Innovation and Structural Change in Post-Socialist Countries: A Quantitative Approach David A. Dyker, S.

Radosevic,2012-12-06 This book uses a range of S T and structural indicators to analyse the transformation process in particular the transformation of science technology and industry in the former communist countries The book originates from a sense of the tremendous need for quantitative indicators for assessing trends and performance in the post socialist economies S T systems in the region have passed through the first phase of rapid deterioration or as it is called by some analysts implosion After ten years of transformation we are witnessing a process of increasing differentiation of these countries in terms of general patterns of growth and structural change as well as specific lines of restructuring in their S T systems The question of sources of growth or indeed of stagnation is an increasingly urgent one from both the policy and academic perspectives In that context there is a pressing need for in depth assessment of restructuring patterns in science technology and industry in the region as a basis for understanding how restructuring in S T is linked to industrial restructuring and to general economic and social transformation As the contributions to this volume show there is now a critical mass of quantitative data across the post socialist countries which deserves to be studied more thoroughly in a comparative manner The changes of the last ten years have produced varying patterns of adjustment which are now clearly visible in S T and structural indicators OECD Reviews of Innovation Policy: Kazakhstan 2017 OECD,2017-07-10 This report provides an independent and comparative assessment of the overall performance of Kazakhstan's innovation system since independence with recommendations on improving performance drawing on the experience of other OECD countries in innovation processes systems and policies While Frameworks for Industrial Policy in Central and Eastern Europe

International Economic Review ,1992 Strategies for Shaping Territorial Competitiveness Jesús M. Valdaliso,James R.

Wilson,2015-04-10 This book focuses on the main challenges that cities regions and other territories at sub national level face when it comes to designing and implementing a territorial strategy for economic development and competitiveness

There is a widespread recognition that territories need to construct strategies that focus on shaping sustainable competitive advantages To do this they draw upon their own unique resources and capabilities alongside intelligence on existing technological and market trends However there is still a notorious lack of both theoretical and empirical research on this issue The first part of this book develops a theoretical framework for understanding and analysing territorial strategy This framework asks three questions of territorial strategy what for what and how looking closely at the key relationship between strategy and policy The second part is dedicated to exploring this framework in practice through application to a series of unique cases from around the world at different territorial levels from regions such as the Basque Country Navarre and Murcia in Spain Okanagan British Columbia in Canada Wales in the United Kingdom and the cross border region of the resund in Denmark Sweden as well as the city of Rafaela in Argentina Each case offers something different and enables the framework to be thoroughly tested generating concluding reflections that add real value for scholars and policy makers interested in and working in the field of territorial strategy This volume is intended for the academic community the policy community government leaders policy makers policy researchers and consultants and university students and teachers at different levels interested in the areas of territorial competitiveness regional development competitiveness policies and processes of territorial strategy Research at Central and East European Universities Marek Szymoński,Iwona Guzik,1997
