Italian Victualling Systems in the Early Modern Age, 16th to 18th Century Luca Clerici, 2021-03-17 This book illustrates the complexity and variety of victualling systems in early modern Italy For a long time the historiography of urban provisioning systems in late medieval and early modern times featured a conceptual opposition between victualling administration and the market In this book on the contrary the term victualling system sistema annonario is employed according to its historical meaning designating an organised set of public and private channels evolved typically in urban contexts for the procurement and distribution of the goods essential for the daily life of common people According to this definition specifically a victualling system included also the market as one of the different channels for the procurement and distribution of goods What characterises the Italian case in the European context are both the earliness of these institutions and the long lasting political and economic fragmentation of the peninsula these factors determined the great variety and complexity of the solutions adopted In order to show these features the analysis focuses on four central issues the configuration of systems institutional pragmatism and variety articulation of circuits and plurality of actors The seven relevant case studies included in this book all based on direct archival research cover a wide range of geographical contexts and institutional arrangements from the North to the South of the peninsula and include both large sized cities Milan and Rome medium sized cities Bergamo Vicenza and Ferrara and entire regions the March of Ancona and Sicily This allows the reader to appreciate regional and local differences in detail making this book of interest for academics and scholars in economic social and urban history

Reformations in Hungary in the Age of the Ottoman Conquest Pál Ács, 2019-01-21 P l cs discusses various aspects of the cultural and literary history of Hungary during the hundred years that followed the Battle of Moh cs 1526 and the onset of the Reformation The author focuses on the special Ottoman context of the Hungarian Reformation movements including the Protestant and Catholic Reformation and the spiritual reform of Erasmian intellectuals The author argues that the Ottoman presence in Hungary could mean the co existence of Ottoman bureaucrats and soldiers with the indigenous population He explores the culture of occupied areas the fascinating ways Christians came to terms with Muslim authorities and the co existence of

Muslims and Christians as treats not only the culture of the Reformation in an Ottoman context but also vice versa the Ottomans in a Protestant framework As the studies show the culture of the early modern Hungarian Reformation is extremely manifold and multi layered Historical documents such as theological political and literary works and pieces of art formed an interpretive unified whole in the self representation of the era Two interlinked and unifying ideas define this diversity on the one hand the idea of European ness i e the idea of strong ties to a Christian Europe and on the other the concept of Reformation itself Despite its constant ideological fragmentation the Reformation sought universalism in all its branches As cs shows it was re formatio in the original sense of the word i e restoration an attempt to restore a bygone perfection imagined to be ideal

Hungary between Two Empires 1526-1711 Géza Pálffy, 2021-06-08 The Hungarian defeat to the Ottoman army at the pivotal Battle of Mohács in 1526 led to the division of the Kingdom of Hungary into three parts altering both the shape and the ethnic composition of Central Europe for centuries to come Hungary thus became a battleground between the Ottoman and Habsburg empires In this sweeping historical survey Géza Pálffy takes readers through a crucial period of upheaval and revolution in Hungary which had been the site of a flowering of economic cultural and intellectual progress but battles with the Ottomans lead to over a century of war and devastation Pálffy explores Hungary's role as both a borderland and a theater of war through the turn of the 18th century In this way Hungary became a crucially important field on which key debates over religion government law and monarchy played out Reflecting 25 years of archival research and presented here in English for the first time Hungary between Two Empires 1526-1711 offers a fresh and thorough exploration of this key moment in Hungarian history and in turn the creation of a modern Europe The Italian

Reformers and the Zurich Church, c.1540-1620 Mark Taplin, 2017-05-15 Recently scholars have become increasingly aware of Zurich's role as an intellectual and cultural centre of the European Reformation This study focuses on a little known aspect of the Zurich church's international activity its relationship with Italian speaking evangelicals during the period 1540-1620 The work assesses the importance of Zwinglian influences within the early Italian evangelical movement and Zurich's contribution to the spread of the Reformation in Italian speaking territories such as Locarno and southern Graubünden It shows how following the establishment of the Roman Inquisition in July 1542 senior Zurich churchmen emerged as important points of contact for Italian reformers in exile A central concern of the study is the threat to the integrity of the Zwinglian settlement posed by religious radicals within the Italian exile community Although the radicals were relatively few in number their activities had a profound influence on the way in which the community as a whole came to be perceived by the Swiss and other Reformed churches In Zurich the turning point was a series of doctrinal disputes during the mid sixteenth century which culminated in the dissolution of the city's Italian church in November 1563 The alliance forged in the course of those disputes between the leadership of the Zurich church and theologically conservative Italian exiles became the basis for close co operation in subsequent decades Drawing heavily on unpublished sources from Swiss archives the volume sheds light on the processes by which the boundaries of Reformed orthodoxy came to be defined In particular it demonstrates the importance of theological controversy and polemic as catalysts for the systematisation of doctrine during this period A Divided Hungary in Europe Gábor Almási, Szymon Brzeziński, Ildikó Horn, 2015-01-12 Despite fragmentation heterogeneity and the continuous pressure of the Ottoman Empire early modern divided Hungary witnessed a surprising cultural flourishing in the sixteenth century and maintained its common cultural identity in the seventeenth century This could hardly have been possible without intense exchange with the rest of Europe This three volume series about early modern Hungary divided by Ottoman presence approaches themes of exchange of information and knowledge from two perspectives namely exchange through traditional channels provided by religious educational institutions and the system of European study tours Volume 1 Study Tours and Intellectual Religious Relationships and the less regular channels and improvised networks of political diplomacy Volume 2 Diplomacy Information Flow and Cultural Exchange A by product of this exchange of information was the changing image of early modern Hungary and Transylvania which is presented in the third and in some aspects concluding volume of essays Volume 3 The Making and Uses of the Image of Hungary and Transylvania Unlike earlier approaches to the same questions these volumes draw an alternative map of early modern Hungary On this map the centre periphery conceptions of European early modern culture are replaced by new narratives written from the perspective of historical actors and the dominance of Western Hungarian relationships is kept in balance due to the significance of Hungary's direct neighbours most importantly the Ottoman Empire
