The Ecology of the Cambrian Radiation Robert Riding, 2001 The Cambrian radiation was the explosive evolution of marine life that started 550 000 000 years ago It ranks as one of the most important episodes in Earth history This key event in the history of life on our planet changed the marine biosphere and its sedimentary environment forever requiring a complex interplay of wide ranging biologic and nonbiologic processes The Ecology of the Cambrian Radiation offers a comprehensive and surprising picture of the Earth at that ancient time The book contains contributions from thirty three authors hailing from ten countries and will be of interest to paleontologists geologists biologists and other researchers interested in the global Earth life system Fundamentals of Invertebrate Palaeontology Sreepat Jain, 2016-11-30 This

Metazoa Jere H. Lipps, Philip W. Signor, 2013-11-21 Several years ago we realized that the most prominent ideas that had been expressed about the origin and early evolution of the Metazoa seemed to have been developed chiefly by zoologists using evidence from modern species without reference to the fossil record Paleontologists had in fact put forth their own ideas but the zoological and the paleontological evidence were about the problem seldom considered together especially by zoologists We believed that the paleontological documentation of the first Metazoa was too scattered too obscure to Western readers and much of it too recent to have been readily available to our colleagues in zoology Whether or not that was entirely true we thought that a single volume reviewing the fossil record of the earliest Metazoa would be useful to many in both paleontology and zoology especially since so much new information has been developed in the last few years Some of this information has been summarized in general articles recently but an overview of most of the field does not exist We therefore organized this book in five parts so that the evidence could be placed in perspective and summarized and inferences made from it Part I introduces the previous hypotheses that have been proposed for the origin and early radiation of Metazoa Part II consists of two summary chapters that set the sedimentological geochemical and biological background to the known radiations of Metazoa
