Tangled Titans David Shambaugh, 2013 Tangled Titans offers a current and comprehensive assessment of the most important relationship in international affairs that between the United States and China How the relationship evolves will have a defining impact on the future of world politics the Asian region and the citizens of many nations In this definitive book leading experts provide an in depth exploration of the historical domestic bilateral regional global and future contexts of this complex relationship The contributors argue that the relationship is a unique combination of deep interdependence limited cooperation and increasing competition Never in modern history have two great powers been so deeply intertwined yet so suspicious and potentially antagonistic toward each other Exploring this cooperative and competitive dynamic the contributors offer a wealth of detail on contemporary Sino American relations unavailable elsewhere Students will find Tangled Titans essential reading to understand the current dynamics and future direction of relations between the world's two most important powers Contributions by Rosemary Foot Charles W Freeman III Bonnie S Glaser Avery Goldstein Yufan Hao Harry Harding G John Ikenberry Terry Lautz Dawn Murphy Shelley Rigger David Shambaugh Robert Sutter Ashley J Tellis Nancy Bernkopf Tucker Christopher P Twomey and Wu Xinbo Tangled Roots Sarah Mittlefehldt, 2013-11-01 The Appalachian Trail a thin ribbon of wilderness running through the densely populated eastern United States offers a refuge from modern society and a place apart from human ideas and institutions But as environmental historian and thru hiker Sarah Mittlefehldt argues the trail is also a conduit for community engagement and a model for public private cooperation and environmental stewardship In Tangled Roots Mittlefehldt tells the story of the trail's creation The project was one of the first in which the National Park Service attempted to create public wilderness space within heavily populated privately owned lands Originally a regional grassroots endeavor under federal leadership the trail project retained unprecedented levels of community involvement As citizen volunteers came together and entered into conversation with the National Parks Service boundaries between local and nonlocal public and private amateur and expert frequently broke down Today as Mittlefehldt tells us the Appalachian Trail remains an unusual hybrid of public and private efforts and an inspiring success story of environmental protection Watch the trailer <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AFyhuGqbCGc> Tangled Vines Frances Dinkelspiel, 2025-09-23 On October 12 2005 a massive fire broke out in the Wines Central wine warehouse in Vallejo California Within hours the flames had destroyed 4.5 million bottles of California's finest wine worth more than 250 million making it the largest destruction of wine in history The fire had been deliberately set by a passionate oenophile named Mark Anderson a skilled con man and thief with storage space at the warehouse who needed to cover his tracks With a propane torch and a bucket of gasoline soaked rags Anderson annihilated entire California vineyard libraries as well as bottles of some of the most sought after wines in the world Among the priceless bottles destroyed were 175 bottles of Port and Angelica from one of the oldest vineyards in California made by Frances Dinkelspiel's great great grandfather Isaias Hellman

in 1875 Sadly Mark Anderson was not the first to harm the industry The history of the California wine trade dating back to the 19th Century is a story of vineyards with dark and bloody pasts tales of rich men strangling monopolies the brutal enslavement of vineyard workers and murder Five of the wine trade murders were associated with Isaias Hellman s vineyard in Rancho Cucamonga beginning with the killing of John Rains who owned the land at the time He was shot several times dragged from a wagon and left off the main road for the coyotes to feed on In her new book Frances Dinkelspiel looks beneath the casually elegant veneer of California s wine regions to find the obsession greed and violence lying in wait Few people sipping a fine California Cabernet can even guess at the Tangled Vines where its life began Tangled Memories Marita Sturken,1997-02-28 Analyzing the ways U S culture has been formed and transformed in the 80s and 90s by its response to the Vietnam War and the AIDS epidemic Marita Sturken argues that each has disrupted our conventional notions of community nation consensus and American culture She examines the relationship of camera images to the production of cultural memory the mixing of fantasy and reenactment in memory the role of trauma and survivors in creating cultural comfort and how discourses of healing can smooth over the tensions of political events Sturken s discussion encompasses a brilliant comparison of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial and the AIDS Quilt her profound reading of the Memorial as a national wailing wall one whose emphasis on the veterans and war dead has allowed the discourse of heroes sacrifice and honor to resurface at the same time that it is an implicit condemnation of war is particularly compelling The book also includes discussions of the Kennedy assassination the Persian Gulf War the Challenger explosion and the Rodney King beating While debunking the image of the United States as a culture of amnesia Sturken also shows how remembering itself is a form of forgetting and how exclusion is a vital part of memory formation Tangled Up in Text Yehudah Cohn,2008

Perfumed Sleeves and Tangled Hair Rajyashree Pandey,2016-01-31 Perfumed Sleeves and Tangled Hair explores the possibilities and limits of terms such as body woman gender and agency categories that emerged within the context of western philosophical religious and feminist debates to analyze texts that come out of altogether different temporal and cultural contexts Through close textual readings of a wide range of classical and medieval narratives from well known works such as the Tale of Genji to popular Buddhist tales Rajyashree Pandey offers new ways of understanding such terms within the context of medieval Buddhist knowledge Pandey suggests that woman in medieval Japanese narratives does not constitute a self evident and distinct category and that there is little in these works to indicate that the sexed body was the single most important and overarching site of difference between men and women She argues that the body in classical and medieval texts is not understood as something constituted through flesh blood and bones or as divorced from the mind and that in the Tale of Genji it becomes intelligible not as an anatomical entity but rather as something apprehended through robes and hair Pandey provocatively claims that woman is a fluid and malleable category one that often functions as a topos or figural site for staging debates not about real life women but rather about delusion attachment and enlightenment issues of the utmost importance to the Buddhist medieval world Pandey's book challenges many of the assumptions that have become commonplace in academic writings on women and Buddhism in medieval Japan She questions the validity of speaking of Buddhism's misogyny women's oppression passivity or proto feminism and points to the anachronistic readings that result when fundamentally modern questions and concerns are transposed unreflexively onto medieval Japanese texts Taking a broad interdisciplinary approach and engaging widely with literature religious studies and feminism while paying close attention to medieval texts and genres Pandey boldly throws down the gauntlet challenging some of the sacred cows of contemporary scholarship on medieval Japanese women and Buddhism Tangled Up in the Bible Michael J.

The Tangled Web They Weave Ivan L. Preston,1994 Ivan L Preston recognized as a preeminent scholar of the legal dimensions of American advertising has written The Tangled Web They Weave for the ordinary consumer as well as for advertisers and trade regulators His frank aim is to demonstrate how advertising can better serve its audience Advertising Preston points out is full of falsity that is quite legal Indeed clever presentation of lies can make advertising entertaining to consumers and Preston provides lively examples and anecdotes of such cases The problem with falsity in advertising he argues is not so much with the bald lie as it is with deception It is in this thicket of implied claims that he shows us the dangers and indicates the need for regulatory adjustment Preston takes us down the slippery slope from the high ground of honest product claims to the unscrupulous bottom of the barrel claims that are wholly false Along the way he documents the subtle misrepresentations half and lesser truths and exploitations of our gullibility that abound in contemporary advertising The cases he describes are sometimes comic and sometimes shocking and infuriating Preston s agenda is not merely to cry Foul He sees advertising as performing not only a legitimate but an important public service It is in all our interests therefore to perfect and not just pillory As he concludes It is the time to see a way to serve society by creating a standard of personal and corporate credibility under which all advertisers regulators and consumers should want to live
