A Lover's Discourse Roland Barthes, 1978 Barthes's most popular and unusual performance as a writer is A Lover's Discourse a writing out of the discourse of love This language primarily the complaints and reflections of the lover when alone not exchanges of a lover with his or her partner is unfashionable Thought it is spoken by millions of people diffused in our popular romances and television programs as well as in serious literature there is no institution that explores maintains modifies judges repeats and otherwise assumes responsibility for this discourse Writing out the figures of a neglected discourse Barthes surprises us in A Lover's Discourse by making love in its most absurd and sentimental forms an object of interest Jonathan Culler

Fragments D'un Discours Amoureux. English . a Lover's Discourse : Fragments Roland Barthes, 1979 A Lover's Discourse Professor Roland Barthes, 2010-07 Traditional Chinese edition of A Lover's Discourse Fragments A study of the heart and the discourses that occur when a lover is on his or her own apart from the other person

The intertextuality of Roland Barthes's "The Lover's Discourse" in Jeffrey Eugenides novel "The Marriage Plot" Olena Brandes, 2022-08-31 Seminar paper from the year 2021 in the subject Literature Comparative Literature grade 1.7 University of Göttingen language English abstract The aim of this paper is to explore the different intertextual links between the two literary works While the main character Madeleine deconstructs Barthes's deconstruction of love in her term paper and applies it to her own life the narrator deconstructs Madeleine's love life and this paper should deconstruct the narration's deconstruction of the relationship If the concept of love is to be seen as an architectural building consisting of a foundation roofs walls floors stairs openings standing in a specific location and having a personal interior design it can be disassembled into its individual parts Even though most buildings are different and few are identical they all share the same basic elements they are built of The French philosopher Roland Barthes breaks down the concept of love into its fragments in his work A Lover's Discourse 1977 34 years later the American novelist Jeffrey Eugenides publishes a romance novel The Marriage Plot 2011 where Barthes's fragments are a reference point to the narrator Some of these fragments are direct quotes but most remain unsaid lying under the surface Finding all fragments would go beyond the constraints of this paper Thus the focus should be on only a few fragments In particular focusing on the most prominent main character's perspective while the plot contains two more discourses on love from the main character's love interests      Paralyses John Culbert, 2010-01-01 Modernity has long been equated with motion travel and change from Marx's critical diagnoses of economic instability to the Futurists glorification of speed Likewise metaphors of travel serve widely in discussions of empire cultural contact translation and globalization from Deleuze's nomadology to James Clifford's traveling cultures John Culbert in contrast argues that the key texts of modernity and postmodernity may be approached through figures and narratives of paralysis motion is no more defining of modern travel than fixations resistance and impasse concepts and figures of travel he posits must be rethought in this more static light Focusing on the French and Francophone context in which paralyzed travel is a persistent motif Culbert also offers new insights into French critical theory and its often paradoxical figures of mobility from Blanchot's pas au del and Barthes's dérive to Derrida's aporias and Glissant's diversions Here we see that paralysis is not merely the failure of transport but rather the condition in which travel by coming to a crisis calls into question both mobility and stasis in the language of desire and the order of knowledge Paralyses provides a close analysis of the rhetoric of empire and the economy of tourism precisely at their points of breakdown which in turn enables a deconstruction of master narratives of exploration conquest and exoticism A reassessment of key authors of French modernity from Nerval and Gautier to Fromentin Paulhan Beckett Leiris and Boudjedra Paralyses also constitutes a new theoretical intervention in debates on travel translation ethics and postcoloniality

