Low Countries And The New Worlds:

The Low Countries and the New World(s) Johanna C. Prins, 2000 The Low Countries and the New World s is a collection of specialized studies in the Netherlandic field covering topics in Dutch Literature Linguistics History and Art History This volume focuses on the tradition of travel exploration and discovery of new worlds by the Low Countries throughout history In the process the Low Countries have reflected on their own character expanded their experience by exploring other cultures and built small outposts of that culture in many places Colonial Writing and the New World, 1583-1671 Thomas Scanlan, 1999-09-16 Looks at implications of colonialism for both English and Americans Colonization of the New World John Fiske, 1902 Discord and Consensus in the Low Countries, 1700-2000 Jane Fenoulhet, Gerdi Quist, Ulrich Tiedau, 2016-05-02 All countries regions and institutions are ultimately built on a degree of consensus on a collective commitment to a concept belief or value system This consensus is continuously rephrased and reinvented through a narrative of cohesion and challenged by expressions of discontent and discord The history of the Low Countries is characterised by both a striving for consensus and eruptions of discord both internally and from external challenges This interdisciplinary volume explores consensus and discord in a Low Countries context along broad cultural linguistic and historical lines Disciplines represented include early modern and contemporary history art history film literature and translation scholars from both the Low Countries and beyond Historical research in the Low Countries 1970-1975 Alice C. Carter, 2024-09-16 The five review articles included in this volume were produced by the Dutch History Seminar of the University of London with the assistance of several Belgian and Dutch historians They first appeared in the volumes VI X of the Acta Historiae Neerlandicae in 1978 renamed The Low Countries History Yearbook a periodical published by the Dutch Historical Society with the objective of bringing new publications on the history of the Low Countries in the Dutch language to the attention of English speaking historians These articles have been republished and provided with indexes in the hope that in this form they will also prove to be useful to students of Belgian and Dutch history who have not been regular readers of the Acta Should this publication be favourably received a subsequent volume covering the years 1976 1981 may be issued THE EDITORS VII Survey of recent Dutch Historiography ALICE C CARTER Editor INTRODUCTION This bibliographical article has been put together by members of the Dutch history seminar held at London University s Institute of Historical Research The article is intended for non Dutch reading scholars and indeed all who are interested in Netherlands history An attempt has been made and will continue to be made to survey important works published in the year previous to that in which the article is drawn up This year we have concerned ourselves with books or in the earlier part of 1971 The New World Winston Churchill, 2022-11-13 The New World covers the period of the history of Britain from Renaissance Reformation to The Revolution of 1688 Sir Winston Churchill 1874 1965 was a British statesman army officer and writer who served as Prime Minister of the United Kingdom from 1940 to 1945 and again from 1951 to 1955 In addition to his careers of soldier and politician Winston Churchill was a prolific writer He started as a war journalist on Cuba and continued in British India then in the Sudan during the Mahdist War and in southern Africa during the Second Boer War Churchill received the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1953

New Worlds, New Geographies John Rennie Short,2000-03-01 John Rennie Short maintains that the new world order is neither new nor orderly His book New Worlds New Geographies connects global change urban transformation and scholarly integrity The disintegration of the comforting illusion that the present is just a continuation of the past demands a closer evaluation of how to live one s life in the fragmented chaotic world of postmodernity and the current distrust of rationality and progress In a personal yet analytical style Short elucidates the struggles of governments and individuals to situate themselves within changing nation states and the restructurings of urban spaces into a kind of global village Short insists that it is the responsibility of academics to help make order out of the chaos of postmodernity and make sense of the relationships between people and the environment the social and the spatial the structural and the personal From the restructuring of a new world order to the reappraisal of the role of academics this accessible collection of essays calls for a progressive human geography to help cope with the political changes of a postmodern age New Worlds New Geographies represents a reluctant postmodernist and resident alien s attempt to make sense of a changing world

Translating Knowledge in the Early Modern Low Countries Harold John Cook,Sven Dupré,2012 Knowledge of nature may be common to all of humanity yet it is written in many tongues The story of the Tower of Babel is not only an etiology of the multitude of languages it also suggests that a confusion of tongues confounds communication However as the contributors to this volume show translation is always a transformation This book examines how such transformations generate new knowledge and how translations helped to establish a new science Situated at the border of the Germanic and Romance languages home to a highly educated population the Low Countries fostered multilingualism and became one of the chief sites for translation

