schools of religious phenomenology Teaching Interreligious Encounters Marc A. Pugliese, Alexander Y. Hwang, 2017 Divided into five components of teaching interreligious encounters Theory Design Textual Analysis Practice and Formation this volume guides both new teachers and seasoned scholars in addressing the sometimes challenging questions raised by contact between divergent faiths The Oxford Handbook of the Study of Religion Michael Stausberg, Steven Engler, 2016-11-17 The Oxford Handbook of the Study of Religion provides a comprehensive overview of the academic study of religion Written by an international team of leading scholars its fifty one chapters are divided thematically into seven sections The first section addresses five major conceptual aspects of research on religion Part two surveys eleven main frameworks of analysis interpretation and explanation of religion Reflecting recent turns in the humanities and social sciences part three considers eight forms of the expression of religion Part four provides a discussion of the ways societies and religions or religious organizations are shaped by different forms of allocation of resources Other chapters in this section consider law the media nature medicine politics science sports and tourism Part five reviews important developments distinctions and arguments for each of the selected topics The study of religion addresses religion as a historical phenomenon and part six looks at seven historical processes Religion is studied in various ways by many disciplines and this Handbook shows that the study of religion is an academic discipline in its own right The disciplinary profile of this volume is reflected in part seven which considers the history of the discipline and its relevance Each chapter in the Handbook references at least two different religions to provide fresh and innovative perspectives on key issues in the field This authoritative collection will advance the state of the discipline and is an invaluable reference for students and scholars

Theology and Religious Studies in Higher Education Darlene L. Bird, Simon G. Smith, 2009-03-22 A collection of essays by some of today's leading academics on the sometimes contentious relationship between religious studies and theology The Learned Practice of Religion in the Modern University Donald Wiebe, 2019-11-14 In these essays Donald Wiebe unveils a significant problem in the academic study of religion in colleges and universities in North America and Europe that studies almost always exhibit a religious bias To explore this issue Wiebe looks at the religious and moral agendas behind the study of religion showing that the boundaries between the objective study of religion and religious education as a tool for bettering society have become blurred As a result he argues religious studies departments have fostered an environment where religion has become a learned or scholarly practice rather than the object of academic scrutiny This book provides a critical history of the failure of 20th and 21st century scholars to follow through on the 19th century ideal of an objective scientific study of religious thought and behaviour Although emancipated from direct ecclesiastical control and to some extent from sectarian theologizing Wiebe argues that research and scholarship in the academic department of religious studies has failed to break free from religious constraints He shows that an objective scientific study of religious thought and practice is not only possible but the only appropriate approach to the study of religious phenomena Theology in the Public Square Gavin

D'Costa,2013-04-10 This imaginative study rethinks the nature of theology and its role in universities The author sketches out a fascinating project using examples from US and UK institutions whereby theology becomes a transformative force within universities Imagines what a Christian university in which all disciplines have been theologized would look like Feeds into discussions about the religious identity of denominationally linked colleges and universities Forms part of a wider attempt to imagine a vital public role for theology that enables it to serve both the Church and the wider community Religious Studies

Walter H. Capps,1995 The author nationally recognized for the quality and depth of his teaching in religious studies has written the first full scale introduction to the history and methods of the study of religion Religious Literacy in Policy and Practice

Adam Dinham,Matthew Francis,2016-08-17 This valuable book is the first to bring together theory and policy with analysis and expertise on practices in key areas of the public realm to explore what religious literacy is why it is needed and what might be done about it It makes the case for a public realm which is well equipped to engage with the plurality and pervasiveness of religion and belief whatever the individual s own stance It is aimed at academics policy makers and practitioners interested in the policy and practice implications of the continuing presence of religion and belief in the public sphere New Humanities and Academic Disciplines

Jacob Neusner,2004-10-18 This book is about social change as it is even now being revealed in the creation of a new field of learning in an unprecedented setting and for an as yet unknown cultural and intellectual purpose It is about how a field of learning moves from one kind of institution to another is practiced by new people women not only men and outsiders as well as insiders and for new purposes secular not only religious and in new ways Out of these minute particulars in our imagination we may reconstruct the whole of modern history the universe out of a grain of sand Perhaps no group in the past two hundred years of revolutionary change has moved so far so fast and in so many directions as the Jews from the Introduction Interreligious Comparisons in Religious Studies and Theology

Perry Schmidt-Leukel,Andreas Nehring,2016-07-14 Can religions be compared For decades the discipline of religious studies was based on the assumption that they can Postmodern and postcolonial reflections however raised significant doubts In social and cultural studies the investigation of the particular often took precedence over a comparative perspective Interreligious Comparisons in Religious Studies and Theology questions whether religious studies can survive if it ceases to be comparative religion Can it do justice to a globalized world if it is limited on the specific and turns a blind eye on the general While comparative approaches have come under strong pressure in religious studies they have started flourishing in Theology Comparative theology practices interfaith dialogue by means of comparative research This volume asks whether theology and religious studies are able to mutually benefit from their critical and constructive reflections Can postcolonial criticism of neutrality and objectivity in religious studies create new links with the decidedly perspectival approach of comparative theology In this collection scholars from theology and religious studies discuss the methodology of interreligious comparison in the light of recent doubts and current objections Together with the contributors Perry Schmidt

Leukel and Andreas Nehring argue that after decades of critique interreligious comparison deserves to be reconsidered reconstructed and reintroduced Journal of Asian and Asian American Theology ,2001 MasterClass in Religious Education Liam Francis Gearon,2013-02-14 MasterClass in Religious Education provides a comprehensive exploration of the major themes in religious education research and pedagogy drawing on international research The author draws together historical theological religious and comparative and international perspectives to explore religious education s role in confronting controversial issues and the implications this has for teaching learning and research This book incorporates discussions of current post 9 11 debates on religion in the modern world focusing particularly on the relationship of religion to secular political contexts Liam Gearon pays close attention to debates around religion in liberal democratic societies looking at topics such as citizenship human rights and identity
