

The background of the entire image is a detailed oil painting of a river. The river flows from the upper left towards the lower right, cascading over dark, jagged rocks. The water is depicted with various shades of blue, grey, and white, capturing the movement and foam of the rapids. The banks are covered in lush green grass and some small shrubs. In the upper portion of the image, there is a semi-transparent green rectangular box with rounded corners. Inside this box, the title is written in a white, elegant script font. At the bottom center, the author's name is written in a similar white script font.

Wild Waters Richard Nairn, 2023-04-27 I often sit by the bank of the small river that flows through our farm in County Wicklow fascinated by its many moods Getting to know a river is like reading the story of a person's life from its young energetic stages in the hills to the slower moving mature river through to the tranquil water of lakes and finally to its resting place in the sea Richard Nairn is an ecologist who has been visiting waterways around Ireland for over half a century fascinated by how they sustain and enrich our lives Here he sets out on a year long adventure to explore every stretch and tributary of the Avonmore River which runs through Co Wicklow From source to sea he immerses himself in the wildlife archaeology history and people connected to the river Travelling to explore more of Ireland's rivers lakes wet woodlands ponds and canals Richard details encounters with dragonflies crayfish otters and great flocks of migratory waterbirds and finds himself awestruck by the sense of a lost wilderness they convey With our waterways now under serious threat this is a love letter to Ireland's rivers and lakes and a reminder of what we stand to lose Opens the window into a watery world Personal yet panoramic Colin Stafford Johnson filmmaker