The Renaissance and Reformation in Northern Europe Margaret McGlynn,Kenneth R. Bartlett,2014-10-23 This updated version of Humanism and the Northern Renaissance now includes over 60 documents exploring humanist and Renaissance ideals the zeal of religion and the wealth of the new world Together the sources illuminate the chaos and brilliance of the historical period as well as its failures and inconsistencies The reader has been thoroughly revised to meet the needs of the undergraduate classroom Over 30 historical documents have been added including material by Martin Luther John Calvin John Knox William Shakespeare Christopher Columbus Miguel de Cervantes and Galileo Galilei In the introduction Bartlett and McGlynn identify humanism as the central expression of the European Renaissance and explain how this idea migrated from Italy to northern Europe. The editors also emphasize the role of the church and Christianity in northern Europe and detail the events leading up to the Reformation. A short essay on how to read historical documents is included. Each reading is preceded by a short introduction and ancillary materials can be found on UTP's History Matters website www.utphistorymatters.com. New World, Inc. John Butman, Simon Targett, 2025-04-08. Three generations of English merchant adventurers not the Pilgrims as we have so long believed were the earliest founders of America. Profit not piety was their primary motive. Some seventy years before the Mayflower sailed a small group of English merchants formed The Mysterie Company and Fellowship of Merchant Adventurers for the Discovery of Regions Dominions Islands and Places Unknown the world's first joint stock company. Back then in the mid sixteenth century England was a small and relatively insignificant kingdom on the periphery of Europe and it had begun to face a daunting array of social commercial and political problems. Struggling with a single export woolen cloth the merchants were forced to seek new markets and trading partners especially as political discord followed the straitened circumstances in which so many English people found themselves. At first they headed east and dreamed of Cathay China with its silks and exotic luxuries. Eventually they turned west and so began a new chapter in world history. The work of reaching the New World required the very latest in navigational science as well as an extraordinary appetite for risk. As this absorbing account shows innovation and risk taking were at the heart of the settlement of America as was the profit motive. Trade and business drove English interest in America and determined what happened once their ships reached the New World. The result of extensive archival work and a bold interpretation of the historical record New World Inc. draws a portrait of life in London on the Atlantic and across the New World that offers a fresh analysis of the founding of American history. In the tradition of the best works of history that make us reconsider the past and better understand the present Butman and Targett examine the enterprising spirit that inspired European settlement of America and established a national culture of entrepreneurship and innovation that continues to this day. War in the World Jeremy Black, 2017-09-16. War was a central theme in the world history of the late fifteenth and sixteenth centuries with military capability and activity central to its states societies economies and cultures. War in the World 1450-1600 provides an account of warfare in the period placing it in global context. It offers a corrective to a narrative that has emphasised European developments and obscured the history of non-European military systems and cultures of war. Highlighting conflict between non-Western powers which constituted most of the conflict around the world as well as giving due attention to warfare between Western and non-Western powers Black emphasises the breadth and variety of military trajectories and connections. This comparative context also provides a framework for considering the idea of a European based Military Revolution. A wide ranging account of world military history in a period of substantial development the book will be essential reading for those interested in global history and conflict. War in the World 1450-1600 is designed as a companion volume to Jeremy Black's Beyond the Military Revolution Warfare in the Seventeenth Century World      Crossings Walter Nugent,1992-12-22 During the period 1870 1914 the Atlantic was a broad highway for migration Unchecked by government restrictions wars or economic depressions and aided by the new technologies of steamships and railroads millions of people uprooted their lives and set off for new lands Americans understand this story as a great saga of immigrants and assimilation of people drawn to the United States as to the promised land of opportunity But what lay behind this great migration And how unique was the American experience To answer these questions Walter Nugent looks at this massive movement of people from both sides of the Atlantic Tracing the migrations of more than a dozen national groups from Europe to the four major New World receiving countries Argentina Brazil Canada and the United States Nugent discovers a complex story of crossings and recrossings of tens of millions of human experiences and decisions Nugent follows the migrants who left rural Europe for American mines and factories but he also compares the experiences of Europeans on the very different frontiers of settlement at the far reaches of the four receiving countries And he discusses the migration of women not only wives and mothers within migrating families but also individuals seeking a new life on their own Nugent asks important questions about American uniqueness in the context of transatlantic migration history and about the validity of widely held theories of development He finds that the history of the great migrations is more complex and subtle than these theories His superb synthesis broadens the scope and clarifies the details of a fascinating story of enormous social and demographic change      The New World ,1840      Finders and Founders of the New World James Albert Woodburn,Thomas Francis Moran,1925      AF Press Clips ,1978-07      The World Health Organization between North and South Nitsan Chorev,2012-05-15 Since 1948 the World Health Organization WHO has launched numerous programs aimed at improving health conditions around the globe ranging from efforts to eradicate smallpox to education programs about the health risks of smoking In setting global health priorities and carrying out initiatives the WHO bureaucracy has faced the challenge of reconciling the preferences of a small minority of wealthy nations who fund the organization with the demands of poorer member countries who hold the majority of votes In The World Health Organization between North and South Nitsan Chorev shows how the WHO bureaucracy has succeeded not only in avoiding having its agenda co opted by either coalition of member states but also in reaching a consensus that fit the bureaucracy's own principles and interests Chorev assesses the response of the WHO bureaucracy to member state pressure in two particularly contentious moments when during the 1970s and early 1980s developing countries forcefully called for a more equal international economic order and when in the 1990s the United States and other wealthy countries demanded international organizations adopt neoliberal economic reforms In analyzing these two periods Chorev demonstrates how strategic maneuvering made it possible for a vulnerable bureaucracy to preserve a relatively autonomous agenda promote a consistent set of values and protect its interests in the face of challenges from developing and developed countries alike

Becoming Anabaptist J. Denny Weaver,1987-05-09 When Becoming Anabaptist appeared in 1987 it was the first major study to incorporate the new history of multiple beginnings and a diverse Anabaptism into a synthesis of meanings for the late 20th century J Denny Weaver's attempt was welcomed and widely acclaimed by scholars and by church leaders alike In this second edition Weaver provides a masterful treatment of his beloved Anabaptist vision William Willimon in the Foreword