Interculturality in Fragments Fred Dervin, 2022-10-28 This book continues the author's long term reflections over 20 years of scholarship and experience in intercultural communication education around the fascinating and yet contestable notion of interculturality in education As an unstable and polysemic notion interculturality deserves to be opened up again and again and there is a need to engage with it continuously observing critiquing and problematizing its complexities This book urges researchers students and interculturalists to take the time to think carefully and deeply about interculturality and to find inspiration beyond the dominating Western ideological world of intercultural research and education This book starts from short fragments written by the author for himself over a period of one year In these short statements and notes about interculturality the author reflects creatively on the questions he had in mind at the time of writing and offers some temporary answers which in turn are questioned and revised Over the 1000 fragments that the author wrote he selected about 100 for which he wrote commentaries referring to and reviewing current research and debates on interculturality in the process One of the specificities of the book is to be highly multidisciplinary to help us get used to looking for inspiration in other fields of research and creativity The fragments can be read randomly the reader may open the book at any page and pick any fragment The author suggests reading each individual fragment first and then the accompanying explanatory texts While reading them the reader is also invited to reflect on any potential addition to what the author wrote anything they might disagree with anything they would have wanted to discuss with the author Questions have been added at the end of each chapter for readers to reflect on and to enrich their own criticality and reflexivity The book serves as continuous guidance for engaging with interculturality Special Issue: Roland Barthes' Fragments of a Lover's Discourse Patrick Ffrench, Timothy Mathews, 2023 Encounters with the Other Martin Calder, 2021-12-28 Encounters with the Other brings together a range of eighteenth century texts in which the exploration of lingua incognita figures as a prominent topos Drawing mostly on a corpus of French texts but also including a number of works in English Martin Calder attempts to realign well known texts with more canonically marginalized works The originality of the perspectives offered by this book lies in the comparative reading of works not previously conjoined Encounters with otherness are marked by a transgression of the limits of language occurring when language becomes alien or unfamiliar Alterity may take various forms a foreign language a familiar language marked by the traits of foreignness something unrecognizable as language or even one's own language breaking down as in madness Unfamiliar language may be produced by a foreigner by a child who cannot yet speak in extreme cases by something unrecognizably human in all cases by an agency somehow marked by difference Narratives of encounters with otherness have written into them narratives of the discovery of the self Implicitly informed by the reading techniques associated with literary theory Encounters with the Other offers an insightful commentary on issues surrounding colonialism cultural difference gender and the importance of language to identity Martin Calder's work challenges certain Eurocentric notions and exposes the problematic links between Enlightenment rationality and colonial expansion This book is of interest both to undergraduate students and to academic researchers and to a more general readership concerned with understanding the relationship between Europe the West and a wider world Discourses of Desire Linda S. Kauffman, 1988 Kauffman looks at a neglected genre the love letter written by literary heroines Tracing the development of the genre from Ovid to the twentieth century novel she explores the important implications of these amatory discourses for an understanding of fictive representation in general Dialectical Readings Stephen N. Banality of Saturation Marion considers some of the most recent objections brought against his notion of the saturated phenomenon and responds to them in detail suggesting that saturated phenomena are neither as rare nor as inflexible as often assumed The work contains two chapters not previously available in English and brings together several other pieces previously translated but now difficult to find For readers interested in the relation between the two disciplines this is indispensable reading

Intimate Relations Christine Weder, 2024 Shows that engagement with art and literature was essential to the programmatic sexual theories of the late 1960s and early 70s and that the period's aesthetic theories were characterized by forms of sexual obsession In the period around and after 1968 sexuality and the arts entered into a remarkably intimate and mutually beneficial relationship on one hand scientific theories of sexuality and their pop psychological counterparts incorporated lengthy reflections on art movements and literary texts since artistic media were understood as crucial to the project of inventing radically new modes of human living and loving On the other hand the aesthetic ambitions that informed new conceptions of sexuality had their mirror image in the varying forms of sexual obsession that characterized contemporary aesthetic theories Approaches as diverse as those of Theodor W Adorno Roland Barthes Susan Sontag Leslie A Fiedler Peter Goren and Herbert and Ludwig Marcuse all contributed to a dramatic eroticization of the arts Christine Weder's interdisciplinary study explores this largely neglected relationship providing a dual insight into an era of profound transformation she demonstrates how and why the engagement with art and literature was essential to the programmatic theories of the new Eros At the same time she offers a fresh historical perspective on aesthetics around 1968 Whereas aesthetic developments in the late sixties have conventionally been conceived in terms of politicization Weder demonstrates that the sexualization of the arts was no less profound and in doing so contributes to a fundamental reframing of this tumultuous period
