Seato The Failure Of An Alliance Strategy:

SEATO, the Failure of an Alliance Strategy Leszek Buszynski, 1983 SEATO Leszek Buszynski, 1983 Conflict and Confrontation in South East Asia, 1961-1965 Matthew Jones, 2001-09-06 In the early 1960s Britain and the United States were still trying to come to terms with the powerful forces of indigenous nationalism unleashed by the Second World War. The Indonesia Malaysia confrontation a crisis which was as Macmillan remarked to Kennedy as dangerous a situation in Southeast Asia as we have seen since the war was a complex test of Anglo American relations. As American commitment to Vietnam accelerated under the Kennedy and Johnson administrations Britain was involving herself in an end of empire exercise in state building which had important military and political implications for both nations. In this book Matthew Jones provides a detailed insight into the origins outbreak and development of this important episode in international history using a large range of previously unavailable archival sources he illuminates the formation of the Malaysian federation Indonesia's violent opposition to the state and the Western Powers attempts to deal with the resulting conflict.

The Southeast Asia Treaty Organisation Ang Cheng Guan, 2021-09-09 A History of the Manila Pact and the Southeast Asia Treaty Organisation SEATO from its establishment in 1954 until its dissolution in 1977. The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization SEATO has received meagre scholarly attention in comparison to other key events and global developments during the duration of the Cold War due to its perceived failure early in its existence. However there has been a renewed interest in the academic study of the organization. Some scholars have argued that SEATO was not an outright failure. New literatures have also shed in detail the workings of SEATO such as operational level contingency plans and counter insurgency plans. This book aims to reconstruct a comprehensive life cycle of SEATO using declassified archival documents which were unavailable to scholars studying the organization from the 1950s through the 1980s and provide a nuanced assessment of it. In addition in recent years there is also an emerging interest in the possibility of a multilateral military alliance in Asia for instance the Quadrilateral Security Dialogue morphing into an Asian NATO. As such it is therefore crucial to study how previous multilateral alliances in the context of Asia were formed how they functioned and subsequently dissolved. A groundbreaking reference on a key element of the United States Cold War strategy in Asia which will be a valuable resource to scholars of twentieth century diplomatic history.

Malaysia Army Weapon Systems Handbook Volume 1 Strategic Information and Weapon Systems IBP, Inc., Reliability and Alliance Interdependence Iain D. Henry, 2022-05-15 In Reliability and Alliance Interdependence Iain D Henry argues for a more sophisticated approach to alliance politics and ideas of interdependence. It is often assumed that if the United States failed to defend an ally then this disloyalty would instantly and irrevocably damage US alliances across the globe. Henry proposes that such damage is by no means inevitable and that predictions of disaster are dangerously simplistic. If other allies fear the risks of military escalation more than the consequences of the United States abandoning an ally then they will welcome encourage and even praise such an instance of disloyalty It is also often assumed that alliance interdependence only constrains US policy options but Henry shows how the United States can manipulate interdependence to set an example of what constitutes acceptable allied behavior Using declassified documents Henry explores five case studies involving US alliances with South Korea Japan the Republic of China the Philippines Australia and New Zealand Reliability and Alliance Interdependence makes a substantial contribution to our understanding of how America's alliances in Asia function as an interdependent system

Whose Ideas Matter? Amitav Acharya, 2011 Whose Ideas Matter is the first book to explore the diffusion of ideas and norms in the international system from the perspective of local actors with Asian regional institutions as its main focus

The Pacific Basin since 1945 Roger C. Thompson, 2014-09-25 The nations of the Pacific Basin in East and Southeast Asia Australasia the Pacific islands and the Americas make up the world's largest economic zone and its most culturally diverse region In recent years its Asian Tiger Economies have suffered economic collapse and unfinished business from the Cold War has produced continuing conflict and instability The new edition of this pioneering book traces the postwar inter relationships of all the rim and island nations It gives a unique impression of the make up of the region and the tensions within it The book integrates a wide range of information from books and articles from published and unpublished sources including recently opened Russian and American archives and from the first hand experiences of participants including those of the author in Pacific Basin affairs Vigorously written and strongly argued no other account brings together all the threads of the development of international relations in this complex and fascinating region

The Battle for Asia Mark T. Berger, 2004-03-01 Asia has long been an ideological battleground between capitalism and communism between nationalism and Westernisation and between the nation state and globalization This book is a history of the Asian region from 1945 to the present day which delineates the various ideological battles over Asia's development Subjects covered include theories of development decolonization US political and economic intervention the effects of communism the end of the Cold War the rise of neo liberalism Asia after the crisis Asia in the era of globalisation Broad in sweep and rich in theory and empirical detail this is an essential account of the growth of Asian miracle and its turbulent position in the global economy of the twenty first century

