Rambo The Dalai Lama:

Rambo and the Dalai Lama Gordon Fellman, 1998-01-01 Contrasts two approaches to conflicts and their resolution the aggressive confrontative elements of the adversary paradigm represented by the fictional figure Rambo and the compassionate non violence of the mutuality paradigm advocated by the Dalai Lama Engaging East Timorese Men in the Process of Establishing Gender Equality Melanie Lotfali, 2013-09-18 ABSTRACT The equality of women and men is a prerequisite for peace Social development interventions over recent decades have sought to achieve equality primarily by educating and liberating women from the shackles of customs and paradigms that serve to maintain gender inequality It is increasingly recognized that due attention must be given to men s essential role in the process to men s education and liberation In East Timor the latter process has begun albeit on a small scale This study looks at ways to further advance this process Three and a half years in East Timor provided the opportunity to engage in applied research using the methodology of ethnography I gathered data using three main techniques semi structured interviews with more gender equitable men and with women and men occupied with the engagement of East Timorese men in gender equality observation and direct participation within a wide range of settings from informal encounters on local beaches to high level meetings with the president and government ministers and analysis of pertinent primary and secondary documents I identified that a number of interventions are being applied to the issue of engaging East Timorese men in gender equality including use of workshops and trainings the performing arts campaigns and the mass media role modeling and the techniques of popular education with varying levels of success I found that the Association of Men Against Violence and its members are key players in the advancement of this process and that they work closely with feminist organizations within East Timor While I drew on much secular theory and practice in the course of this study my personal beliefs and practices are guided by the teachings of the Baha i Faith The Baha i teachings include much that is relevant to this study and thus I have drawn on and presented Baha i perspectives and approaches to such things as equality and men s role in its establishment social and economic development and the culture of contest and have 3 drawn on Baha i principles in the discussion of results and subsequently in drawing my conclusions By exploring the implications of interventions implemented in other parts of the world and of theory pertaining to social development masculinities and a culture of contest I identified that interventions in East Timor to engage men in gender equality would be strengthened by giving due consideration to the following developing participants ability to communicate providing opportunity for and developing the capacity of participants to critically reflect on their environment addressing participants as whole human beings and members of one human race and actively engaging participants in the development and ownership of knowledge I concluded that three areas requiring immediate attention include the development of evaluation tools and processes and the systematic documentation and sharing of learning as well as research into masculinities in an East Timorese context The Violence of Liberation Charlene E. Makley, 2007-12-05 The Violence of Liberation is an innovative and timely evaluation of Tibetan religious revival and changing gender ideals and practices in post Mao China one of the first ethnographies based on extensive in a Tibetan community in China since its re opening in the 1980s Makley has provided a powerful and nuanced reading of gendered Tibetan and Chinese cultural orders Charles F McKhann Director of Asian Studies Whitman College Charlene Makely has produced an excellent beautifully written book on the incorporation of a Tibetan area into the Chinese nation and the gendered aspects of this process The work sets a standard for future work in terms of the breadth and depth of its research Beth Notar author of Displacing Desire Travel and Popular Culture in China Gandhi and the Psychology of Nonviolence, Volume 1 V. K. Kool, Rita Agrawal, 2020-11-06 The first of two volumes this book examines Gandhi's contribution to an understanding of the scientific and evolutionary basis of the psychology of nonviolence through the lens of contemporary researches on human cognition empathy morality and self control While psychological science has focused on those participants that delivered electric shocks in Professor Stanley Milgram's famous experiments these books begin from the premise that we have neglected to fully explore why the other participants walked away Building on emergent research in the psychology of self control and wisdom the authors illustrate what Gandhi's life and work offers to our understanding of these subjects who disobeyed and defied Milgram The authors analyze Gandhi's actions and philosophy as well as original interviews with his contemporaries to elaborate a modern scientific psychology of nonviolence from the principles he enunciated and which were followed so successfully in his Satyagrahas Gandhi they argue was a practical psychologist from whom we can derive a science of nonviolence which as Volume 2 will illustrate can be applied to almost every subfield of psychology but particularly to those addressing the most urgent issues of the 21st century This book is the result of four decades of collaborative work between the authors It marks a unique contribution to studies of both Gandhi and the current trends in psychological research that will appeal in particular to scholars of social change peace studies and peace psychology and serve as an exemplar in teaching one of modern psychology's hitherto neglected perspectives

