Christian teaching has been slow to account for disability in its theological imagination Amos Yong crafts both a theology of disability and a theology informed by disability The result is a Christian theology that not only connects with our present social medical and scientific understanding of disability but also one that empowers a set of best practices appropriate to our late modern context Publisher description

Chronic Sorrow Susan Roos, 2014-01-14 Grief and loss are burgeoning concerns for professional disciplines such as nursing social work family therapy psychology psychiatry law religion and medicine Although understanding has increased in virtually all other areas of grief and loss chronic sorrow has received scant attention Chronic sorrow is a natural grief reaction to losses that are not final but continue to be present in the life of the griever This book views chronic sorrow in a life span perspective and reveals the effect on the griever and the people close to them This book fills a void in the literature and attempts to develop a comprehensive analysis of chronic sorrow that will secure its position within the field of grief and loss Memoir G. Thomas Couser,2012-01-19 A compact pithy guide to the most popular form of life writing Memoir An Introduction provides a primer to the ubiquitous literary form and its many subgenres Sex, Gender, and Christian Ethics Lisa Sowle Cahill,1996-08-28 This book endorses feminist critiques of gender yet upholds the insight of traditional Christianity that sex commitment and parenthood are fulfilling human relations Their unity is a positive ideal though not an absolute norm Women and men should enjoy equal personal respect and social power In reply to feminist critics of oppressive gender and sex norms and to communitarian proponents of Christian morality Cahill argues that effective intercultural criticism of injustice requires a modest defence of moral objectivity She thus adopts a critical realism as its moral foundation drawing on Aristotle and Aquinas Moral judgment should be based on reasonable practical prudent and cross culturally nuanced reflection on human experience This is combined with a New Testament model of community centred on solidarity compassion and inclusion of the economically or socially marginalised
