Optical Coatings for Effective Solar Energy Utilization K. A. Gesheva, 2007 The subject of the book is CVD thin film optical coatings for application in photothermal solar energy conversion The specific character of the materials research in the area of thermal solar energy conversion is the necessity of large areas for interception of the solar flux The interceptive surfaces meeting the solar flux are mainly thin film for cost effective purposes coatings and the price of their production should be very low Besides they must withstand high temperatures reaching in some applications 500 degrees C and the film should be stable for a long time 15 20 years The possible diffusion processes lead to structure changes in thin films and deterioration of optical properties These coatings differ from the ones for thin film optics where the applications are basically at room temperature These coatings differ also from the microelectronics materials where miniaturisation lowered the price

Pridgeon, 2022 The incredible story of the Meinel's has never been told nor have their accomplishments and contributions ever been adequately recounted in one publication This book is an effort to redress that oversight using interviews from those who knew them best their own prodigious body of work including an unpublished autobiography and documentation in Presidential libraries as well as universities and the National Archives Self-Organized 3D Integrated Optical Interconnects Tetsuzo

Yoshimura, 2021-03-09 Currently light waves are ready to come into boxes of computers in high performance computing systems like data centers and super computers to realize intra box optical interconnects For inter box optical interconnects light waves have successfully been introduced by OE modules in which discrete bulk chip OE electronic devices are assembled using the flip chip bonding based packaging technology OE modules however are not applicable to intra box optical interconnects because intra box interconnects involve short line distances of the cm mm order and large line counts of hundreds thousands This causes optics excess namely excess components materials spaces fabrication efforts for packaging and design efforts The optics excess raises sizes and costs of intra box optical interconnects enormously when they are built using conventional OE modules This book proposes the concept of self organized 3D integrated optical interconnects and the strategy to reduce optics excess in intra box optical interconnects Energy Research Abstracts
