The Wrong Country Gerald Dawe, 2018-06-08 Ireland and Ecocriticism Eóin Flannery, 2015-10-05 This book is the first truly interdisciplinary intervention into the burgeoning field of Irish ecological criticism Providing original and nuanced readings of Irish cultural texts and personalities in terms of contemporary ecological criticism Flannery's readings of Irish literary fiction poetry travel writing non fiction and essay writing are ground breaking in their depth and scope Explorations of figures and texts from Irish cultural and political history including John McGahern Derek Mahon Roger Casement and Tim Robinson among many others enable and invigorate the discipline of Irish cultural studies and international ecocriticism on the whole This book addresses the need to impress the urgency of lateral ecological awareness and responsibility among

Irish cultural and political commentators to highlight continuities and disparities between Irish ecological thought writing and praxis and those of differential international writers critics and activists and to establish both the singularity and contiguity of Irish ecological criticism to the wider international field of ecological criticism With the introduction of concepts such as ecocosmopolitanism deep history ethics of proximity Gaia Theory urban ecology and postcolonial environmentalism to Irish cultural studies it takes Irish cultural studies in bracing new directions Flannery furnishes working examples of the necessary interdisciplinarity of ecological criticism and impresses the relevance of the Irish context to the broader debates within international ecological criticism Crucially the volume imports ecological critical paradigms into the field of Irish studies and demonstrates the value of such conceptual dialogue for the future of Irish cultural and political criticism This pioneering intervention exhibits the complexity of different Irish cultural and historical responses to ecological exploitation degradation and social justice

Irish Poetry: Politics, History, Negotiation S. Matthews, 1997-04-12 The award of the 1995 Nobel Prize for Literature to Seamus Heaney recognized not only the aesthetic achievement of his work but also its political urgency Here Steven Matthews presents a genealogy of Irish poetry which centres upon Heaney's recent preoccupation with the relations between poetry politics and history Writing from the perspective of Irish critical responses to the poetry he discusses a wide range of work from John Hewitt through Heaney himself to Paul Muldoon All of these poets have been inspired directly or indirectly by the situation in the North of Ireland Placing the poems in their historical context the author also analyses how these poets have reacted to the influence of W B Yeats This important book offers a new approach to Irish poetry linking it for the first time to the crucial political and historical events which lie at its centre

The Oxford Companion to Modern Poetry in English Jeremy Noel-Tod, Ian Hamilton, 2013-05-23 This impressive volume provides over 1700 biographical entries on poets writing in English from 1910 to the present day including T S Eliot Dylan Thomas and Carol Ann Duffy Authoritative and accessible it is a must have for students of English and creative writing as well as for anyone with an interest in poetry

The Whispering Gallery William Logan, 2005-09-27 The poems here delve into what William Logan calls the ill lit kingdom of the past The book is haunted by the dead but equally penitent toward the rich insinuations of the living the lost floral paradise of the Florida outlands the steamy Gatsby summers of a Long Island childhood the frozen stones of a colonial burying ground This new collection of seventy two poems will allow readers to delight in the richness of Logan's language and the boldness of his vision

Farming in Modern Irish Literature Nicholas Grene, 2021-08-05 This innovative study analyzes the range of representation of farming in Irish literature in the period since independence partition in 1922 as Ireland moved from a largely agricultural to a developed urban society In many different forms including poetry drama fiction and autobiography writers have made literary capital by looking back at their rural backgrounds even where those may be a generation back The first five chapters examine some of the key themes the impact of inheritance on family in the patriarchal system where there could only be one male heir the struggles for survival in the poorest regions of the West of Ireland the uses of childhood farming memories whether idyllic or traumatic and the representation of communities challenging the homogeneous idealizing images of the Literary Revival the impact of modernization on successive generations into the twenty first century The final three chapters are devoted to three major writers in whose work farming is central Patrick Kavanagh the small farmer who had to find an individual voice to express his own unique experience John McGahern in whose fiction the life of the farm is always posited as alternative to a rootless urban milieu and Seamus Heaney who re imagined his farming childhood in so many different modes throughout his career Farming in Modern Irish Literature yields original insights into the literary iconography of rural Ireland and its interplay with social and cultural history opening up fresh vistas on the achievements of Irish writers in different genres styles and historical eras