History as Policy Ron Huiskens, Meredith Thatcher, 2007-12-01 The fortieth anniversary of the Strategic and Defence Studies Centre's founding provided the opportunity to assemble many of Australia's leading analysts and commentators to review some of the more significant issues that should define Australian defence policy The papers collected in this volume are not informed by a common view of where

Australia should focus its defence policy but all address themes that should figure prominently in this difficult but essential task Provided by publisher Asia in the 21st Century Michael D. Houseman,1995 Recognizing the dawning of the Pacific century and its implications for the United States this textbook explores the economic political and social development of the countries of the Asia Pacific and analyzes past present and future U S policy responses Houseman compares and contrasts various levels of development within the region emphasizing especially trade security and human rights issues He concludes with recommendations for U S policymaking acknowledging the realities of shrinking political and economic influence in the post Cold War era A Special Relationship Daniel Fineman,1997-01-01 The development of the Thai American alliance from 1947 to 1958 dramatically transformed both countries involvement in Southeast Asia Bounded by two important political events in Thailand an army coup in 1947 and the military s assumption of complete control of government in 1958 the period witnessed both the entrenchment of authoritarian military government in Thailand and a revolution in U S Thai relations During these years the modern Thai political system emerged and the United States established its interest and influence in mainland Southeast Asian affairs The developments of the period made possible American's later more extensive involvement in Indochina. A Special Relationship provides the most comprehensive analysis of this critical founding period of the Thai-American alliance. It reveals surprising new information on joint covert operations in Indochina, American support for suppression of government opponents and CIA involvement in Thai domestic politics.

Organizing the World Galia Press-Barnathan, 2004-06 This book offers a conceptual framework that explains when and why a great power would choose to cooperate with smaller states via regional cooperation forums rather than in a bilateral setting.

A Companion to American Military History James C. Bradford, 2009-11-03 With more than 60 essays, A Companion to American Military History presents a comprehensive analysis of the historiography of United States military history from the colonial era to the present. Covers the entire spectrum of US history from the Indian and imperial conflicts of the seventeenth century to the battles in Afghanistan and Iraq. Features an unprecedented breadth of coverage from eminent military historians and emerging scholars including little studied topics such as the military and music, military ethics, care of the dead and sports. Surveys and evaluates the best scholarship on every important era and topic. Summarizes current debates and identifies areas where conflicting interpretations are in need of further study.

Asia's New Multilateralism Michael J. Green, Bates Gill, 2009 Traditionally, stability in Asia has relied on America's bilateral alliances with Japan, Australia and the Republic of Korea. Yet in recent years, emergent and more active multilateral forums such as the Six Party Talks on North Korea and the East Asia Summit have taken precedence, engendering both cooperation and competition while reflecting the local concerns of the region. Some are concerned that this process is moving toward less inclusive bloc-based talking shops and that the future direction and success of these arrangements along with their implications for global and regional security and prosperity remain unclear. The fifteen contributors to this volume, all leading scholars in the field, provide national perspectives on regional institutional architecture and their functional challenges. They illuminate areas of cooperation that will move the region toward substantive collaboration, convergence of norms and strengthened domestic institutions. They also highlight the degree to which institution building in Asia, a region composed of liberal democracies, authoritarian regimes and anachronistic dictatorships, has become an arena for competition among major powers and conflicting norms and assess the future shape of Asian security architecture.

Indonesia's Foreign Policy under Suharto Leo Suryadinata, 2022-01-24 The book, which was first published in 1996, examines Indonesia's foreign policy under Suharto. It not only details Indonesia's foreign policy behaviour vis-à-vis Indonesia's neighbours and major powers but also places it in the context of foreign policy analysis. Today the book remains as the only full-length study on Indonesia's foreign policy under Suharto. It is now reprinted with a new postscript which discusses the post-Suharto era from B.J. Habibie to Joko Widodo. Indonesia under Suharto had attempted to become a regional power to lead Southeast Asian states and beyond. As the largest country and also the richest in terms of natural resources, Suharto's Indonesia was held in deference by the ASEAN states. However, due to its limited capabilities, its lack of military strength advanced technology and economic strength the political influence of Jakarta was in fact quite limited During the economic crisis Suharto was forced to step down He was succeeded by B J Habibie who was largely preoccupied with domestic issues who in turn was followed by weak presidencies such as Abdurrahman Wahid Gus Dur and Megawati Only after the ex general Susilo Bambang Yudhoyono assumed presidency did he manage to stabilize the situation and attained economic growth He even became known as the Foreign Policy President Nevertheless he was constrained by the harsh Indonesian reality limited resources a weak military and absence of political influence His successor Joko Widodo has been more concerned with economic matters and domestic politics Indonesian regional leadership declines further
