A World History of Architecture Marian Moffett,Michael W. Fazio,Lawrence Wodehouse,2003 The Roman architect and engineer Vitruvius declared firmitas utilitas and venustas firmness commodity and delight to be the three essential attributes of architecture. These qualities are brilliantly explored in this book which uniquely comprises both a detailed survey of Western architecture including Pre Columbian America and an introduction to architecture from the Middle East, India, Russia, China, and Japan. The text encourages readers to examine closely the pragmatic, innovative, and aesthetic attributes of buildings and to imagine how these would have been praised or criticized by contemporary observers. Artistic, economic, environmental, political, social, and technological contexts are discussed so as to determine the extent to which buildings met the needs of clients, society at large, and future generations.

The Cape Cod Cottage William Morgan, 2006-05-04. The Cape Cod cottage has been one of America's most popular home styles for almost four hundred years. While a perennial domestic favorite, historians have long ignored the modest Cape Cod, relegating it to a vernacular footnote along with barns and mills. In The Cape Cod Cottage, architectural historian and photographer William Morgan places this uniquely American house, a remarkable combination of necessity and tradition, in its historical context and makes a compelling argument for the reassessment of its place in the history of American architecture. The Cape Cod Cottage follows the uniquely American house type from its earliest beginnings in the colonial period through its spread across New England to its embrace as a suburban ideal in the twentieth century and its reinterpretation by contemporary architects. Historical images of lost Cape houses augment beautiful new photographs taken specifically for the book. As a tribute to a special house, The Cape Cod Cottage is an appeal to preserve the Cape's legacy and an essential document of this unique architectural icon.

Robert A. M. Stern Robert A.M. Stern, Paul Goldberger, 2009-12. This monograph, the fifth volume since Stern opened his practice in 1969, explores his commitment to an architecture that reinterprets the past to serve contemporary life.

Houses: Robert A.M. Stern Architects Gary L. Brewer, Randy M. Correll, Grant F. Marani, Roger H. Seifert, 2021-01-19. For more than fifty years, Robert A. M. Stern Architects has designed extraordinary houses and residences around the world, each suffused with a rich understanding of traditional architecture and an intuitive sense of how to shape a home to the needs of modern life. Many of the firm's important early commissions were houses, and while RAMSA has since evolved into an internationally renowned firm with an extraordinarily broad portfolio, an unflagging dedication to timeless residential design has remained a cornerstone of the practice. In Houses, Robert A. M. Stern Architects' RAMSA's residential Partners, Roger H. Seifert, Randy M. Correll, Grant F. Marani, and Gary L. Brewer offer an intimate look at RAMSA houses from the last ten years and explore how these residences embody the spirit of place and find harmony between the traditional and the contemporary. A 424-page visual feast of rich, full-color photographs and elegant drawings, the book presents a selection of 17 homes that showcase RAMSA's mastery of diverse styles and highlight the firm's collaboration with leading interior designers, landscape architects, craftspeople, and builders from around the world. Featured are a rambling oceanside retreat in East Hampton, a mountain penthouse in the Rocky Mountains, a lakeside cottage in the Midwest, an urbane Park Avenue apartment, an elegant Mediterranean Revival villa in Fort Lauderdale, and a house in Singapore in that city's distinctive Black and White style.

Together the homes epitomize the quality craftsmanship and undeniable presence that define every RAMSA residence. With every page, readers will gain a deeper understanding of how RAMSA's architects honor context and time-honored design principles while always looking to the future, infusing established tradition with fresh life and anticipating how each home will grow, change, and evolve over the years.
