Küchemann,L. H. G. Sterne,2016-07-04 Progress in Aeronautical Sciences Volume 6 reviews advances in aeronautical sciences and considers a wide range of problems related to aerodynamics including some classical problems of fluid motion and those affecting hypersonic aircraft Topics covered range from equations of gas flow at low density nonequilibrium expansion flows of dissociated oxygen and ionized argon around a corner and the role of spatially growing waves in the theory of hydrodynamic stability This volume is comprised of five chapters and begins with a discussion on flows of gases where the density of the gas is too low for equations of continuum gas dynamics to be applicable The kinetic theory of gases is used to derive the equations governing such flows The second chapter deals with the nature of shock waves in flows of electrically conducting gases subjected to magnetic fields The third chapter is concerned with the theory of two dimensional flows of dissociated oxygen or ionized argon expanding around a corner The fourth chapter goes back to the classical problem of hydrodynamic stability and the possible mechanics underlying the transition from the laminar to a turbulent state of the flow The last chapter describes a future type of aircraft that can fly at hypersonic speeds This book will be a useful resource for students and practitioners in the field of aeronautics Advances in Atomic and Molecular Physics ,1965-01-01 Advances in Atomic and Molecular Physics Rarefied Gas Dynamics L. Electron Optical Studies of Low-pressure Gases Ladislaus Marton,1963 The goal of this work was to develop and demonstrate the suitability of electron optical techniques for recording the spatial distribution of gas molecules at fixed times with sufficient accuracy that the velocity distribution could be derived The work concentrated on the properties of chopped molecular beam pulse correspond to a pressure of less than 10 to the minus 7th power Torr The project was successful During the course of this program equipment was built methods of operation were developed the theory of the electron optical schlieren was developed in some detail and ways of efficiently converting the data obtained into velocity distributions of the gas molecule were investigated Proceedings of the Royal Society of London Royal Society (Great Britain),1963
