Lourdes Portillo:

Lourdes Portillo Rosa Linda Fregoso, 2014-02-19 Filmmaker Lourdes Portillo sees her mission as channeling the hopes and dreams of a people. Clearly political commitment has inspired her choice of subjects. With themes ranging from state repression to AIDS, Portillo's films include Después del Terremoto, the Oscar-nominated Las Madres, The Mothers of the Plaza de Mayo, La Ofrenda, The Days of the Dead, The Devil Never Sleeps, and Corpus A Home Movie for Selena. The first study of Portillo and her films, this collection is collaborative and multifaceted in approach, emphasizing aspects of authorial creativity, audience reception, and production processes typically hidden from view. Rosa Linda Fregoso, the volume editor, has organized the book into three parts: interviews by Fregoso and Kathleen Newman and B. Ruby Rich; critical perspectives; essays by Fregoso, Yvonne Yarbro Bejarano, Sylvie Thouard, Norma Iglesias, and Barbara McBane; and production materials: screenplays, script notes, storyboards, etc. This innovative collection provides inside information on the challenges of making independent films. By describing the production constraints Portillo has surmounted, Fregoso deepens our appreciation of this gifted filmmaker's life, her struggles, and the evolution of her art.

The Force of Witness Rosa-Linda Fregoso, 2023-02-27 In The Force of Witness, Rosa-Linda Fregoso examines the contra feminicide movement in Mexico and other feminist efforts to eradicate gender violence. Drawing on interviews, art, documentaries, and her years of activism, Fregoso traces the micro and macro scales of misogyny and the patterns of state complicity with gender violence. She shows how different forms of witnessing—from activist mothers bearing witness to the memories of their daughters and expert witnesses in court cases to communal witnessing and a scholar-activist citizen witnessing her own actions—are key to resisting feminicidal violence. Fregoso situates these forms of witness in the histories, contexts, structures, bodies, and intersectional struggles they emerge from. By outlining the complexities of feminicidal violence in relation to witnessing processes, Fregoso challenges the notion of witness as an individual or autonomous subject inscribed solely in the legal or religious arenas. Rather, she theorizes witness as a force of collectivity and a constellation of multiple social locations and intersectional practices that work together to abolish feminicidal violence.

Spilling the Beans in Chicanolandia Frederick Luis Aldama, 2010-01-01 Since the 1980s, a prolific second wave of Chicano writers and artists has tremendously expanded the range of genres and subject matter in Chicano literature and art. Building on the pioneering work of their predecessors whose artistic creations were often tied to political activism and the civil rights struggle, today's Chicano writers and artists feel free to focus as much on the aesthetic quality of their work as on its social content. They use novels, short stories, poetry, drama, documentary films, and comic books to shape the raw materials of life into art objects that cause us to participate empathetically in an increasingly complex Chicano identity and experience. This book presents far-ranging interviews with twenty-one second-wave Chicano poets, fiction writers, dramatists, documentary filmmakers, and playwrights. Some are mainstream, widely recognized creators, while others work from the margins because of their sexual orientations or their controversial positions. Frederick Luis

Aldama draws out the artists and authors on both the aesthetic and the sociopolitical concerns that animate their work Their conversations delve into such areas as how the artists or writers life experiences have molded their work why they choose to work in certain genres and how they have transformed them what it means to be Chicano a in today s pluralistic society and how Chicano a identity influences and is influenced by contact with ethnic and racial identities from around the world

Border Cinema Monica Hanna, Rebecca A. Sheehan, 2019-04-15 The rise of digital media and globalization s intensification since the 1990s have significantly refigured global cinema s form and content The coincidence of digitalization and globalization has produced what this book helps to define and describe as a flourishing border cinema whose aesthetics reflect construct intervene in denature and reconfigure geopolitical borders This collection demonstrates how border cinema resists contemporary border fortification processes showing how cinematic media have functioned technologically and aesthetically to engender contemporary shifts in national and individual identities while proposing alternative conceptions of these identities to those promulgated by the often restrictive current political rhetoric and ideologies that represent a backlash to globalization