Cultures of Peace Elise Boulding, 2000-05-01 Renowned sociologist Elise Boulding offers an eminent collection of essays that emphasizes her study of civil society over the past fifty years While most media and academic attention focuses on the extreme violence in today's society Elise Boulding notes an equally significant presence of cultures and societies of peace Here in a volume that represents a life's work she revisits her theme of the connection among family community and government and offers enriching perspectives and advice on how to fuel the process of peace Boulding examines structural violence in terms of the major institutional obstacles to a more peaceful future the tension between the states and the people trapped inside them the tension between the techno sphere and the biosphere and between global systems and local know how She describes social movements around the world that are developing alternative ways of handling the great diversity of human biospheric needs on the planet In addition Boulding brings together her experiences to empower the peace building activities if we are to do better in the twenty first century than we have done in the twentieth century Provided by publisher Putting Peace into Practice ,2022-06-08 This book examines the role and limits of policies in shaping attitudes and actions toward war violence and peace Authors examine militaristic language and metaphor effects of media violence on children humanitarian intervention sanctions peacemaking sex offender treatment programs nationalism cosmopolitanism community and political forgiveness to identify problem policies and develop better ones Putting Peace Into Practice Nancy Nyquist Potter,2004 This book examines the role and limits of policies in shaping attitudes and actions toward war violence and peace Authors examine militaristic language and metaphor effects of media violence on children humanitarian intervention sanctions peacemaking sex offender treatment programs nationalism cosmopolitanism community and political forgiveness to identify problem policies and develop better ones Hamilton and Philosophy Aaron Rabinowitz,Robert Arp,2017-07-01 In Hamilton and Philosophy professional thinkers expose examine and ponder the deep and controversial implications of this runaway hit Broadway musical One cluster of questions relates to the matter of historical accuracy in relation to entertainment To what extent is Hamilton genuine history or is it more a reflection of America today than in the eighteenth century What happens when history becomes dramatic art and is some falsification of history unavoidable One point of view is that the real Alexander Hamilton was an outsider and any objective approach to Hamilton has to be that of an outsider Politics always involves a debate over who is on the margins and who is allowed into the center Then there is the question of emphasizing Hamilton s revolutionary aspect when he was autocratic and not truly democratic But this can be defended as presenting a contradictory personality in a unique historical moment Hamilton s character is also one that blends ambition thirst for fame and concern for his immortal legacy with inability to see his own limitations yet combined with devotion to honor and the cultivation of virtue Hamilton s evident ambition led him to be likened to Macbeth and Shakespearean tragedy can explain much of his life Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Human Dignity and Human Rights Hoda Mahmoudi,Michael L. Penn,2019-11-18 This timely collection brings together a diverse array of field leading contributors in order to offer an interdisciplinary investigation into a discourse research and action agenda in pursuit of the universal application of human dignity Winning Francesco Duina,2013-08-25 Why winning doesn t always lead to happiness Most of us are taught from a young age to be winners and avoid being losers But what does it mean to win or lose And why do we care so much Does winning make us happy Winning undertakes an unprecedented investigation of winning and losing in American society what we are really after as we struggle to win our collective beliefs about winners and losers and much more Francesco Duina argues that victory and loss are not endpoints or final destinations but gateways to something of immense importance to us the affirmation of our place in the world But Duina also shows that competition is unlikely to provide us with the answers we need Winning and losing are artificial and logically flawed concepts that put us at odds with the world around us and ultimately ourselves Duina explores the social and psychological effects of the language of competition in American culture Primarily concerned with our shared obsessions about winning and losing

Winning proposes a new mind set for how we can pursue our dreams and in a more satisfying way find our proper place in the world Encyclopedia of Violence, Peace, and Conflict ,1999-08-16 The Encyclopedia of Violence Peace and Conflict a three volume set written by more than 200 eminent contributors from around the world takes advantage of increasing worldwide awareness in the public private commercial and academic sectors about manifestations of violence in all segments of society While the contributors do not use these volumes to make specific arguments they do describe and clarify the developments in thought that have led to current theories about and positions on violence and peace Our reviewers consistently note that while many in depth studies of war peace and aggression exist the attendant specialization keeps scholars from learning about related fields No publication competing with the Encyclopedia of Violence Peace and Conflict can satisfy their need for a vast introductory work to such a diverse and socially important field This major work includes more than 190 multidisciplinary articles with over 1 000 cross references and more than 2 000 bibliography entries for further reading which are arranged alphabetically for easy access More than 190 multidisciplinary articles with over 1 000 cross references Article outline and glossary of key terms begin each article Entries arranged alphabetically for easy access Three volume set with subject index of over 750 entries Articles written by more than 200 eminent contributors from around the world The Social Construction of Man, the State and War Franke Wilmer,2004-04-16 The Social Construction of

Man the State and War is the first book on conflict in the former Yugoslavia to look seriously at the issue of ethnic identity rather than treating it as a given an unquestionable variable Combining detailed analysis with a close reading of historical narratives documentary evidence and first hand interviews conducted in the former Yugoslavia Wilmer sheds new light on how ethnic identity is constructed and what that means for the future of peace and sovereignty throughout the world

