Teachers' Personal Epistemologies Gregory Schraw,Jo Lunn Brownlee,Lori Olafson,Michelle Vander Veldt Brye,2017-07-01 The focus of this book is to explore teachers evolving personal epistemologies or the beliefs we hold about the origin and development of knowledge in the context of teaching The chapters focus on a range of conceptual frameworks about how university and field based experiences influence the connections between teachers personal epistemologies and teaching practice In an earlier volume we investigated preservice and inservice teachers beliefs and teaching practices Brownlee Schraw and Berthelsen 2011 While we addressed the nature of teachers personal epistemologies learning and teaching practices and approaches for changing beliefs throughout teacher education programs the volume did not address conceptual frameworks for the development of teacher s personal epistemologies To address this gap the book is focused on teacher educators teachers and teacher education programmers in universities with an overall aim of highlighting how we might support preservice teachers involvement in learning that is challenging and inservice teachers engagement in professional experiences that promote changes in teaching practice We argue that teachers need to be encouraged to question their beliefs and develop increasingly sophisticated beliefs about their knowledge and their students knowledge that facilitate learning and intellectual growth The American Review of Reviews Albert Shaw,1919 Course of Study Shaker Heights (Ohio). Board of Education,1928 Academic Assessment and Intervention Steven Little,Angeleque Akin-Little,2014-01-21 Serving students with academic deficiencies necessitates communication and collaboration among professionals from several disciplines Academic Assessment and Intervention brings together divergent approaches in order to demonstrate that scientific evidence rather than biases or previous practice must determine assessment practices that are selected and used for particular purposes Similar to a handbook in its comprehensive topical coverage this edited collection provides a contextual foundation for academic assessment and intervention describes both norm referenced and curriculum based assessment measurement in detail considers the implications of both of these assessments on ethnically diverse populations provides a clear link between assessment evidence based interventions and the RTI model and considers other important topics related to this area such as teacher behavior Intended primarily for graduate level courses in education school psychology or child clinical psychology it will also be of interest to practicing professionals in these fields
