*INFLUENCES OF THE NATIONAL BOARD FOR PROFESSIONAL TEACHING STANDARDS... ED432570... U. United States. Office of Educational Research and Improvement, 2000 Teacher Professional Learning in an Age of Compliance Susan

Groundwater-Smith, Nicole Mockler, 2009-04-29 Teacher Professional Learning in an Age of Compliance Mind the Gap examines ways in which practice based inquiry in educational settings in a number of different countries and contexts can transcend current ways of working and thinking such that authentic professional learning is the result The authors contend that education policy under pressure from a number of quarters is retreating into a standardized audited and backward looking arena with the advances of more progressive educational philosophy being rolled back In an age where practitioner inquiry and action research have often been hijacked for the purposes of broad based policy implementation this book offers a rationale for reclaiming the critical edge so fundamental to inquiry based professional learning It examines the potential of inquiry based forms of teacher professional learning to contribute to the growth of professional knowledge for and about teachers work The authors intend that the book will assist in building new forms of professional knowledge that go beyond the current compliance model engineered from less enduring materials to inform a new model with its foundations in a strong ethical and moral framework They also believe that this new model if implemented will help to reverse today s conservative educational trends and make teacher professional development a force for genuine progress once again They have consciously moved away from the celebratory tone of much of the academic reporting of teacher professional learning adopting instead a genuinely critical edge In covering a wide range of policies and practices from across the international spectrum they have allowed themselves the freedom to engage in serious epistemological arguments about the nature of professional knowledge as well as how it is constructed and employed International Handbook of Educational Policy

Nina Bascia, Alister Cumming, Amanda Datnow, Kenneth Leithwood, David Livingstone, 2008-05-14 Nina Bascia Alister Cumming Amanda Datnow Kenneth Leithwood and David Livingstone This Handbook presents contemporary and emergent trends in educational policy research in over fifty chapters written by nearly ninety leading researchers from a number of countries It is organized into five broad sections which capture many of the current dominant educational policy foci and at the same time situate current understandings historically in terms of both how they are conceptualized and in terms of past policy practice The chapters themselves are empirically grounded providing illustrations of the conceptual implications contained within them as well as allowing for comparisons across them The serendipity within chapters with respect to jurisdictional particularities and contexts allows readers to consider not only a range of approaches to policy analysis but also the ways in which policies and policy ideas play out in different times and places The sections move from a focus on prevailing policy tendencies through increasingly critical and outsider perspectives on policy They address in turn the contemporary strategic emphasis on large scale reform substantive emphases at several levels on leadership and governance improving teacher quality and conceptualizing learning in various domains around the notion of literacies and concluding finally with a contrasting topic workplace learning which has had less policy attention and thus allows readers to consider both the advantages and disadvantages of learning and teaching under the bright gaze of policy
