Merchant Vessels of the United States, 1989 Maxwell Anderson and the Marriage Crisis Fonzie D. Geary II, 2022-10-23 This book focuses on the re evaluation of four Maxwell Anderson plays within the context of the emergence of the New Woman and the perception of a marriage crisis in the United States during the 1920s The four plays under consideration are White Desert 1923 Sea Wife 1924 Saturday s Children 1927 and Gypsy 1929 These plays are largely forgotten and even when the titles appear in Anderson scholarship coverage has tended to be cursory and dismissive This work represents a fresh approach and re assessment of an American playwright who bore a significant impact on the drama of his time serving not only to place Anderson s work more effectively within the context of American theatre during the 1920s but also to bridge the gap between his work and the marriage related plays of the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries

Agnes of God 1985 Dead Man Walking 1995 and Doubt 2008 Veiled Desires considers how the beautiful and charismatic stars who play chaste nuns from Ingrid Bergman and Audrey Hepburn to Susan Sarandon and Meryl Streep call attention to desires that the veil concealed and the habit was thought to stifle In a theologically and psychoanalytically informed argument Sabine responds to the critics who have pigeonholed the film nun as the obedient daughter and religious handmaiden of a patriarchal church and the respectful audience who revered her as an icon of spiritual perfection Sabine provides a framework for a more complex and holistic picture of nuns onscreen by showing how the films dramatize these women's Christian call to serve sacrifice and dedicate themselves to God and their erotic desire for intimacy agency achievement and fulfillment

Caryl Churchill, 2013-12-10 In Traps a set of characters meet themselves and their pasts to create plenty of sinewy lines and joyous juxtapositions Plays and Players Vinegar Tom is set in the world of seventeenth century witchcraft but it speaks through its striking images and its plethora of ironic contradictions of and to this century Tribune Light Shining in Buckinghamshire is set during the Civil War and unflinchingly shows the intolerance that was the obverse side of the demand for common justice Deftly it sketches in the kind of social conditions that led to hunger for revolution The play has an austere eloquence that precisely matches its subject The Guardian Cloud Nine sheds light on some of the British Empire's repressed dark side and is a marvelous play sometimes scurrilous always observed with wicked accuracy and ultimately surprisingly rather moving It plunges straight to the heart of the endless convolutions of sexual mores and does so with acrobatic wit Guardian Owners I was in an old woman's flat when a young man offering her money to move came round that was one of the starting points of the play Caryl Churchill The plays in this volume represent the best of Churchill's writing up to and including her emergence onto the international theatre scene with Cloud Nine

Ship English Sally Delgado, 2019 This book presents evidence in support of the hypothesis that Ship English of the early Atlantic colonial period was a distinct variety with characteristic features It is motivated by the recognition that late seventeenth and early eighteenth century sailors' speech was potentially an influential variety in nascent creoles and English varieties of the Caribbean yet few academic studies have attempted to define the characteristics of this speech Therefore the two principal aims of this study were firstly to outline the socio-demographics of the maritime communities and examine how variant linguistic features may have developed and spread among these communities and secondly to generate baseline data on the characteristic features of Ship English The methodology's data collection strategy targeted written representations of sailors' speech prepared or published between the dates 1620 and 1750 and prioritized documents that were composed by working mariners These written representations were then analyzed following a mixed methods triangulation design that converged the qualitative and quantitative data to determine plausible interpretations of the most likely spoken forms Findings substantiate claims that there was a distinct dialect of English that was spoken by sailors during the period of early English colonial expansion They also suggest that Ship English was a sociolect formed through the mixing leveling and simplification processes of koinization Indicators suggest that this occupation specific variety stabilized and spread in maritime communities through predominantly oral speech practices and strong affiliations among groups of sailors It was also transferred to port communities and sailors' home regions through regular contact between sailors speaking this sociolect and the land based service providers and communities that maintained and supplied the fleets Linguistic data show that morphological characteristics of Ship English are evident at the word level and syntactic characteristics are evident not only in phrase construction but also at the larger clause and sentence levels whilst discourse is marked by characteristic patterns of subordination and culture specific interjection patterns The newly identified characteristics of Ship English detailed here provide baseline data that may now serve as an entry point for scholars to integrate this language variety into the discourse on dialect variation in Early Modern English period and the theories on pidgin and creole genesis as a result of language contact in the early colonial period