Sport and Violence Lynn M Jamieson,Thomas Orr,2012-06-14 Sport and Violence takes a critical look at the culture of sports rage and aggression in the sporting industry covering ethical historical and sociological causes and impacts It examines international examples of sport violence including the father of a tennis competitor placing a drug in the drinks of her competitors a player's neck broken after being attacked from behind by an opponent in an NHL game hooliganism in international soccer and more The book not only attempts to explain how and why such violence originates it examines its impact on society outside sport and suggests potential remedies for the problem This book Examines the culture of violence that permeates and surrounds sport including the sociological causes of that violence and what can be done to mitigate them Features an international perspective with examples of sport violence from throughout the world Offers a historical view on the evolution of violence in sport Its up to date and in depth coverage of a controversial issue makes this book a valuable asset to both sports students and professionals working in sports management Chronicles of a Radical Criminologist Gregg Barak,2020-05-15 Coming of age at the Berkeley School of Criminology Life as a young criminologist Academic activism Doing public criminology Doing newsmaking criminology Doing multidisciplinary criminology Academic praxis

Integrating criminology Globalizing criminology Peace and Conflict Studies Ho-Won Jeong, 2017-07-05 Ho Won Jeong explains and assesses major approaches to dealing with ethnic conflict communal violence inter state war and social injustice The book analyses not only the sources of violence and conflict but also how to manage and prevent them As peace is relevant to improvement in human well being and the future survival of humanity the volume encompasses a variety of themes ranging from alternative security policies methods of peaceful settlement human rights self determination environmental politics global governance and non violence Reflecting on the current thinking and drawing lessons from the past the book can be considered as the most authoritative introduction to the field since the end of the Cold War Ecology of War & Peace Tom H. Hastings, 2000 How do mobilization for war and the actual war effort affect the environment How do ecological conditions encourage war What are possible non violent solutions to the ecological conflict dynamic Ecology of War Peace attempts to answer these questions in readable prose with an unapologetic bias toward non violence The Professors David Horowitz, 2013-02-05 A book to challenge the status quo spark a debate and get people talking about the issues and questions we face as a country The SAGE Encyclopedia of War: Social Science Perspectives Paul Joseph, 2016-06-15 Traditional explorations of war look through the lens of history and military science focusing on big events big battles and big generals By contrast The SAGE Encyclopedia of War Social Science Perspective views war through the lens of the social sciences looking at the causes processes and effects of war and drawing from a vast group of fields such as communication and mass media economics political science and law psychology and sociology Key features include More than 650 entries organized in an A to Z format authored and signed by key academics in the field Entries conclude with cross references and further readings aiding the researcher further in their research journeys An alternative Reader s Guide table of contents groups articles by disciplinary areas and by broad themes A helpful Resource Guide directing researchers to classic books journals and electronic resources for more in depth study This important and distinctive work will be a key reference for all researchers in the fields of political science international relations and sociology Moral Responsibility, Statecraft and Humanitarian Intervention Cathinka Vik, 2015-06-12 This book explores the moral complexity of statecraft in the context of decision making on armed intervention in the post Cold War era This book adds to the debate on humanitarian intervention by analyzing the moral complexity of statecraft when confronted with situations of severe human rights violations Through a comparative case study of President Bill Clinton administration s failure to intervene in the Rwanda genocide 1994 the George W Bush administration s tepid response to the Darfur atrocities 2003 07 and the Barack Obama administration s leadership behind the limited U N intervention in Libya 2011 it explores the factors domestic and international that influence decision making about humanitarian intervention These cases show not only how international moral concerns often compete with interest based and domestic concerns but how decision makers are often confronted by competing moral imperatives In such situations it is often not clear which imperatives should be followed In an increasingly interconnected world this book examines how we expect state leaders to balance different moral responsibilities This book will be of much interest to students of humanitarian intervention the Responsibility to Protect human rights US foreign policy African politics and IR in general The Enigmatic Academy Christian J. Churchill, Gerald Levy, 2011-06-15 The Enigmatic Academy is a provocative look at the purpose and practice of education in America Authors Christian Churchill and Gerald Levy use three case studies a liberal arts college a boarding school and a Job Corps center to illustrate how class bureaucratic and secular religious dimensions of education prepare youth for participation in American foreign and domestic policy at all levels The authors describe how schools contribute to the formation of a bureaucratic character how middle and upper class students are trained for leadership positions in corporations government and the military and how the education of lower class students often serves more powerful classes and institutions Exploring how youth and their educators encounter the complexities of ideology and bureaucracy in school The Enigmatic Academy deepens our understanding of the flawed redemptive relationship between education and society in the United States Paradoxically these three studied schools all prepare students to participate in a society whose values they oppose
