Inventing 'Easter Island' Beverley Haun, 2008-04-05 Easter Island or Rapa Nui as it is known to its inhabitants is located in the Pacific Ocean 3600 kilometres west of South America Annexed by Chile in 1888 the island has been a source of fascination for the world beyond the island since the first visit by Europeans in 1722 due to its intriguing statues and complex history Inventing Easter Island examines narrative strategies and visual conventions in the discursive construction of Easter Island as distinct from the native conception of Rapa Nui It looks at the geographic imaginary that pervaded the eighteenth century a period of overwhelming imperial expansion Beverley Haun begins with a discussion of forces that shaped the European version of island culture and goes on to consider the representation of that culture in the form of explorer texts and illustrations as well as more recent texts and images in comic books and kitsch from off the island Throughout Easter Island is used as a case study of the impact of imperialism on the view of a culture from outside The study hinges on three key points an inquiry into the formation of Easter Island as a subject an examination of how the constructed space and culture have been shaped reshaped and represented in discursive spaces and a discussion of cultural memory and how the constraints of foreign texts and images have shaped thought and action about Easter Island Richly illustrated and unique in its findings Inventing Easter Island will appeal to cultural theorists anthropologists educators and anyone interested in the history of the South Pacific

The Easter Island Peter Hertel, Tim Gernitz, 2025-09-03 Easter Sunday 1722 The sea roars After a seemingly never ending journey across the Pacific the outlines of an island appear in the morning mist Captain Roggeveen and his crew christen it Isla de Pascua Easter Island For more than 50 years the Freiberg Archive for Civilisation Research has been researching the history of Easter Island in the South Pacific This non fiction book is the unconventional result The early history of Easter Island is based only on myths but not on proven facts Numerous authors gathered verbal reports of old natives of the 19th and 20th centuries And created a construct that at best can only be described as a fairy tale Easter Island was once after the collapse of its first great culture a place of devastation a place of human disasters And a symbol of what will happen to humanity if it does not take care of its life their dealings with each other and their planet

Rapa Nui Kevin Reynolds, Tim Rose-Price, 1994 Three books in one a photo and word essay on Easter Island and its ancient culture the illustrated story of the film and a fascinating report on the adventure of moviemaking in one of the most remote locations on earth The more than 160 illustrations over 80 in full color include production stills scenic photos of the island historical art and maps

White Lens on Brown Skin Matthew B. Locey,2023-02-21 From the earliest accounts of contact with Europeans Polynesians have been perceived as sensual and sexual beings By the late 1800s publications lectures and stage plays about the Pacific became popular across Europe and often contained exotic and erotic components This book details the fusion of truth and fiction in the representation of Pacific Islanders focusing on the sexualization of Polynesians in American cinema and other forms of mass communications and commercial entertainment With messaging almost subliminal to American audiences the Hollywood media machine produced hundreds of tropical film titles with images of revealing grass skirts scanty sarongs female toplessness and glistening exposed male pectorals This critical filmography demonstrates how the concept of sex sells especially when applied on a large scale shaped American social views on Polynesian people and their culture Chapters document this phenomenon and an annotated filmography of sexualized tropes and several appendices conclude the book including a glossary of Polynesian terms and a film index The Film Archipelago Antonio Gómez,Francisco-J. Hernández Adrián,2021-12-16 How do the islands and archipelagos of the New World figure in Latin American cinema Comprising 15 essays and a critical introduction The Film Archipelago Islands in Latin American Cinema addresses this question by examining a series of intersections between insular spaces and filmmaking in Latin America. The volume brings together international scholars and filmmakers to consider a diverse corpus of films about islands: films that take place on islands, films produced in islands, and films that problematise islands. The book explores a diverse range of films that extend from the Chilean documentaries of Patricio Guzmán to work on the Malvinas/Falkland Islands, and films by Argentine directors Gustavo Fontán and Lucrecia Martel. Chapters focus on Rapa Nui/Easter Island, the Mexican Islas Marías, and the Panamanian Caribbean, on ecocritical, environmental, and film historical aspects of Brazilian and Argentine river islands, and on Cuban, Guadeloupean, Haitian, and Puerto Rican contexts. The Film Archipelago argues that the islands and archipelagos of Latin American cinema constitute a critically interesting, analytically complex, and historically suggestive angle to explore issues of marginality and peripherality, remoteness and isolation, and fragility and dependency. As a whole, the collection demonstrates to what extent the combined insular and archipelagic lens can re-frame and re-figure both longstanding and recent discussions on the spaces of Latin American cinema.

Surrealism, Cinema, and the Search for a New Myth Kristoffer Noheden, 2017-06-28 This book examines post-war surrealist cinema in relation to surrealism's change in direction towards myth and magic following World War II. Intermedial and interdisciplinary, the book unites cinema studies with art history and the study of Western esotericism, closely engaging with a wide range of primary sources, including surrealist journals, art exhibitions, and writings. Kristoffer Noheden looks to the Danish surrealist artist Wilhelm Freddie's forays into the experimental short film, the French poet Benjamin Péret's contribution to the documentary film L Invention du monde the Argentinean born filmmaker Nelly Kaplan's feature films and the Czech animator Jan Svankmajer's work in short and feature films The book traces a continuous engagement with myth and magic throughout these films uncovering a previously unknown strain of occult imagery in surrealist cinema It broadens the scope of the study of not only surrealist cinema but of surrealism across the art forms Surrealism Cinema and the Search for a New Myth will appeal to film scholars art historians and those interested in the impact of occultism on modern culture film and the arts The Journal of Pacific History Bibliography, 1988 The Survival of Easter Island Jan J.

Boersema, 2015-04-13 In this book Jan J Boersema reconstructs the ecological and cultural history of Easter Island and critiques the hitherto accepted theory of the collapse of its civilization The collapse theory advanced most recently by Jared Diamond and Clive Ponting is based on the documented overexploitation of natural resources particularly woodlands on which Easter Island culture depended Deforestation is said to have led to erosion followed by hunger conflict and economic and cultural collapse Drawing on scientific data and historical sources including the shipping journals of the Dutch merchant who was the first European to visit the island in 1722 Boersema shows that deforestation did not in fact jeopardize food production and lead to starvation and violence On the basis of historical and scientific evidence Boersema demonstrates how Easter Island society responded to cultural and environmental change as it evolved and managed to survive Die

Culture and Waste Gay Hawkins, Stephen Muecke, 2003 Waste is a key category for understanding cultural value It is not just the bad stuff we dispose of it is material we constantly struggle to redeem Cultures seem to spend as much energy reclassifying negativity as they do on establishing the negative itself The huge tertiary sector devoted to waste management converts garbage into money while ecological movements continue to stress human values and the natural But the problems waste poses are never simply economic or environmental The international contributors to this collection ask us to pause and consider the complex ways in which value is created and destroyed Their diverse approaches of ethics philosophy cultural studies and politics are at the forefront of a new field of ecohumanities The Garland Encyclopedia of World Music Ruth M.
