American Anthropology in Micronesia Robert Kiste, Mac Marshall, 1999-03-01 This text evaluates how anthropological research in the Trust Territory has affected the Micronesian people the US colonial administration and the discipline of anthropology itself It analyzes the interplay between anthropology and history in particular how American colonialism affected anthropologists use of history and examines the research that has been conducted by American anthropologists in specific topical areas of sociocultural anthropology The text concentrates on disciplinary concerns but also considers the connections between work done in the era of applied anthropology and that completed later when anthropology was pursued mainly for its own sake

Gangs and Youth Subcultures Kayleen M. Hazlehurst, Cameron Hazlehurst, Despite nearly a century of scholarly inquiry into street gangs and youth subcultures no single work systematically reflects on comparative international experiences with gangs Gangs and Youth Subcultures takes up this challenge Kayleen Hazlehurst and Cameron Hazlehurst argue that theories of gang behavior in immigrant communities and the influence of transnational crime syndicates are better tested in more than one host society Similar phenomena would be better understood if placed in a comparative context To this purpose the editors assembled expert scholars and policy advisers from North America Europe South Africa and Australasia Gangs and Youth Subcultures lays the ground work for an explanation of why gangs continue to grow in strength and influence and why they have spread to remote locations This book will interest scholars and teachers of criminology and sociology justice system administrators as well as law enforcement officers and youth workers internationally

The Thin Brown Line Tahu Hera Kukutai, 2010 This study critically examines inequality within New Zealand's indigenous M ori population Specifically it asks whether strong ties to M ori identity incur higher socio economic costs Historical expository analysis is undertaken in concert with statistical analyses of data from the New Zealand Census of Population and Dwellings 1996 2001 2006 and a longitudinal study of M ori households I find strong evidence of ethnic and socio economic segmentation within the M ori population In each census individuals identified exclusively as M ori by ethnicity are the most disadvantaged across a wide range of socio economic indicators Those identified as M ori solely by ancestry are the least disadvantaged Pronounced differences in M ori language ability and intra M ori partnering are also evident indicating that the association between M ori identification and disadvantage may be partially explained by ties to M ori identity Regression analyses of multi wave survey data reveal a complex set of relationships Changing patterns of identification suggest self designation as a M ori is best conceived as a fluid contingent process rather than a stable individual trait M ori identification is generally a less salient predictor of disadvantage than specific ties to M ori identity expressed through network ties language and practices However while some ties to M ori identity appear to incur high socio economic costs other ties are inconsequential or advantageous Taken together the analyses contribute new insights into patterns of inequality between M ori and highlight the need for more careful theorizing and interpretation of ethnicity variables in empirical analysis Political Science ,1998 Ethnic Forum ,1993 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1993-04 The Struggle to Preserve Turangawaewae Holly YoungBear-Tibbetts,1996 Akka Bakka Frank Heidemann,2006 Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1996 Perceptions of Justice Kayleen M. Hazlehurst,1995 Perceptions of Justice documents common emerging experience in Canada Australia and New Zealand of growing significance to policy makers This book places criminal justice issues in contemporary political contexts and relates them to practical concerns about the rights and aspirations of indigenous peoples for self determination International Criminal Justice Review ,1991 Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 Arts & Humanities Citation Index ,1994 Political Expression and Ethnicity: the State of the Art in the Maori World Kayleen May Hazlehurst,1990
